STATE OF NEW YORK
THE ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE
STATE ARSENAL, NEW YORK CITY

June 19, 1916.

GENERAL ORDERS
No. 18

In accordance with a proclamation of the President of the United States dated June 18, 1916, calling out under the Constitution and laws of the United States a part of the organized militia to be employed in the service of the United States, the Commanding General, Division, will cause the organization of his command, less coast artillery troops, to assemble forthwith at their respective home stations in the equipment prescribed for field duty preparatory to their muster into the service of the United States.

BY COMMAND OF THE GOVERNOR:

LOUIS W. STOTESBURY,
The Adjutant General.

STATE OF NEW YORK
THE ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE

Albany, June 21, 1916.

GENERAL ORDERS
No. 19

I. The organizations of the National Guard of this state, less coast artillery troops, having been directed to be assembled forthwith at their respective home stations by General Orders No. 18, this office, dated June 19, 1916, pursuant to a call from the President of the United States, the following instructions relative to the mobilization of troops under said order are hereby published for the information and guidance of all concerned.

II. The Commanding General, Division, is authorized to detail for duty as camp staff officers such officers of the Adjutant General's Department, Quartermaster Corps and Medical Corps as may be required for administrative purposes.

III. Regimental and other separate organization commanders are charged with subsisting the enlisted men of the National Guard, reporting at their respective home stations, and for this purpose they will be limited to an allowance of seventy-five cents per day for each enlisted man actually present for duty as shown by the morning report. They are also charged with providing necessary fuel, bedding and forage, and for shoeing of authorized horses, pertaining to their respective organizations. The allowances authorized for such purposes are specified by Army Regulations (paragraphs 1044-1077). Purchases will be made covering periods of not more than five days at a time. Receipted vouchers will be obtained on Forms 330 and 335, War Department, and forwarded for settlement direct to the Adjutant General of the state, accompanied by consolidated ration returns.

IV. The Commanding General, Division, is authorized, while troops remain at their home stations and where armory facilities do not exist for sleeping, to allow organization commanders to permit such enlisted men of their respective commands as they may designate to sleep at home.

V. All officers and enlisted men will be examined by an officer of the Medical Department, prior to their leaving their company rendezvous, with a view to determining the presence of any infectious or contagious disease.

VI. Drill and instructions of all organizations will be commenced at once and carried out in accordance with the drill regulations of the arm of which the organization is a part. The Commanding General, Division, will issue necessary instructions in regard to the character and time to be devoted daily to drills while organizations are at their home stations.

VII. Commanding officers of organizations will cause them to be recruited to the maximum enlisted strength given below:

Company of infantry.....	150
Regiment of infantry.....	1,836
Troop of cavalry.....	100
Regiment of cavalry.....	1,236
Battery of light artillery.....	171
Regiment of field artillery.....	1,128
Company of engineers.....	164
Battalion of engineers.....	494
Company of signal troops.....	77
Field battalion of signal troops.....	163
Ambulance company.....	79
Field hospital.....	67

The maximum enlisted strength of sanitary troops attached to organizations is given in General Orders No. 3, A. G. O., 1916.

VIII. No recruit will be accepted in any organization until he has been given a thorough physical examination by a medical officer and has been found to conform to the physical standard prescribed for the Regular Army. Such physical standard is given in Circular 5, D. M. A., 1916.

IX. The National Defense Act, approved by the President of the United States, June 3, 1916, contemplates the transition of the present organized militia into National Guard upon fulfillment of the requirements prescribed in Sections 70 and 73 of the Act cited relative to enlistment contracts and oaths. The form of new oath to be taken by officers and the form of new oath and enlisted contract to be subscribed and sworn to by enlisted men must conform to the requirements of the Act. Form of oath and contract will be sent to each organization for use as soon as possible. The oath for officers and contract and oath for enlisted men will be subscribed and sworn to before a recognized officer of the National Guard. To be qualified for this duty, the officer must have subscribed to the oath for commissioned officers of the National Guard before a notary public or an officer of the Regular Army; that is to say, no officer of the National Guard is authorized to administer the oath until he has himself qualified under the provisions of the Act. Three copies of each form should be made in the case of each commissioned officer and organization (company, troop, battery, etc.), one to be retained by the organization for record and two to be forwarded direct to the Adjutant General of the state.

X. The accountable officers in each organization are designated as the representatives of the Governor to act with the designated mustering officers of the United States to inventory and inspect all property of the United States and the state taken by the National Guard into the Federal service. Preparatory to the transfer, every officer accountable for public property will immediately take or cause to be taken an inventory of the same. The inventory, which will be made by actual count, should include all the property issued by the state to, or purchased with the military funds or allowances of the organizations, whether on hand in the storeroom or lockers, so as to show all property now in the possession of the organization. All property not to be taken into the service of the United States will be promptly invoiced, turned over and receipted for by the commanding officer of the depot unit. All property to be taken into the service of the United States will, as soon as a regiment or other separate organization has been mustered into the service of the United States, be invoiced by the proper officer of the regiment of separate organization as follows:

(a) Clothing, camp and garrison equipage, subsistence and quartermaster supplies to the quartermaster.

(b) Property pertaining to medical department to the senior medical officer.

(c) Property pertaining to the corps of engineers, ordnance department and signal corps to an accountable officer detailed by the regimental or other commander of a separate organization from his staff.

Property pertaining to each department will be invoiced separately.

Transfers of property will be accomplished on Form No. 25, which will be supplied for the purpose by this office without requisition.

Receipts will be obtained in triplicate, one copy to be retained by the accountable officer and two copies to be forwarded direct to the Adjutant General of the state.

When the property is transferred in accordance with the foregoing authority, the accountable officers, upon invoicing the same and obtaining the prescribed receipts therefor, are relieved of further accountability for the property so transferred.

XI. Regimental and other commanders of separate organizations will forward direct to the Adjutant General of the State, State Arsenal, 463 Seventh Avenue, New York City, requisitions for clothing, equipment and supplies necessary to care for their organizations at the enlisted strength stated in paragraph VII of this order.

XII. Commanding officers of regiments not heretofore authorized to organize machine-gun companies and troops and the detailed portion of headquarters companies and troops and of supply companies are hereby authorized to form such units.

XIII. When the organizations have completed their inventories and have made suitable arrangements for caring for the property to be left at their home stations, the Commanding General, Division, will issue the necessary orders to move the organizations of his command, assembled pursuant to G. O. No. 18, A. G. O., 1916, to the mobilization camp, now established and owned by the state at Green Haven, Town of Beekman, Dutchess County, N. Y.

XIV. In order to carry out the provisions of M. L. 120, depot units will be at once organized for each regiment or other unit assembled for service. A depot company will be formed for each separate company, troop or battery and a depot battalion for all other organizations. A depot battalion may consist of any number of companies not exceeding twelve. The enlisted personnel of depot units will be divided into two classes designated respectively Class A and Class B. Class A will consist of men available to fill vacancies in the organizations of the National Guard in the service of the United States. Class B will consist of all other enlisted men of such organizations.

XV. Muster in rolls will be prepared upon the blank forms supplied for that purpose, and in accordance with models and detailed instructions accompanying the same. Commanding officers should be directed to personally see that these rolls contain all information that might in any way affect pay, or which it might be necessary to consider in the settlement of claims for pensions. The muster into the service of the United States will be carried out in accordance with the detailed regulations therefor prescribed by the Secretary of War.

XVI. The pay of the National Guard called into the service of the United States begins from the day on which it appears at the place of company rendezvous. It is essential that the date on which each member reports at the rendezvous, or joins his organization, be accurately noted on muster in and pay rolls, in order that men may receive proper pay and that all prescribed records be accurately and fully kept, in order that the state may be reimbursed for the actual expense incurred in mobilization.

XVII. The Commanding General, Division, will direct the Chief Quartermaster to furnish the transportation necessary for the execution of this order.

XVIII. General Orders No. 14, A. G. O., 1916, will be deemed superseded by G. O. 18 and G. O. 19, A. G. O., 1916.

BY COMMAND OF THE GOVERNOR:

LOUIS W. STOTESBURY,
The Adjutant General.

HEADQUARTERS, NEW YORK DIVISION

McAllen, Texas, August 14, 1916.

MEMORANDUM TO ALL REGIMENTAL AND BATTALION COMMANDERS OF INFANTRY

The Division Commander desires that particular attention be paid to the following and that all of the recommendations and requirements be carefully observed:

1. The people of Sterling's Ranch and Young's Ranch are most hospitably inclined, but owing to the large number of troops that will be located at or near those places during the coming practice march regimental commanders will station guards at both Sterling's Ranch and Young's Ranch, with instructions to notify all officers and enlisted men that they are not to enter the house or premises during the march.

2. Instructions will be given and every precaution taken to prevent damage of any kind to personal or public property.

3. Officers and enlisted men will be instructed not to trespass on private property.

4. Officers and enlisted men are to be warned that the appropriation of any articles, small or large, as souvenirs may work a hardship on the owners, and such conduct is prohibited.

5. The most careful sanitary precautions will be adopted on the march, during halts and in camps. Regimental commanders will charge their regimental surgeons with seeing that every care is exercised in maintaining the health of the command.

6. Whenever a camp is vacated the ground will be thoroughly policed, and policing means leaving it in such a condition that practically no evidence will be visible to the casual observer that the site had been occupied by troops.

7. Recruits are usually inclined to drink up all the water in their canteens during the first stages of the march or at the first halt, and then refill them at the first opportunity regardless of the kind of water. The contemplated marches are all so short that during very few of them will it be necessary to drink any water whatever; in any event, all company commanders will be instructed to see that the canteens of all of the men in their command are filled with good potable water before starting, and that there is no waste of same during the march.

8. As it may be difficult at some of the camp sites to supply large quantities of water, all commanding officers are charged with seeing that the men are economical in the use of water for any purpose.

9. All officers before starting on the march should carefully read over those paragraphs of Field Service Regulations and Infantry Drill Regulations which pertain to marches and should instruct their men to do the same.

10. It is seldom practicable to establish a typical camp as indicated in the Field Service Regulations. The location and arrangement of regimental, battalion and company camps will be such as to preserve the health of the command, and to interfere as little as possible with the comfort of the men.

11. Commanding officers are cautioned to see that the men in pitching their shelter tents have the closed ends towards the prevailing wind.

12. Just before starting on all marches, maneuvers or military exercises all troops will be inspected for ball ammunition.

13. Company commanders are charged with seeing that the men's equipment are properly adjusted.

14. Regimental commanders will require that all their animals be taken from the picket line at the same time and watered together. This to avoid the possibility of any animal being overlooked.

15. Regimental, battalion and company commanders will, from time to time, march at the rear of their organizations to see that the march is being properly conducted.

16. Company commanders will see that sufficient oil and cleaning material for the arms is carried on the march, and that all arms are oiled and cleaned as many times each day as may be necessary to keep them in proper condition.

17. The old established armory custom of "grounding arms" is prohibited. The men under no circumstances will lay their guns upon the ground, either collectively or individually. Ordinarily slings may be loosened so as to sling the piece over the shoulder and in any ordinary emergency requiring freedom of movement, and if a large detachment or company is required for any purpose, it will be moved to a suitable place and arms stacked.

18. It has been noted that mounted orderlies and others are inclined to slouch in the saddle. All officers are charged with observing mounted enlisted men and requiring them to sit squarely and properly in the saddle.

19. The different regiments will be observed and inspected at various places along the line of march by officers especially detailed for that purpose, and the efficiency of the commands will be judged by the number of stragglers, extent to which the commands are closed up, the general appearance of the men, etc.

20. Each regimental commander will have full charge of the selection of his own camp site, and the making of all arrangements connected with the camp.

21. Company commanders are particularly enjoined to keep the feet of the men in good condition.

22. Only field and staff officers will be mounted.

23. A guard of one squad with belts filled with ball ammunition will accompany and guard each combat wagon. This detail will be changed daily, and will also be charged with guarding any prisoners. This guard will not participate in maneuvers and exercises. Battalion commanders will make suitable arrangements for promptly supplying their command with ball ammunition in case of emergency.

BY COMMAND OF MAJOR GENERAL O'RYAN:

H. H. BANDHOLTZ,
Colonel, Chief of Staff.

COMBAT FIRING INTERESTS INFANTRY BRIGADE

LA GLORIA FIELD RANGE COURSE BOTH INSTRUCTIVE AND ENJOYABLE
MAJOR CHANDLER, Range Officer

With the completion of the combat firing problem at La Gloria by the 1st and 2d Brigades of Infantry, a record has been established of which the whole New York Division should be proud. Never before in this country has a combat problem of the size of this one been accomplished either in respect to the number of men who have shot over the range (about 5,000) or the amount of ammunition used, totaling approximately 20,000 rounds.

The rifle range was designed by Major Fred M. Waterbury, Division Ordnance Officer, and was built by the 22d New York Engineers. The range officer is Major George F. Chandler, Adjutant of the 1st Brigade, and Lieutenant Percy E. Barbour, of the 22d Engineers, is assistant range officer.

The 1st and 2d Brigades of Infantry have fired the problem, each man using forty rounds of ammunition. The troops which are going from Canada to Europe have only forty five rounds per man shooting before going into action on the big battle line.

All the troops concede that the La Gloria problem is one of the most interesting yet given to the guard in the border service.

The problem as worked out by the range officer simulates an advance guard action. A company is taken to the foot of the range in advance guard formation and is suddenly fired on by the point of the enemy. They are actually fired on by blank ammunition. The point advances and, using service ammunition, ball cartridges, fires at the prone targets showing, of which there are four.

Having driven these back and having been reinforced, an advance is made against sixteen targets that have appeared farther along the range. After having subdued these, advance is made against twenty targets coming up farther back representing the support.

Each company commander handles his company as he chooses, except that he is not allowed to advance unless, or until, he has fire superiority.

After this last set of targets, 100 yards of chaparral is cautiously passed through, and the line deployed on its edge to encounter the main body of the enemy seen in a line of sixty-four targets at the end of a clearing about 280 yards long.

All ranges are unknown, and the targets are operated from pits and governed by telephone from a big switchboard at the end of the range.

After the firing the company is taken up to the last row of targets to observe results, and then some very interesting visibility stunts are worked out by the range officers. One platoon at each end of the last cleared range kneels, lies down in the firing position, and then, removing hats and laying down rifles, hugs the ground and literally melts into the landscape. This always brings a gasp of surprise from the observers; the surprise at the unexpected and almost total cover afforded by a flat, open field.

Then a demonstration of a patrol crossing a road brings further surprises. A man rolls slowly across and almost always accomplishes the trip without detection; whereas the patrol dashing across is always detected. Then the observing company is informed by the range officer that it is being watched by an observer in plain sight on the edge of the chaparral, and they are asked to spot him. But his absolute immobility makes him very hard to find, and it is generally not until he moves, on signal, that his position is detected.

The range is run by a detachment from E Company, 22d Engineers, in command of Lieutenant Percy E. Barbour. A detail of the 1st Battalion Signal Corps attends to the telephone and buzzer communications, and is a very efficient unit. Lieutenant Willis Linn of the 2d Ambulance Corps is in command of a detail assigned to the range, and has a dressing station to attend to any casualties, which fortunately have not yet happened, and he is also sanitary inspector of the camp and range.

A battalion of infantry arrives early in the morning, shoots that day and the next, and departs the second evening. Despite rainy weather, or any other vicissitude, these troops have been moving on this schedule for nearly two months without hitch; arriving, shooting and departing on regular schedule.

An interesting and, it is to be hoped, valuable test of the comparative merits of point blank and battle sight has been made by the range officers. All the problem firing is being done using point blank sight, but one company of every battalion has also fired the course using battle sight. Almost without exception (and that only to the extent of a decimal figure) the battle sight has fallen down compared to point blank sight. This supports the contention of Major Chandler, and many other expert riflemen, that for battle conditions as they are to be in the future the old battle sight must give way to a better one, which is not at all difficult to devise.

A formula was evolved to cover the problem at La Gloria in which dispersion of fire is an effective factor, and the work done by each company is similarly computed and will be published after the shooting is completed.

Up to the last battalion of the last brigade the 7th Regiment was leading with a high score, but the 3d Tennessee shot a tie score, followed by the 74th, 23d, 69th and 12th Regiments in the order named. The 1st Cavalry is now shooting, and from present indications will make an excellent figure.

THE ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE

New York State Arsenal, Seventh Avenue, Corner Thirty-fifth Street

New York, N. Y., February 3, 1917.

I. The Mayor of the city of New York having made request for the use of part of the military and naval forces of the state in aid of the civil authorities of the city of New York, as follows:

CITY OF NEW YORK

Mayor's Office

February 3, 1917.

TO THE GOVERNOR OF THE STATE OF NEW YORK:

WHEREAS diplomatic relations between the United States and the Imperial German Government have been broken off, and there have been during the past year or more various acts of violence directed against property within the city of New York, or in the immediate vicinity, which acts constituted breaches of the peace and were committed for the apparent purpose of embarrassing one or more of the belligerents engaged in the war in Europe,

AND WHEREAS there exists in the opinion of the undersigned danger of the commission of similar acts of violence and breaches of the peace against property and public utilities of the city of New York,

AND WHEREAS the effect of such acts if committed may be of disastrous proportions and consequence to the lives and welfare of the residents of the city of New York,

AND WHEREAS the civil authorities of the city of New York have not for the present sufficient and adequate forces at their disposal to properly and adequately guard against the commission of such acts,

I DO THEREFORE, pursuant to Section 115 of the Military Law of the State of New York, request that your Excellency order out such detachment of the National Guard and Naval Militia as may be necessary for the purpose of aiding the civil authorities in the maintenance of law and order, until such time as such authorities may provide adequately against the commission of such acts of violence and breaches of the peace.

JOHN PURROY MITCHEL,

Mayor.

II. It appearing that there is necessity therefor, I do, by virtue of the Constitution and laws of the state, order out the following organizations of the military and naval forces of the state in aid of the civil authorities of the city of New York:

1st Regiment Infantry and 10th Regiment Infantry, National Guard.

1st and 2d Battalions, Naval Militia.

III. The Commanding General of the National Guard and the Commodore commanding the Naval Militia will issue the necessary orders for the service of the organizations or detachments of their respective commands, and may make such changes, additions, withdrawals or substitutions in the organizations or detachments as the situation may require or circumstances warrant, and issue all necessary orders to carry the same into effect.

BY COMMAND OF THE GOVERNOR:

LOUIS W. STOTESBURY,
The Adjutant General.

STATE OF NEW YORK THE ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE

GENERAL ORDERS
No. 35

Albany, July 12, 1917.

I. The President of the United States, by virtue of the authority vested in him by the Constitution and Laws of the United States, having called, through the Governor of the state of New York, into the service of the United States, as of and from July 15, 1917, all members of the National Guard and all enlisted members of the National Guard reserve of this state, who are not now in the service of the United States, except members of staff corps and departments not included in the personnel of tactical organizations and except such officers of the National Guard as have been or may be specifically notified by his authority that they will not be affected by said call, and the Commanding General, Eastern Department, having designated the hereinafter-mentioned organizations of the National Guard of this state, including the enlisted personnel of the National Guard reserve as included in said call, and having designated the hour, date and place of assembly pursuant to said call, as hereinafter indicated, the Commanding General, New York Division, will cause the following organizations of the National Guard of this state to be assembled at their respective armories for initial muster into the service of the United States on Monday, July 16, 1917, at 9 o'clock A. M., except those organizations now engaged in guarding public utilities under orders of the Governor, which will assemble at the same time and will be mustered at the stations where now on duty, as hereinafter indicated, and except the 15th New York Infantry and 4th New York Field Hospital, which will be assembled at the same time at Camp Whitman, New York, for initial muster, and which two last-named organizations will be assembled at their respective home stations on July 16, 1917, in ample time to arrive at Camp Whitman by 9 o'clock A. M. on that date:

TO BE ASSEMBLED AT THEIR RESPECTIVE ARMORIES:

Company E, 1st Regiment, New York Infantry, at New Paltz, N. Y.
Detachment Company M, 1st Regiment, New York Infantry, at Oswego, N. Y.

II. All organizations assembled for initial muster under this order will have their company records and unserviceable property in immediate readiness for inspection by mustering officer. Every effort will be made to prevent absentees from initial muster and to promote normal induction into federal service.

III. In accordance with memorandum from Headquarters, Eastern Department, organizations assembled for initial muster under this order at company, battalion or regimental armories are authorized to arrange for messing and sleeping such number of the men of their command stationed at said armories as may be necessary outside of the armories. Under the same authority, commutation of ration at the rate of seventy-five cents per day may be provided wherever troops cannot be messes in company or larger messes.

IV. Special Regulations No. 55, Mobilization of the National Guard, requires all federal property in the state to be transferred to the United States when National Guard is called into federal service. There are certain classes of property, however, that are not needed by the federal government at this time, and such articles should not be brought into the United States service with the National Guard. No blue uniforms will be transferred with organizations. No target material will be so transferred. If, in special cases, such material is needed, authority for transfer will be granted. No coast artillery material (dummy armament, etc.) will be transferred. Every article of federal property comprising the field equipment (as shown by Circular No. 10, Militia Bureau, 1916) will be transferred to the United States. Prompt settlement by supply officers with the state authorities of transfers of property to federal service is imperative. All adjustments of property accountability will be made between the date of the call and date troops are moved to concentration camp. Attention is invited to General Orders 24, this office, dated June 6, 1917.

V. No horses, mules or wagon or motor transportation will be purchased without the written authority of Headquarters, Eastern Department. No animals will be hired for use of troops and no transportation hired unless authorized by United States Law and Regulations. No debts will be contracted or obligations incurred except such as are authorized by Army Regulations, unless specific authority therefor is obtained from the Commanding General, Eastern Department. All requests by telephone to Headquarters, Eastern Department, for authority to expend funds must be followed by a written request so that the same may be confirmed and made a matter of record.

VI. Commanding officers will at once notify enlisted men of the National Guard reserve, who were formerly members of their command, to report at the hour and date of assembly stated in the first paragraph of this order to the nearest National Guard organization to their homes. If an enlisted reservist has not sufficient funds to defray cost of transportation and subsistence from his home to the nearest National Guard organization, the provisions of paragraph 110, Army Regulations, will apply.

VII. The Commanding General, New York Division, will issue such orders as may be necessary to carry the foregoing into effect.

BY COMMAND OF THE GOVERNOR:

LOUIS W. STOTESBURY,
The Adjutant General.

OFFICIAL:

.....
Assistant to the Adjutant General.

First Lieutenant Edward F. Keever, Chaplain (1st New York Cavalry).

To the 102d Engineers:

Captain David D. Mohler (New York Engineer Train).

XI So far as possible the warrants of non-commissioned officers transferred as such will be continued. Proper notation thereof will be made on such warrants by the Adjutant of the organization to which transferred. Where reductions are necessary, the reduction shall be to the next lower grade; for example, sergeant to corporal, corporal to private, 1st class, etc., and of juniors in each grade.

XII. The requisite amount of tentage and camp equipment will be transferred with the officers and enlisted men transferred from one organization to another in accordance with the foregoing and proper invoices and receipts therefor, as well as for the personal equipment of the men so transferred, will be accomplished by the accountable officers concerned.

XIII. The commanding officers of organizations authorized by Table 29, Tables of Organization, 1917, Series A, to have attached thereto detachments of Ordnance Department enlisted men, will recommend to these Headquarters suitable men for transfer to that department for such duty.

XIV. Organizations of the division rendered surplus by the operation of this order will retain their original State designations until further orders.

XV. A proportionate amount of the company funds of companies from which men are transferred will be turned over to the company to which they are assigned. This amount will be based upon the number of men transferred as compared with the total number of men in the company from which transferred.

XVI. Men absent at training camps will be transferred as follows:

1. This division (less Artillery, also Sanitary, Ammunition and Supply Trains) is being transferred to the 2d British Army, the movement, including transport, to be by rail.

2. The division will entrain on July 2d and 3d in accordance with entraining tables and instructions to be issued later.

3. Entraining stations will be as follows:

Bouquemaïsonfor 54th Brigade
Doullensfor 105th Infantry
Candasfor 106th Infantry

Entraining stations for other units or exceptions to above will be shown in entraining table.

Duration of journey, about six hours.

The 104th, 105th and 106th Machine Gun Battalions and all Machine Gun Companies of Infantry Regiments will entrain at Noyelles-Sur-Mer July 2d, under arrangements to be made by 20th British Corps. They will detrain at Arneke or Cassel under 2d British Army arrangements.

4. Responsibility for detailed arrangements for loading at the entraining stations will be under the following officers:

For Bouquemaison.....C. G. 54th Brigade
For DoullensC. O. 53d Brigade
For CandasC. O. 106th Infantry

This responsibility applies to all troops to be loaded at such station.

5. The entraining table and accompanying order show the time and place of arrival for each unit or fraction. The immediate commanding officers of such units or fractions will, under supervision of Regimental and Brigade Commanding Officers, arrange the march of both transport and troops so as to arrive near the loading point at the designated time, avoiding jams or traffic blocking by not arriving ahead of time, and reporting to the entraining officer for instructions.

6. No restrictions as to routes to entraining points.

7. Detraining stations are as follows:

For troops entrained at Bouquemaison.....St. Omer
For troops entrained at Doullens.....Wizernes
For troops entrained at Candas.....Arques

Allotment of billets in detail and orders for detraining will be given the commanding officer of each train on arrival in the new area.

8. Billeting parties have proceeded to the new area by lorry this date.

9. Division headquarters will close at Beauval at 7:00 A. M., July 3d, and will open same hour at a place to be designated later.

ORDERS
No. 22

1. The following in connection with operations directed by Field Orders Nos. 10 and 11 (under French Transport Order No. U. S. 98).

2. COMPOSITION OF RAILWAY TRAINS.—All trains consist of one officers' carriage, thirty box cars, seventeen flat cars. Each flat car will take an average of four axles. Each box car will take six H. D. horses or eight L. D. horses (or mules) or forty men. No personnel or stores will be allowed in the cabooses at each end of the train or on the roofs of the cars.

3. ADVANCE PARTIES.—Division billeting officers, and billeting parties of all units (one officer and one non-commissioned officer per battalion of infantry engineers, signal troops and military police, and one non-commissioned officer from Division Headquarters Troop, each brigade headquarters and Headquarters 102d Engineers), with rations to include 4th July, will leave by lorries on 1st July, reporting on arrival at office of Town Major, Wizernes, to Captain R. W. Hanna, British Expeditionary Forces.

4. ENTRAINING OFFICERS.—The commanding officer of the loading company will be in charge of entraining. He will confer with railroad transportation officer, and with the British officer of 66th Division especially detailed to assist in entraining, at entraining station, four hours before departure of the first train.

5. LOADING PARTIES.—The following are designated:

At Bouquemaison.....Company F, 107th Infantry
At Doullens.....Company K, 105th Infantry
At Candas.....Company L, 106th Infantry

The loading companies will leave on the last train from their respective stations. They must arrive at entraining station with cooker and rations four hours before time set for departure of first train from their stations. One hundred men will be on duty during entire entrainment. Company commanders will arrange for necessary reliefs.

6. TRANSPORT.—All transport, ammunition and equipment as issued will be taken. This includes all wagons, carts, limbers, rolling kitchens, animals, bicycles and motorcycles. Wagons and carts will be moved with their normal loads packed as prescribed, viz.:

FIRST LINE TRANSPORT

2 Limbers with tools
8 Limbers, each with 4 Lewis guns, 176 filled drums, 8 boxes S. A. A. and 8 boxes grenades.

To be loaded as follows: Fore part of limber—

8 Boxes S. A. A.
8 Boxes grenades.

Rear part of limber:

4 Lewis guns (complete with chests)
4 Spare part bags
14 Magazine boxes, containing 112 drums.

SECOND LINE TRANSPORT

Officers' bedding rolls, rations and forage.

Transport must arrive at entraining station three hours before departure of train.

Personnel of supply companies and headquarters companies of infantry assigned to battalion transport will accompany the respective portions of such transport (animals and vehicles) on the several trains.

Personnel of units must arrive at entraining stations one and one-half hours before departure of trains.

Detachments of military police will continue with the units to which they are attached.

7. WATER.—Water carts and canteens will be filled prior to entrainment.

8. ANIMALS.—All animals will be watered before entrainment. Each animal must be equipped with halter (or neck strap) and tie rope. Breast ropes for securing animals in cars will be provided by organizations. Food bags with a feed of grain and buckets for watering animals en route will be taken with animals. Four men will ride in each animal car. Ashes, if obtainable, will be placed in animal cars to provide secure footing. Shovels for handling ashes will be made available in all units.

Lashings and skids for securing vehicles on flat cars will be provided by railroad transportation officer.

9. UNLOADING PARTIES.—The following are designated:

At St. Omer.....Company A, 108th Infantry
At Wizernes.....Company B, 107th Infantry
At Arques.....Company B, 106th Infantry

Companies named will furnish 100 men each for unloading during entire entrainment at their respective detraining points. Company commanders will arrange for the necessary reliefs.

10. SUPPLY.—The last supply train at rail head (Candas) will be on 2d July. Rations will be taken on train as follows: One day on the men or cooks, remainder in ration wagons. Issue of rations for consumption on 4th July will be made to units at entraining stations. In addition, iron rations will be carried in pack by each man.

11. BLANKETS.—The second blanket will be moved to entraining stations by horse transport of units.

12. OVERCOATS.—These will be moved in bulk by Division Quartermaster, for loading on flat cars as available from entraining station at Candas.

13. AREA AND BILLET STORES.—All such property issued to units in this area will be turned in to the several area commandants, from whom a receipt and certificate, that camps and billets have been left in satisfactory condition, will be taken.

14. POLICE.—Officers in charge of entraining and detraining will organize a suitable guard at their several stations. Necessary sentinels will be posted to insure order, control of traffic and protect property.

15. DISCIPLINE.—The senior officer on each of the trains will be responsible for the discipline of the troops, and will post a sentry at both ends of the train, at every stop, to prevent soldiers leaving.

16. LORRIES.—Requests for lorries to move property of units (in excess of normal loads for animal-drawn transport) will be submitted to G-1 as soon as possible after receipt of this order. Lorry requirements must be reduced to the minimum. Lorries at the rate of one for each headquarters of brigade, regiment, battalion or similar unit should be sufficient for such purposes.

The fourteen lorries assigned as technical transport (electric light, signal, engineer), will move to 2d Army area as a train, loaded, under command of Major Walter L. Bell, proceeding by route as prescribed.

17. LOADS OF LORRIES.—Property to be moved includes Stokes mortars and ammunition, grenade carriers, grenade discharger cups, four Lewis guns, 176 filled drums, reserve S. A. A., reserve box respirators, shoe shop tools, extra cooking gear, signal equipment, medical supplies, etc. Such property will be loaded on flat cars as available on the several trains at the three entraining stations.

18. STRENGTH REPORTS.—A statement will be prepared by each unit or detachment commander, to be given to senior officer of each train, showing actual strength at time of entrainment, in officers, enlisted men, animals, two-wheel vehicles and four-wheel vehicles.

This statement will be handed to the railroad transportation officer on arrival at entraining station.

19. EVACUATION OF SICK AND WOUNDED.—No change.

20. EVACUATION OF INJURED ANIMALS.—No change.

21. Administrative instructions for details of the movement of machine gun units from Noyelles in St. Valery area to Cassel or Arneke in 2d Army area will be as directed by XXII Corps, British Expeditionary Forces.

BY COMMAND OF MAJOR GENERAL O'RYAN:

STANLEY H. FORD,
Lieutenant Colonel, G. S.,
Chief of Staff.

Headquarters 53d Brigade.....
Headquarters 27th Division.....
102d Transport and Military Police....

Division Quartermaster will notify supply officers concerned of exact locations of above refilling points.

4. PLAN OF SUPPLY.—By mechanical transport between rail head and refilling points. By animal-drawn transport between refilling points and units.

5. RAIL HEAD.—Arneke, beginning 8th July.

6. EXTRA TRANSPORTATION.—Lorries at the rate of one load each for brigade, regimental and battalion headquarters (infantry and engineers) will report at such headquarters—at hours as notified to G-1,—small loading parties being left for the purpose. On delivery of their loads, lorries will return to their proper station.

7. OVERCOATS.—It is the policy of the division commander to provide the enlisted men with the overcoat and one (1) blanket, the overcoat to be used in lieu of the second blanket. On the march, the authorized blanket will be carried in the pack, and the overcoat will be worn as is done in the French army, or at the option of the regimental commander, will be left in the area at such places and under such guard, properly rationed, as the regimental commander, who is responsible, may prescribe. In the latter case, lorries will be supplied to carry the overcoats to the new area as such lorries may become available, and accordingly to facilitate the expeditious handling of this property. The overcoats of squads will be tied together and those of two squads roped together into bales and tagged. These bales will therefore weigh approximately seventy-two pounds. This system will not only enable the regiments to retain their own overcoats, but will make it practicable for individual men to regain their own property after each move.

G-1 will be promptly notified of the exact location of such overcoat dumps for later collection and return to units as transportation becomes available.

8. EXTRA BLANKETS.—Will be folded and tied into bales of twenty to be moved by baggage wagons for their respective units.

9. EVACUATION OF SICK AND INJURED MEN.—Unchanged.

Motor ambulance at these headquarters will continue attached until further notice.

10. EVACUATION OF SICK AND INJURED ANIMALS.—Unchanged.

These headquarters will be informed at once of the exact location of any animals unable to walk, so that means of evacuation may be arranged.

Animals unable to continue march due to injury will be left in care of a soldier and these headquarters immediately notified as above.

Divisional Quartermaster will notify Supply Officers concerned of exact locations of above refilling points.

4. PLAN OF SUPPLY.—By mechanical transport between rail-head and refilling points. By animal-drawn transport between refilling points and units.

5. RAIL-HEAD.—Arneke beginning 8th July.

6. EXTRA TRANSPORTATION.—Lorries at the rate of one load each for Brigade, Regimental and Battalion Headquarters (Infantry and Engineers) will report at such headquarters, at hours as notified, to G-1, small loading parties being left for the purpose. On delivery of their loads, lorries will return to their proper station.

7. OVERCOATS.—It is the policy of the Division Commander to provide the enlisted men with the overcoat and one (1) blanket, the overcoat to be used in lieu of the second blanket. On the march the authorized blanket will be carried in the pack, and the overcoat will be worn as is done in the French army, or at the option of the Regimental Commander, will be left in the area at such places and under such guard, properly rationed, as the Regimental Commander who is responsible may prescribe. In the latter case, lorries will be supplied to carry the overcoats to the new area as such lorries may become available. In order to facilitate the expeditious handling of this property, the overcoats of squads will be tied together and those of two squads roped together into bales and tagged. These bales will therefore weigh approximately seventy-two pounds. This system will not only enable the regiments to retain their own overcoats, but should make it practicable for individual men to regain their own property after each move.

G-1 will be promptly notified of the exact location of such overcoat dumps for later collection and return to units as transportation becomes available.

8. EXTRA BLANKETS.—Will be folded and tied into bales of twenty to be moved by baggage wagons of their respective units.

9. EVACUATION OF SICK AND INJURED MEN. —Unchanged.

Motor ambulance at these headquarters will continue attached until further orders.

10. EVACUATION OF SICK AND INJURED ANIMALS. —Unchanged.

These headquarters will be informed at once of the exact location of any animals unable to walk, so that means of evacuation may be arranged.

Animals unable to continue march due to injury will be left in care of a soldier and these headquarters immediately notified as above.

BY COMMAND OF MAJOR GENERAL O'RYAN:

STANLEY H. FORD,
Lieutenant Colonel, G. S.
Chief of Staff.

SECRET

July 19, 1918.

REFERENCE MAP: HAZEBROUCK (Sheet 5-A) 1-100,000. (Sheet 27), 1-40,000.

1. BATHS.—Baths are available for use of units of the division as follows:

At Oudezeele
At Winnezele.....J.11.b.4.4.
At Steenvoorde.....Q.1.b.4.7.

Arrangements as to allotment of time for use of baths at Winnezele will be made by commanding officers of units concerned with Area Commandant at Droulandt.

Arrangements as to use of the other baths and allotment of time to organizations will be made by commanding officers of units concerned.

Lieutenant Colonel Walter C. Montgomery, Division Sanitary Inspector, is announced as Division Baths Officer, with Second Lieutenant William Halloran as his assistant, to have general supervision as to installations, management, allotment of time, etc., of the baths at Oudezeele and Steenvoorde.

Bathing detachments will be marched to and from baths in proper formations.

During the period allotted to a unit for bathing, an officer of the organization will be present to supervise use of the baths and to see that order is maintained.

Officers in charge of baths are especially enjoined against permitting men who are partially clad from appearing outside of the enclosure or other facilities provided for undressing.

2. LAUNDRY.—Soiled underwear of units will be collected by battalions as follows:

Underwear in bundles of 10
Socks in bundles of 50.

Division Baths Officer will be notified (at Division Surgeon's office) of the location of such soiled underwear so that it may be collected for laundry. These articles when laundered will be reissued at baths as above.

3. EXTRA BAGGAGE, OFFICERS'.—Surplus baggage of officers collected in accordance with paragraph 1, Orders No. 32, will be delivered by animal-drawn transport of battalions to the several refilling points of the organizations concerned. From refilling points, the lorries delivering rations will convey this baggage on return trip to rail-head.

Baggage collected at Oudezeele will be delivered direct to rail-head by animal-drawn ration train.

All such baggage will be delivered at rail-head by 21st July.

4. GAS RESPIRATORS.—Defective respirators or defective parts of respirators, together with all other defective gas defense supplies, will not be considered as material for salvage but will be returned to Division Ordnance Officer by vehicles delivering new or replacement respirators.

5. As a precaution against long range gas shell bombardments, and in view of the possibility of gas bombs being dropped by enemy planes, all units of the division will arrange for and maintain a sufficient local alarm for gas warnings. Civilians will be notified as to the meaning of these alarms by Area Commandant in conjunction with the French and Belgian Missions. On no account will Strombos horns be used for this purpose. They will be used entirely for giving warning of a cloud gas discharge. Such a device as a suitable iron bar, piece of iron pipe or similar devices capable of producing sufficiently loud sound is suggested.

At Oudezeele, Commanding Officer, Military Police, is charged with the provision of such alarm and with notification to civilians through Area Commandant.

BY COMMAND OF MAJOR GENERAL O'RYAN

STANLEY H. FORD,
Lieutenant Colonel, G. S.,
Chief of Staff.

2. REPORTS.—The instructions to organizations relative to reporting their strength upon arrival in or departure from an area to the Area Commandant will be obtained in all cases.

Commanding officers are responsible for compliance with such instructions.

3. CEMETERIES.—Plots or rows for American soldiers are reserved at the following military cemeteries in this area:

Lijssenhoek 27 L.22.d.6.3.
Arneke 27 H.11.d.7.9.

Also the following in II Corps area which may be used if desired:

Nine Elms 27 L.10.b.35.45.

2d Battalion 102d Engineers (less Company E), no change
Headquarters 108th Infantry
104th Machine Gun Battalion
105th Machine Gun Battalion

SYSTEM OF SUPPLY.—By mechanical transport between rail-head and all refilling points. By animal-drawn transport between refilling points and units.

RATIONS.—Replacement of supplies which may be condemned can be effected through the Rail-head Supply Officer. The improper preparation of rations are generally traceable to the faulty handling of it by those responsible.

Undoubtedly much depends on the skill of the company cooks. Commanding officers will make recommendations for cooks of their commands to attend the course at the Army School of Cookery when vacancies may be available.

5. CASUAL CAMP.—(a) A casual camp for the reception of replacements, etc., has been established in the vicinity of Personnel Rail-head (Esquelbecq) at 27/C.19.d.3.8.

(b) Captain Harry L. Pearson, 102d Trains and Military Police, is announced as Camp Commander.

(c) Personnel proceeding from casual camp to join their units can be conveyed by meter gauge railway.

6. Supply Train leaves Esquelbecq at 8:39 A. M. daily, for Winnezele.

Passenger trains leave Bollezele for Esquelbecq at 6:12 A. M. and 1:32 P. M. daily. Journey about one-half hour.

7. Parties of not more than fifty at a time can be conveyed by these trains, providing notice is given to R. T. O., Esquelbecq, not later than 6:00 P. M. of the preceding day. G-1 should be informed of such requirements not later than 5:00 P. M.

The above arrangement is dependent upon the traffic situation. R. T. O. may on occasions have to regulate the size of parties moving by rail.

Arrangements to send parties of more than fifty by these trains require two days' advance notice to XIX Corps "Q". G-1 to be given more than two days' notice.

8. Entraining station on meter gauge railway for detachments from this division proceeding to or from casual camp is Winnezele.

9. EMPTY CONTAINERS.—All petrol tins, sacks and cases are charged against the division at rail-head by Rail-head Supply Officer. Commanding officers are charged with the issuance of necessary instructions to their organizations for the return of all such articles by animal-drawn transport to refilling points, thence by mechanical transport to the Division Supply Office at rail-head, in order that credit may be given. In this connection the practice of mutilating petrol tins and utilizing them for other use than that for which they are intended is prohibited.

AMERICAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCES, FRANCE

GENERAL ORDERS

No. 63

July 24, 1918.

This division will commence Period "B" in the scheme of training on July 26, 1918, troops moving to the front line on night of July 25th-26th. The scheme provides for sending four Infantry Battalions (one-third of Regimental Signal sections with each battalion), four Machine Gun Companies, six platoons of Engineer Battalions, and detachments of Radio, Wire and Outpost Companies of the Field Signal Battalion, to be trained in the forward area of the XIX Corps simultaneously.

INFANTRY

1. Two battalions will be sent up to be attached to the 6th Division and two to the 41st Division for eight days, so that in twenty-four days the whole twelve battalions will have done eight days' training in the forward area.

2. Battalions will carry out the following program during their eight days' tour in the forward area:

First Day—1st and 2d Companies from each battalion distributed among British troops in the front system as individuals—proportion of British troops withdrawn. 3d and 4th Companies in Scherpenberg-Dickebusch line and redoubt line—proportion of British troops withdrawn.

Second Day—1st and 2d Companies in front system by platoons, displacing alternate British platoons, which will be withdrawn. 3d and 4th Companies as for first day.

Third Day—1st and 2d Companies in front system by companies, displacing alternate British companies. 3d and 4th Companies as for first and second days.

Fourth, Fifth and Sixth Days—1st and 2d Companies change places with 3d and 4th Companies, and same procedure is carried out as on first, second and third days.

Seventh and Eighth Days—American battalions to be in front system as battalions, displacing British battalions, which will be withdrawn.

Ninth Day—American battalion relieved by British battalion and another American battalion distributed among British troops in the front system as on first day.

ENGINEERS

Period of training will be subdivided into four periods of six days each, during each of which one platoon of American Engineers will be attached to each of the Field Companies of the 6th and 41st Divisions in the line, i. e., six platoons in all (three from each Engineer Battalion). Thus in twenty-four days the whole twenty-four platoons of the American Engineer Regiment will have carried out a course of training in the line.

MACHINE GUNS

The period of training will similarly be divided into four periods of six days each.

During each of the first three periods two Machine Gun Companies of this division will be attached to the Machine Gun Battalion of 6th Division and two Machine Gun Companies to the Machine Gun Battalion of the 41st Division.

During the fourth period one company will be attached to each Divisional Machine Gun Battalion.

SIGNAL BATTALION

Details of the attachment of Signal personnel will be notified later.

GENERAL

All troops of this division not in the forward area will continue their training in and in rear of the East Pop. Line.

STANLEY H. FORD,
Lieutenant Colonel, G. S.
Chief of Staff.

VIOLATION OF CENSORSHIP REGULATIONS

Violations in the division are increasing. This is particularly true in the matter of picture post cards. No picture post cards of any description showing towns, buildings or localities in Europe will be sent through the mail by any members of this command.

Commanding officers will see that every officer and enlisted man in their command is thoroughly conversant with all provisions of Censorship Regulations prescribed in publication S.S. 393A, Censorship Orders for Troops in the Field, American Expeditionary Forces, and commanding officers will be held responsible therefor.

Effective disciplinary action will be taken in each case where it is found that an officer or an enlisted man has violated the Regulations after having been properly instructed.

Immediate commanding officer will be held responsible if investigation discloses the fact that officers and enlisted men have not been properly instructed. Disciplinary action taken must be of sufficient severity to insure that the offense will not be repeated.

To the left of the 54th Brigade is the 53d Brigade and to the right the 89th Brigade (Infantry), British Expeditionary Forces.

The 66th Divisional Artillery, British Expeditionary Forces, has been attached to our division.

B. THE ENEMY.—Enemy strength and dispositions are as given in the Intelligence reports from day to day. The corps front, from the Scherpenberg to Dickebusch Lake lines, is opposed by strong hostile forces.

Indications point to an attack by the enemy which may take one of the following local forms:

- (a) A frontal attack on the XIX Corps along the Scherpenberg-Dickebusch Lake line.
- (b) An attack on the line Scherpenberg-Mont Rouge.
- (c) An attack on the corps to the south to capture Mont Rouge and Mont Noir.
- (d) An attack further south in order to turn the Mont Noir-Mont Rouge Hills.
- (e) An attack north of Dickebusch Lake.

These attacks all subsidiary, but part of a major operation.

(2) MISSION:

Our division constitutes the reserve of the XIX British Corps. Its mission is:

- (a) Defense of the East Poperinghe Line.
- (b) Defense of the Scherpenberg-Dickebusch Lake Line.
- (c) Defense of the Westoutre Line.
- (d) Counter-attacks on corps front.
- (e) Counter-attacks to the northeast.
- (f) Counter-attacks to the south or southeast.

Under all circumstances the East Poperinghe Line is to be held. Therefore this is the most important of the above missions.

(3) DISPOSITION OF TROOPS:

A. DIVISION BOUNDARY.—In width the division boundary is co-extensive with that of the corps and is shown on maps furnished regimental and battalion commanders. In depth, it extends primarily to the east to include the East Poperinghe Line, but under certain eventualities it may be extended farther to the east as far as the Scherpenberg-Dickebusch Lake Line.

B. REGIMENTAL SECTORS.—The division sector is divided into three regimental sectors, which are shown upon the sketch map attached hereto.

C. POSITION OF REGIMENTS IN THE LINE.—The East Poperinghe Line is to be held by two regiments of one infantry brigade and one regiment of the other infantry brigade; each regiment disposed in depth with one battalion in support in the Boeschepe Line; and one battalion in reserve in the Godewaersvelde Line. The fourth infantry regiment, the regiment of engineers and two machine gun companies will be assembled as a divisional reserve in a position still further to the rear. Four machine gun companies will be grouped in the East Poperinghe Line, and eight held as brigade reserves near the Godewaersvelde Line.

Maps have been furnished regimental and machine gun battalion commanders showing the disposition of machine guns along the East Poperinghe Line, and proposed positions along the Boeschepe Line.

D. REGIMENTAL DISPOSITIONS OF 54TH BRIGADE:

1. Right Regiment (Condiment Cross):

(a) East Poperinghe Line.—Three companies in line with one company in support. Each company in line being disposed as follows:

- 1 platoon in front line.
- 2 platoons in second line.
- 1 platoon in support line.

(b) Boeschepe Line, Godewaersvelde Line.—Positions in readiness with the units disposed in groups to prevent unnecessary casualties, but capable of maneuvering.

2—Center Regiment (Hoograf Farm):

(a) East Poperinghe Line.—Two companies in the line and two companies in support. Each company in line being disposed as follows:

- 1 platoon in front line.
- 2 platoons in second line.
- 1 platoon in support line.

(b) Boeschepe Line, Godewaersvelde Line.—Same as for Right Regiment (see above).

(4) REQUIREMENTS:

A. Pending the receipt of orders to occupy the defensive position, two regiments of one brigade and one regiment of the other will occupy positions in readiness, either in bivouac camp or billets, at such points as may be from time to time designated. One or more companies from each of the forward battalions will be in actual occupation of a portion of its regimental sector in the East Poperinghe Line.

B. ACTION IN CASE OF ATTACK.—In case of hostile attack the order “Action East Pop Line” will be issued from the XIX British Corps headquarters direct to forward units and to our division. This order will be transmitted through our Division Headquarters to the headquarters of all units.

On receipt of the above order, whether from the XIX British Corps or our own headquarters, the following action will be taken:

The 330th Brigade, R. F. A., will cover the 54th Infantry Brigade, and the 331st Brigade, R. F. A., will cover the 53d Infantry Brigade. The 78th Brigade, R. F. A., will be in reserve. Artillery not in action will come into action.

All units of the three advance battalions and all the machine gun units assigned to the East Poperinghe Line will advance prepared for action and occupy the sectors assigned to them. Brigade and Regimental Headquarters will move to their respective battle headquarters.

The two battalions of each regiment other than the advance battalion will move forward and occupy positions in readiness selected in the Boeschepe and Godewaersvelde Lines.

The 102d Engineers will assemble near the Boeschepe Line and be at the disposition of the Commanding General 54th Infantry Brigade until the arrival of the battalions which are to take position in the line, when they will be withdrawn, if the situation permits, to a reserve position in or near the Beauvoorde Wood (K-33 and 34).

C. Detachments working in or near the East Poperinghe Line or Boeschepe Line will march direct to their assembly positions on receipt of the order “Action East Pop Line” or when the attack begins.

Routes of march will be carefully reconnoitered in advance. When passable, cross-country tracks and second and third class roads will be used. Steenvoorde and Abeele should be avoided if possible. Minimum distance as follows:

Between battalions	500 yards
Between companies.....	100 yards
Between platoons	50 yards
Between units and their transport.....	100 yards

Dress—Battle Order.—On arrival in assigned positions every precaution will be made to conceal movements and disposition and to prevent unnecessary casualties.

D. LOCATIONS OF BATTLE HEADQUARTERS.—Headquarters of the various units will be established as follows:

66th Division, R. F. A.	L-26-a-7.7
330th Brigade, R. F. A.	L-31-b-40.25
331st Brigade, R. F. A.	L-32-b-8.5
78th Brigade, R. F. A.	L-27-a-8.8
27th Division Headquarters	K-19-a-9.9
54th Infantry Brigade	L-31-a-7.7
53d Infantry Brigade	L-26-a-7.7
Right Regimental Headquarters	L-34-a-7.8
Advance Battalion	G-31-b-6.0
Support Battalion	R-4-d-2.8
Reserve Battalion
Left Regimental Headquarters	L-22-b-3.8
Advance Battalion	G-19-d-2.8
Support Battalion
Reserve Battalion
Center Regimental Headquarters	L-28-b-1.3
Advance Battalion	G-25-d-45.50
Support Battalion
Reserve Battalion

The headquarters of the machine gun companies occupying the East Poperinghe Line will be near the battle headquarters of the infantry battalions.

Dumps containing ammunition, Very lights, rockets, water and emergency rations for troops occupying the East Poperinghe Line are located as follows:

For infantry battalion	French Lodge	G-31-b-6.0
	Ebden House	G-25-d-45.50
	Orwell Farm	G-19-d-2.8
For machine gun units	Gower Building	G-27-a-1.8
	Bida Farm	G-32-a-4.4
	Bala Cottages	G-31-d-6.3

E. AMMUNITION DISTRIBUTING POINTS.—Ammunition distributing points are located in the vicinity of each regimental headquarters and the divisional ammunition distributing point is located at K-30-c.

(5) ACTION WITHOUT ORDERS:

Although orders will be issued by superior headquarters for the occupation of the line, it is to be clearly understood that all concerned are responsible for all action required of them in the event of their receiving information of hostile attack prior to the arrival of orders from superior headquarters.

(6) LIAISON:

A. All troops will maintain liaison with their right and left and also with superior headquarters by all means available.

B. Special attention will be paid to developing a system of runners who will be instructed as to routes to all headquarters to which it is likely they will be required to carry messages, and they will be practised in carrying messages to such units.

C. Each regiment and machine gun battalion will send a Liaison Officer, accompanied by a sufficient number of runners, to brigade battle headquarters as soon as the order "Action East Pop Line" is given.

(7) PLANS FOR COUNTER-ATTACK:

A. Organization Commanders will prepare for possible counter-attack by thorough reconnaissance and such preparations as are practicable.

B. LOCAL COUNTER-ATTACKS.—Company and battalion commanders will prepare and submit to their next higher headquarters for approval plans for local counter-attack.

APPENDIX "A"

1. STANDING TRENCH ORDERS:

(a) WORK.—All organizations occupying any portion of the East Poperinghe Line, the Boeschepe Line and the Godewaersvelde Line will be employed in the work of strengthening their position. Such work will be done under proper supervision, and the commanding officer, 102d Engineers, will furnish such advice and assistance as may be required.

(b) Existing trenches will be deepened; fire steps will be revetted; additional communicating trenches will be dug; latrines and refuse pits will be constructed, and any other work done which appears to be necessary.

(c) Trenches will be named in each battalion sector and signs erected at crossroads and other important points in accordance with the following plan:

Observation line.....	125th Street
Supervision line.....	116th Street
Support line.....	59th Street
Reserve line.....	23d Street
Trench line, if any, between support and reserve.....	42d Street
Main communicating trench.....	5th Avenue
Communication to the trenches to the right of 5th Avenue:
4th Avenue
3d Avenue
2d Avenue
Communication to the trenches to the left of 5th Avenue:
8th Avenue

(d) Ranges will be measured and range cards made.

(e) Lewis gun positions will be selected.

(f) Troops will be practised in manning the trenches, and officers and non-commissioned officers in sight-setting and fire-control.

(g) Reconnaissance will be made to the front to include the Westoutre Line.

(h) Additional wire will be erected where the present wire is too far from the trenches, and additional gaps will be cut in wire where needed.

2. RATIONS AND SUPPLIES:

(a) KITCHENS.—Sites will be selected for kitchens by or under the supervision of regimental commanders. The sites should be located far enough to the rear to render them reasonably safe from shell fire, and from them cooked food will be carried forward by carrying parties under plans to be formulated by or under the direction of the regimental commander.

(b) REFILLING.—Rations and porridge will be brought up from the rear in accordance with the plan outlined in the Division Plan of Advance (Annex No. 10).

3. EVACUATION:

(a) FIRST AID STATIONS.—First aid stations and advance dressing stations will be selected and prepared under the supervision and direction of regimental commanders.

(b) Main dressing station will be at Trappist Farm.

(c) Station for slightly wounded will be at main dressing station.

(d) Cases will be brought to regimental aid stations by regimental bearers, and from there to advance stations by field ambulance bearers on wheel stretchers.

(e) From advance dressing stations, cases will be taken to main dressing stations by ambulance cars. Cases will be evacuated from main dressing stations by ambulance or light railway to casualty clearing station at Esquelbecq.

(f) Slightly wounded will be directed by guiding signs via advance dressing stations to main dressing stations. From there they will be evacuated to casualty clearing station by light railway or lorry.

4. STRAGGLERS:

Straggler and collecting stations will be established under the direction of the A. P. M. XIX Corps, who is charged with the collection and disposition of stragglers.

P. E. PIERCE,

Brigadier General, Commanding.

SECRET

PLAN FOR REINFORCING AND COUNTER-ATTACK

1. In certain eventualities the 27th Division may be required to operate east of East Poperinghe Line. It may be required:

(a) To reinforce any portion of the line Scherpenberg-La Clytte, N.8.b.4.5., N.3.c.4.0., N.3.d.5.8., N.4.a.1.5., H.34.c.3.2.

(b) To counter-attack to re-establish any portion of the above line.

A line of posts or defended localities is being constructed along the general line, M.10.d.central, M.11.b.central, M.6.central, N.1.central, H.32.d., H.26.d., H.27.a., one of the functions of which is to assist the advance of counter-attacking troops against the line referred to in (a).

(c) To reinforce any portion of the line Westoutre-East of Zevecoten (G.35.d.), Goed Moet Mill (H.25.a.), junction of Vlaminghe and Brandhoek lines in G.24.d. and thence along both lines to the boundary with II Corps.

(d) To counter-attack to re-establish any portion of above line referred to in (c).

(e) To form a flank facing south with the left on the Scherpenberg.

(f) To form a flank facing northeast with the right along Dickebusch Lake.

(g) To form a flank facing north with the right about G.24.central.

2. It is obviously impossible to lay down in advance the precise conditions under which the execution of any of the above tasks would be necessary, but a valuable aid to success in any case will be previous study by senior officers of the tasks which they may be called on to carry out, and a knowledge of the ground on which they may be called on to operate as widely disseminated as possible among all ranks. The retention of a nucleus garrison in the East Poperinghe Line will be essential under the conditions in which any of the above operations would be undertaken.

3. The division being disposed on the East Poperinghe, Boeschepe and Godewaersvelde lines, with three regiments side by side, 105th in north sector, 108th in center, and 107th in south sector, as in defense plan, the following will obtain:

(i) In case of (a), (b), (c), (d) the three battalions on the Boeschepe will be used, moving forward through the battalions on the East Poperinghe Line.

(ii) In case of (e) action will devolve upon the 107th Infantry with the two leading battalions, or all three.

(iii) In case of (f) or (g) action will devolve upon the 105th Infantry.

4. Commanders concerned will study the situations outlined above and form tentative plans so that they may be prepared for any eventuality.

1. Headquarters 53d Infantry Brigade will move to billets at L.26.a.7.7. as soon as quarters are available.

2. At 9:00 A. M. July 25th the command of the center sub-sector of the divisional sector will pass to the Commanding Officer, 53d Infantry Brigade.

Command and responsibility will then devolve as follows:

(a) The Commanding Officer, 53d Infantry Brigade, will be responsible for the defense of the center and left sub-sectors, his command consisting of the troops of his brigade (less machine gun organizations).

(b) The Commanding General, 54th Infantry Brigade, will be responsible for the defense of the right sub-sector, his command consisting of troops of his brigade (less machine gun organizations).

The infantry regiment in the training area will constitute the divisional reserve and, in case of operations, will be held under the orders of the Division Commander.

(c) The 102d Engineers is removed from attachment to 54th Infantry Brigade.

(d) For the present the Divisional Machine Gun Officer will command all machine gun battalions and companies for tactical and training purposes.

HEADQUARTERS, 27TH DIVISION, U. S. A. AMERICAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCES, FRANCE

July 29, 1918.

CONFIDENTIAL MEMORANDUM

NOT TO BE TAKEN INTO THE FRONT LINE TRENCHES, BUT TO BE STUDIED AND MADE THE BASIS FOR PRACTICAL TACTICAL WALKS ALONG THE FRONT OF THE EAST POPERINGHE LINE

The officers of the division were recently furnished with a confidential report of an American officer on recent fighting, wherein was described the effective manner in which the enemy forces, by the coordinated use of light machine guns, heavy machine guns, artillery fire and infantry assault, took positions that were fully prepared and supported by machine guns adequately installed, doing all this with little loss to themselves and with heavy casualties to the defenders. The memorandum did not point out the tactical defects in the plan of defense which resulted in the reverses reported, nor did it outline additional measures and methods, which, if applied, would have completely broken and stopped the German attack. It is the object of this memorandum to supply these deficiencies. The subject discussed herein and in the report referred to is of vital importance to this division at the present time and merits careful study. Brigade, regimental and battalion commanders will insure that their subordinates give the subject such study. For this purpose the report referred to will be re-read at officer conferences, after which the methods and means herein outlined will be discussed and understood. These conferences should be followed by tactical walks along the front of the East Poperinghe Line for the purpose of applying in the best manner the methods indicated. When this has been done a further step is essential. This is that the non-commissioned officers of every company should have the entire subject explained to them so that they will have confidence in the effectiveness of the methods and means prescribed.

In the first place, in any planned and prepared defensive, the tactical principles which govern the correct and effective use of troops in mobile operations should not be lost sight of.

On the contrary, they should be applied with only such modification as the trench installation calls for. One might go so far as to hold that the tactics of the defensive should be prescribed irrespective of any trench installation, and the trench system then installed solely for the purpose of strengthening the defense so planned. With this principle in view, the reader should turn to the report referred to and visualize the incidents described by the American officer. Doing this, it will be noted that the fully intrenched and prepared machine gun detachments and the troops that supported them appear to have been chained to their positions. It is further evident that the individual Germans who ran forward, taking up positions under cover within 500 yards of the defensive line, were not regarded as targets offering sufficient inducements for fire action, and so the defenders apparently withheld their fire and waited. Furthermore, it would seem, in visualizing the picture, that the advance fire trench was regarded as an extreme line of observation as well as of resistance and that in consequence no patrols were out in advance of that line. The same tactical principles which prompted the Germans, in making their attack, to send forward the machine gun combat patrols should have prompted the defenders of the front line to have had well forward of their lines similar combat patrols for the very purpose of preventing what their neglect permitted to happen, namely, effective fire on their trenches by small enemy groups pushed well forward and under the cover of whose fire the assaulting line was enabled to advance. With Lewis gun or rifle combat patrols pushed out from two to three hundred yards in advance of the defensive position and well screened from observation, the tactics of the enemy in pushing forward their light machine gun combat patrols would have been more than neutralized. They would have been shot down in their attempt to approach within effective range of the front line. This would seem to be obvious because the enemy patrols must necessarily expose themselves in going forward, while defensive patrols would have been screened by natural or camouflaged positions. It is reported that this actually happened in an attack on the 26th American Division, combat rifle patrols being pushed out to meet the German light machine gun patrols, and they were beaten at their own game by aggressiveness and superior marksmanship.

From every point of view the installation of Lewis gun and rifle patrols in positions from two to three hundred yards beyond the front line trench merits adoption. In the first place, it conforms to tactical principles governing mobile operations. It prevents hostile patrols from gaining light machine gun positions of advantage from which to deliver destructive fire upon the visible trench. In the event of an assault, it furnishes opportunity for surprise fire and such fire is always effective. It tends to break up the assault and indeed may stop it before it reaches the front line trench. Such positions in many respects provide greater security for the occupants than can be provided them by the trenches, for the latter cannot be completely screened. The wire and the trenches are furthermore always targets for hostile artillery fire, while the camouflaged positions described would be outside the beaten zone of artillery fire.

These pits should be provided for with the least possible delay along the entire front of our defensive line in the following manner, and upon the basis of one per 200 yards of front. The intervals should vary in accordance with the terrain. In selecting the exact spot for each rifle pit the primary consideration is field of fire; the secondary consideration, cover. Their distance in front of the front line trench should be at least 200 yards and normally not more than 300 yards. The installation consists of a pit with vertical sides, large enough for two men to stand in and for one of them at a time to sit down, a place being hollowed out of the parados for the knees of the man sitting. The pit should be at least six feet deep with two wooden steps at such height as will enable the man standing upon them to fire the Lewis gun conveniently with the gun resting on the surface of the ground in front or at the sides of the pit. The first step in making the pit is to build a manhole cover for it. This may be made from a piece of corrugated iron from a damaged Niessen hut. This should be covered with bagging or burlap painted to match the adjoining surface of the ground. The burlap can be held in place by sewing a hem around the edge, and folding the edge to the under side of the manhole cover and securing it with a puckering string. Through holes cut in the burlap on the top of the cover should be inserted pieces of sod or small plants such as weeds with the stems sticking out so as to give the cover a natural appearance. This device having been made, the pit is then dug at night, each spadeful of earth being placed in a burlap bag as it is excavated, the bags being carried to the rear and emptied as fast as they are filled. Preferably the wall of the pit should be lined with corrugated iron from salvaged huts, already cut to the proper size. This for the purpose of holding intact the earth walls of the pit. These corrugated iron sheets can be held in position by wooden braces hammered into place between opposite sheets of metal. A duck-board bottom made of any wood available is desirable. A few tufts of weeds, tall grass, rye or wheat transplanted and naturally grouped about the front and sides of the pit will enable the observer to raise the front of the manhole cover a few inches and see without being seen. The pits should never be left exposed to aerial observation and therefore during the day the manhole cover should always be in place, during the construction of the pit and thereafter. An abundant supply of ammunition should be provided for. These places should normally be occupied at least an hour before dawn, the occupants remaining until after dusk. Therefore rations and water should be carried with them into the pit. To preserve the pits in sanitary condition they should be provided with small latrine cans with cover, to be removed after dusk. The selection of positions for these pits, in accordance with the principle above laid down, will probably place some of them in standing crops. If so, this will clearly establish the total inadequacy of crop removal to give proper field of fire. In other instances it will be indicated that while the site of the particular pit is in open ground, crops are growing in its immediate front. These crops should be removed or destroyed with the least possible delay so as to provide a field of fire in every direction for at least 250 yards. The men selected to hold these positions should be chosen for their skill and determination. In addition to the Lewis gun, each pit should be provided with one rifle which will be used in preference to the Lewis gun when the target consists of an individual enemy patrol. Pits located within rifle grenade distance of important pockets of ground which might be occupied by the enemy should be provided with at least twenty rifle grenades. No difficulty should be experienced in the tactical use of these pits during the development of an attack, as our supporting artillery fire would be over them and upon enemy forces in front. Whether these combat patrols should be withdrawn immediately before the final assault on account of our own artillery barrage, or whether they should be maintained there with a view to breaking up the enemy assault, will depend upon arrangement between the infantry battalion and the group of guns covering the battalion front.

Referring again to the events described by the American officer, it must be clear that even in the absence of the pits mentioned and described above, the defenders should have pushed out patrols of individual riflemen and an occasional Lewis gun group well in front of their defensive position, similar to the manner in which the enemy pushed out such patrols in front of his attacking wave. Had this been done, the enemy's tactics would have been negated. The defenders had equal opportunity with the enemy to do this and with better advantage, because their men knew the ground and the distances better than the enemy could have known them.

The next fundamental error of the defense on the occasion referred to in the report was the evident lack of liaison and communication between the front line troops and the supporting artillery. The infantry could not get the help of artillery fire. Probably the artillery was well positioned, liberally supplied with ammunition and with cover for the gun crews. But no matter how perfectly all these features may have been provided for, they have no value so far as the conduct of the defense is concerned unless the fire of the artillery can be promptly and accurately turned upon the enemy as the necessities of the action require. When it is considered that the supporting artillery will normally be disposed in depth from 1,000 to 4,000 yards in rear of the first defensive fire trench, the importance of their forward observation stations and the communication between such stations and the batteries becomes apparent. Frequently the best protection from the enemy's fire is afforded by a position screened from observation rather than a known or observable position strongly protected by mechanical defenses. The real effort for protection should be expended for the security of the communication between the observation station and the battery rather than upon the battery positions. The lesson taught by lack of secure communication between the front and the supporting guns is illustrated by the events described by the American officer, but it is not stated as such and it may be that many officers who have read the paper did not clearly understand the cause of the artillery failure, or their obligations as infantry officers in preparation to prevent a like occurrence. And in this connection, important obligations rest upon the infantry officers. The artillery is merely an auxiliary agency to assist the infantry. If the artillery fails, the greatest consequences are to the infantry. Therefore, while artillery communication is primarily an artillery function, infantry commanding officers should concern themselves with the efficiency of the artillery O. P.'s and the buried cable between them and the guns, and cooperate with the supporting artillery in any manner best calculated to insure prompt and durable communication.

No such result of enemy tactics as has been described in the report mentioned is conceivable in an attack on our line if our officers and non-commissioned officers will deal aggressively with all enemy tactics and base their aggressiveness upon the principles laid down in our Field Service Regulations. In this connection some of our officers appear to place too much value upon some particular tactical policy of the hour without sufficient inquiry concerning its application to their situation, and with perhaps too little consideration of the principle underlying it. For example, we hear of the importance of holding the front trench very lightly and even of holding it with a few posts because of the effects of a heavy artillery bombardment. But it should be remembered that the East Poperinghe Line is not a first line system but a second line, and that an attack upon it might follow immediately behind the troops retreating upon it, the attack being prepared mainly by fire for destruction of the wire. The troops, to occupy our fire trenches, should therefore always be in such position that they can complete the occupation in ample time to shoot down the approaching enemy, and the occupation should be made with all the rifle bearers necessary for the purpose. Boyeaux or approach trenches are few in our system, and support troops should be practised in dashing over the top between support and fire trenches, so as to facilitate the manning of the trenches in that manner, if found desirable. Have a double tier of fire whenever practicable. To insure their timely arrival energetic patrols and alert observers are essential. Arrange for screened auxiliary observers in tall trees and upon buildings commanding a view of the front. Arrange, wherever possible, for the support trenches also to be manned where a field of fire over the trench in front exists or can be provided, and use a double firing line. With trenches thickly manned by determined men who can shoot and who have not been unduly disturbed by "morale shakers," the enemy should be shot down as fast as he is willing to come on. Leave nothing undone to insure results. Have the Stokes mortars and one-pounders where they can get busy without fail and with the best results in the shortest space of time. If they are too far back they may never get a chance. They are of no use unless used. Have a number of alternative positions prepared for them in advance. The one-pounders are admirable for dealing with advanced machine gun combat patrols and with hostile trench mortars, if riflemen and Lewis gun patrols have difficulty in destroying them. You know from your experience in firing exercises at Glassy Rock, S. C., how accurate and rapid is the one-pounder fire.

Constantly we hear the admonition to dispose your troops in depth. The thing can be overdone quite easily, and therefore the tactical principle involved, rather than a rigid rule of application, should be considered carefully and a proper application of the principle applied to your particular sector. This is clear, for you can picture a disposition in depth which would amount to such separation of units of the command as would enable the massed attack of the enemy to defeat the subdivisions in details. Deep disposal of a command facilitates an orderly retreat, but we are not here to retreat. On the other hand, a firing line so heavily manned that its occupation utilizes a large proportion of the troops available presents serious consequences if the line is penetrated and there are not sufficient troops in rear to repair the damage. The solution requires judgment. In our case the leading battalions in the line should be disposed and rehearsed to insure a timely and heavy manning of the front line fire trenches so as to bring upon the enemy the greatest possible volume of fire in the event of an assault.

Finally, any temporary hold gained anywhere in our line will be promptly dealt with by local counter-attack before the enemy can get his breath. Go to it "rough"—with the bayonet—remember that the enemy's occupation is the authoritative signal for the launching of the counter-attack and that no counter-attacks so delivered have ever failed. Should a penetration, as distinguished from an occupation, of the line occur at any point, the front line in all other places should hold their ground, for the matter will be dealt with by support and reserve troops in rear who will restore the situation.

An attack made by the enemy on our line will result in his complete defeat with heavy losses, and as a defensive rôle is merely an expedient, such defeat will make timely a vigorous offensive on our part. All officers will therefore be prepared to participate in such action promptly upon the termination of the defensive phase of our operations.

JOHN F. O'RYAN,
Major General.

1. In order to carry out the plan of training in the front line, troops will march on July 25th as designated below to report to British organizations:

2. (a) TO JOIN 6TH BRITISH DIVISION, 16TH INFANTRY BRIGADE: The 3d Battalion, 105th Infantry, with one section of Regimental Signal Platoon attached, will march via Poperinghe-Ypres road to H.8.a.4.8., thence south on road to Yale Siding at H.15.d. so as to arrive at the latter place at 10:00 P. M., July 25th, where it will be met by guides.

(b) TO JOIN 6TH BRITISH DIVISION, 18TH INFANTRY BRIGADE: The 1st Battalion, 105th Infantry, with one section Regimental Signal Platoon attached, will march via Poperinghe-Busseboom-Ouderdom so as to arrive at level crossing (H.31.a.9.5.) at 11:00 P. M., July 25th, where it will be met by guides. The column not to reach Busseboom before dusk (10:00 P. M.) on account of enemy observation.

(c) TO JOIN 41ST BRITISH DIVISION, 123D INFANTRY BRIGADE: The 3d Battalion, 106th Infantry, with one section Regimental Signal Platoon attached, will march July 25th in accordance with arrangements made by the Battalion Commander.

(d) TO JOIN 41ST BRITISH DIVISION, 122D INFANTRY BRIGADE: One company 1st Battalion, 106th Infantry, will march July 25th so as to arrive at G.34.d.1.6. (cross roads) at 2:00 P. M., where it will be met by guides.

One company 1st Battalion, 106th Infantry, will march July 25th so as to arrive at G.34.d.1.6. at 11:00 P. M., where it will be met by guides.

(e) TO JOIN 41ST BRITISH DIVISION, 124TH INFANTRY BRIGADE: Headquarters 1st Battalion, 106th Infantry, with one company and one section Regimental Signal Platoon attached, will march on July 25th so as to arrive at G.34.d.1.6. at 3:00 P. M., where it will be met by guides.

One company 1st Battalion, 106th Infantry, will march July 25th, so as to arrive at G.34.d.1.6. at 12:00 P. M. (midnight), July 25-26th, where it will be met by guides.

(f) Headquarters 105th Machine Gun Battalion, with Companies B and D, will march to join the 41st Division and Companies A and C to join the 6th Division, under arrangements made by the Battalion Commander.

(g) Three platoons from 1st Battalion, 102d Engineers, will be sent to 6th British Division, and three platoons from the 2d Battalion, 102d Engineers, to the 41st British Division, under arrangements made by Commanding Officer, 102d Engineers.

3. Battalion Commanders concerned will visit the brigades to whom they are to report so that all details will be clearly understood. Marches should be made with due reference to enemy observation and avoiding too long continuous marches to the front line. Distances of 100 yards between platoons and 200 yards between companies will be maintained when there is probability of shell fire.

4. For the defense of the East Poperinghe Line the following changes of troops will be made:

(a) The 2d Battalion of the 105th Infantry will march July 25th to L.22.a.3.1., the camp vacated by the 3d Battalion of the 105th Infantry.

(b) The 2d Battalion, 106th Infantry, will march on July 25th to L.34.A. & B. (the camp vacated by the 1st Battalion, 106th Infantry), instead of K.29.C.2.3., as directed in march table of Field Order No. 21.

5. During the following period of eight days while the first four battalions are in the front line the three battalions, 107th Infantry, the 2d Battalion, 106th Infantry, and 2d Battalion, 105th Infantry, will reconnoiter the East Poperinghe Line and do such work upon it as may be ordered, but in case the order "Action East Poperinghe Line" is given, the 3d Battalion, 107th Infantry, 2d Battalion, 106th Infantry, and 2d Battalion, 105th Infantry, will move to a position in readiness on the Boeschepe Line in the right, center and left sub-sectors respectively, each sending one company to occupy the East Poperinghe Line in depth. The 1st Battalion, 107th Infantry, will move to a position in readiness on the Godewaersvelde Line in the center sub-sector and the 2d Battalion, 107th Infantry, will march to a position in readiness near the present camp of the 1st Battalion, 107th Infantry (K.34, Central).

6. During this period the Commanding Officer, 53d Infantry Brigade, will continue to command the center and left sectors and infantry regiments and battalions therein and the Commanding General, 54th Brigade, the right sub-sector, command of the 1st Battalion, 107th Infantry, passing to the Commanding Officer, 53d Infantry Brigade upon receipt, by the battalion, of the order "Action East Poperinghe Line."

7. In case "Action East Poperinghe" is ordered the 102d Engineers will move to a position in readiness on the Godewaersvelde Line in the right sub-sector, coming under command of 54th Brigade until ordered into reserve position.

8. The 106th Machine Gun Battalion will replace the 105th Machine Gun Battalion in scheme of defense.

9. This order will not be taken forward of East Poperinghe Line and all copies will be destroyed as soon as necessity for referring to it has passed.

BY COMMAND OF MAJOR GENERAL O'RYAN:

STANLEY H. FORD,
Chief of Staff.

xx Rations for consumption the next day after date given.

* Rations for consumption on second day following date given.

(d) PLAN OF SUPPLY.—Supplies arriving by daily train at Esquelbecq will be transferred, by personnel of Rail-head Supply Detachment, to meter gauge railway for shipment to Winnezele, where they will be handled by the same personnel and usual procedure.

Five trains of 2d Line Transport (G. S. wagons) will move supplies from Winnezele to refilling points.

These trains will be constituted as follows:

One—Necessary G. S. wagons and personnel detailed from units attached to Division Headquarters and the machine gun battalions of brigades.

One—Necessary G. S. wagons and personnel from supply company of each infantry regiment.

These trains, with a transport officer in charge of each, will report to their respective refilling points, per paragraph 8 (b) above, on August 23d. First Lieutenant F. G. Henderson, 106th Infantry, is assigned as officer in charge of trains. Thereafter trains will park near their respective refilling points. Full equipment and two days' rations and forage will be taken.

1ST LINE TRANSPORT (L. G. S. wagons) of units will move supplies from refilling points to rolling kitchens. Supply officers will arrange for their respective 1st Line Transport to be located at positions now occupied by the transport of British units, which they relieve.

1st Line Transport of units in occupation of 2d Position will be located near their respective battalions.

Supplies for units in the line will be conveyed by 1st Line Transport or pack animals and carrying parties, as necessitated by conditions. The exact subdivision of rations according to the distribution of units in the line, proper packing of same in bags and their being plainly labeled with the designation of the unit for which they are intended, to ensure correct handling through to destination, are matters of vital importance which affect the lives of comrades and the efficiency of the fighting unit.

All concerned will be held to strict accountability for the scrupulous return by carrying parties of all empty water tins and food containers of every kind, which are needed for bringing up supplies for the following night.

OFFICERS' RATIONS will be packed separately and may include such components as they may arrange to have purchased. Under no circumstances will the division of rations for a small number of officers be so made that they receive a disproportionate quantity to the detriment of enlisted men.

9. TRENCH STORES.—Receipts in quadruplicate will be exchanged between officers concerned, all copies to be executed by both officers. Two copies will be retained by each.

One copy of the two retained by officers of 27th Division to be forwarded to G-1.

10. SANITARY UNITS.—These will move as follows:

(a) 2/2 East Lancs. Field Ambulance (less one section) and Field Hospital No. 105 will proceed by marching to relieve the 17th Field Ambulance at main dressing station, Remy Siding, at L.23.c.2.8., August 21st, relief to be completed by 2:00 P. M.

(b) 2/1 East Lancs. Field Ambulance will relieve 18th Field Ambulance night of August 23d-24th at Headquarters 18th Field Ambulance, Remy Siding, at L.23.a.4.7. Personnel will move by light railway from Ledringhem Siding.

Train leaves 8:00 A. M., August 23d.

Troops will be at station one-half hour before departure of train.

Capacity of train, 160, all ranks.

Duration of journey, about three hours.

Detrainment at Remy (North) Siding.

Transport will move by road.

(c) Ambulance Company No. 106 (less detachments), now at Trappiste Farm, will proceed by marching to report night of August 23d-24th to Commanding Officer, 2/1 East Lancs. Field Ambulance, at Headquarters 18th Field Ambulance, Remy Siding, L.23.a.4.7.

(d) Field Hospital Company No. 106 will proceed by marching to take over divisional rest station (6th Division) at Hillehoek on August 23d.

(e) Personnel of Ambulance Company No. 106, now on duty with 18th Field Ambulance, will remain at present location.

(f) Personnel of Ambulance Company No. 106, now on duty with 139th Field Ambulance (41st Division) at Wippenhoek, proceeding by marching, on August 22d, to rejoin their unit at 18th Field Ambulance, Remy Siding.

(g) Personnel of Field Hospital Company No. 105, now on duty with 17th Field Ambulance at Remy Siding, will remain at present location.

(h) Personnel of Field Hospital Company No. 106, now on duty at main dressing station (41st Division), Remy Siding, will proceed by marching, on August 22d, to 6th Division rest station at Hillehoek.

FIELD ORDERS
No. 26

July 31, 1918.

MAP: Sheets 27 and 28, 1-20,000.

1. In continuance of the plan of training, Phase "B," troops will march as designated below, to report to British organizations. So much of Field Order No. 25, 27th Division, July 30, 1918, as conflicts with this order is canceled.

2. (a) TO JOIN 6TH BRITISH DIVISION, 71ST INFANTRY BRIGADE: The 2d Battalion, 105th Infantry, with one section Regimental Signal Platoon attached, will march so as to arrive at Mandalay Corner at 7:00 P. M., August 2d, where it will join the 71st Infantry Brigade and go into the line with them.

(b) TO JOIN 6TH BRITISH DIVISION, 18TH INFANTRY BRIGADE: The 2d Battalion, 106th Infantry, with one section Regimental Signal Platoon attached, will march via Condiment Cross, Reninghelst, Ouderdom, so as to arrive at level crossing (H.31.a.9.5.) at 11:00 P. M., August 2d, where it will be met by guides. The column not to pass Condiment Cross before dusk (9:30 P. M.) on account of enemy observation.

(c) TO JOIN 41ST BRITISH DIVISION, 123D INFANTRY BRIGADE: The 2d Battalion, 108th Infantry, with one section Regimental Signal Platoon attached, will march August 2d so as to arrive at 2:00 P. M. near the position of the British battalion with which they are to march to the front line. Complete arrangements to be made by the Battalion Commander direct.

(d) TO JOIN 41ST BRITISH DIVISION, 124TH INFANTRY BRIGADE: The 1st Battalion, 108th Infantry, with one section Regimental Signal Platoon attached, will march on August 2d so as to arrive at 2:00 P. M. near the position of the British battalion with which they are to march to the front line. Complete arrangements to be made by the Battalion Commander direct.

(e) The 106th Machine Gun Battalion will march, on July 31st, to join the 6th and 41st Divisions under arrangements made by the Battalion Commander direct.

(f) Six platoons, 102d Engineers, will be sent on July 31st to join the 6th and 41st Divisions under arrangements to be made by Commanding Officer, 102d Engineers.

3. Battalion commanders who are to join the 6th British Division will, with their company commanders, visit on August 1st, between 9:00 and 10:00 A. M., the headquarters of the brigades to which they are to report and arrange all details. Battalion commanders who are to join the 41st British Division will, with their company commanders, visit on the afternoon of August 1st the brigade to which they are to report and arrange all details.

Headquarters 71st Infantry Brigade.....G.14.c.2.3.

Headquarters 18th Infantry Brigade.....G.25.c.7.0.

Headquarters 123d Infantry Brigade.....M.6.c.3.4.

Headquarters 124th Infantry Brigade.....M.10.d.7.6.

Marches should be made with due reference to enemy observation and avoiding too long or continuous marches to the front line. Distances of 100 yards between platoons and 200 yards between companies will be maintained when there is probability of shell fire.

4. In accordance with Field Order No. 25, 27th Division, July 30, 1918, the 1st and 3d Battalions, 105th Infantry, 1st and 3d Battalions, 106th Infantry, will come out of the front line night of August 2d-3d. Regimental commanders will take steps to see that all arrangements are made for bivouacking and feeding these units in the vicinity of the locations assigned, without overcrowding the area, and that proper guides are arranged for.

5. (a) One Machine Gun Company will relieve the 2d Battalion, 105th Infantry, in the Anjou Farm sub-sector, 2d Position, by 9:00 A. M., August 2d.

(b) One Machine Gun Company will relieve the 2d Battalion, 106th Infantry, in the Hooggraaf sub-sector, 2d Position, by 9:00 A. M., August 2d.

(c) One Machine Gun Company will relieve the 3d Battalion, 107th Infantry, in the Condiment Cross sub-sector at dusk, August 1st.

(d) The 3d Battalion, 108th Infantry, will take over the Condiment Cross sub-sector and relieve the Machine Gun Company by dusk on August 2d.

(e) The 1st Battalion, 105th Infantry, will take over the Anjou Farm sub-sector and relieve the Machine Gun Company by dusk, August 3d.

(f) The 1st Battalion, 106th Infantry, will take over the Hooggraaf sub-sector and relieve the Machine Gun Company by dusk, August 3d.

(g) Only the number of men of machine gun companies necessary to guard property will be sent on the second position and infantry battalions will send one or two platoons (not more) in each sub-sector to relieve the machine gun companies.

6. The East Poperinghe Line will hereafter be known as the 2d Position.

BY COMMAND OF MAJOR GENERAL O'RYAN:

STANLEY H. FORD,
Chief of Staff.

FIELD ORDER
No. 29

SECRET

August 4, 1918.

1. In continuance of plan of training, Phase "B," machine gun companies will move as follows:

(a) The 106th Machine Gun Battalion will come out of the front line on the night of August 6th-7th and march to Beauvoorde Wood.

(b) The Machine Gun Companies of the 105th, 106th, 107th and 108th Infantry Regiments will march to the front line on the night of August 6th-7th, two companies each to the 6th and 41st British Divisions.

(c) Six platoons 102d Engineers will come out of the front line and six platoons will be sent to the front line on the night of August 6th-7th, under arrangements to be made by the Commanding Officer, 102d Engineers.

(d) The 105th Machine Gun Battalion will march to Beauvoorde Wood on August 5th and take over the defense of the 2d Position.

(e) The 106th Machine Gun Battalion will march from Beauvoorde Wood to Oudezeele area on August 8th.

2. All detailed arrangements for moves of machine gun organizations will be made under the supervision of Divisional Machine Gun Officer.

BY COMMAND OF MAJOR GENERAL O'RYAN:

STANLEY H. FORD,
Lieutenant Colonel, G. S.,
Chief of Staff.

27TH DIVISION

ORDER
No. 42

SECRET

July 24, 1918.

REFERENCE MAPS: Sheets 27 and 28, 1-40,000.

1. The following in connection with operations directed by Field Order No. 23.

2. TRANSPORT organizations will move with complete transport loaded with mobile reserve of S. A. A., grenades, tools, rations, forage and officers' baggage. In cases where companies of a battalion are divided between different British brigades, a proper proportion of the transport will accompany such units.

The three engineer platoons which join each of two British divisions will be provided with animal-drawn transport by their own organization. This transport, after dumping loads, will return at once to its proper station.

3. SUPPLY rations and forage for consumption on July 27th will be drawn prior to departure (on July 25th).

Thereafter units concerned will be supplied from refilling points of the British divisions to which they are attached—including supply for consumption on August 4th.

Supply and transport officers will report for instructions to British supply officers concerned, as to location of refilling points and transport lines.

4. EXTRA TRANSPORTATION. None will be provided.
5. EXTRA BLANKETS. To be left at a regimental dump under suitable guard.
6. OVERCOATS. As may be decided by regimental or separate unit commanders. If not taken, they will be left at regimental dump.

BY COMMAND OF MAJOR GENERAL O'RYAN:

STANLEY H. FORD,
Lieutenant Colonel, G. S.,
Chief of Staff.

ORDER
No. 43

27TH DIVISION

July 29, 1918.

REFERENCE MAP: HAZEBROUCK (5-A), 1-100,000. (Sheet 27), 1-40,000.

1. TRAFFIC. It has been reported that transport intended for forward area has been arriving at Loye Cross Roads, L.35.d.2.3., before dark.

Commanding officers will cause necessary instructions to be given to ensure that no such transport reaches the point named before it is actually dark, as no traffic is permitted forward of this point until after darkness.

This is necessary in order to prevent a block in traffic.

2. BILLETES. Billeting parties of Headquarters Company, 107th Infantry, and of detachments from 104th Machine Gun Battalion at present stationed in vicinity of Abeele Aerodrome, will apply to Area Commandant Abeele for accommodations for their respective units, including horse lines, elsewhere in the area.

The change of station will be effected by 12 noon, July 31st.

Immediate report, giving map coordinates of such new locations, will be made to these headquarters.

3. USE OF BUILDING MATERIAL. (a) Brick, rubble and debris from towns and villages in the shelled area will only be used for the following services, priority being given as below:

1. Bursting courses over dug-outs.
2. Concrete material in forward areas.
3. Road repairs in forward areas.
4. Horse standings.
5. Paths, incinerators and other billet requirements of troops in forward areas.

(b) Uninhabited houses in good order or slightly damaged condition are on no account to be demolished. Strict disciplinary measures will be taken to enforce this order.

(c) Debris of houses in ruins may be removed whenever possible.

(d) The following procedure will be carried out for the removal of brick and rubble, etc., in the evacuated area:

1. Units will indent on the Commanding Officer, 102d Engineers, for the number of loads required.

2. A requisition note will be made out on A. B. 303, in duplicate, and signed by the Commanding Officer, Engineers, or his representative, stating:

- I. Quantity of material to be taken.
- II. Purpose for which it is required.

3. The requisition note on A. B. 303, in duplicate, will be handed by the unit to the area commandant concerned, who will point out the brick, etc., to be removed, and invariably state on the requisition note the following particulars:

- I. Nature and condition of material taken.
- II. If possible, name of owner of building.
- III. The map reference and, if possible, the name of commune.

The original and duplicate copies of A. B. 303 will be countersigned by area commandants concerned and sent to the Belgian Mission XIX Corps who are arranging to forward the duplicate copy to the central requisition office base.

4. EXTRA PROPERTY. Movement of such material as overcoats, extra blankets, etc., of organizations named will be made by means of their animal-drawn transport.

5. MAIL. (a) The field post office and its personnel, now situated at headquarters of the 53d Infantry Brigade, will be moved to Dump "D" (advance ration refilling point) at Q.5.b.5.6.

The officer in charge of this dump will be responsible for the rationing and quartering of the postal personnel and will select a suitable place for the post office. Should the dump be moved at any time, he will move the personnel and equipment of the post office. The Commanding Officer, 53d Infantry Brigade, Headquarters Detachment, will continue to be responsible for the pay and equipment of this postal detachment. This post office will be in operation at the new location July 28th, and will serve the following units until further notice:

105th Infantry.
107th Infantry (less Machine Gun Company).
104th Machine Gun Battalion.
105th Machine Gun Battalion.
106th Machine Gun Battalion.

Other units of the Division will be served through the same post office as heretofore, with the exception of the 53d Infantry Brigade Headquarters, which will be served by the Division Headquarters Post Office.

If it should at any time be impracticable to send the designated mail orderly the non-commissioned officer in charge of drawing the rations for the headquarters of a regiment or separate unit will collect the incoming mail from the post office and carry the outgoing mail to the post office, signing for all registered matter and attending to its proper disposition. Mail orderlies may be conveyed to and from post office by the same transport as carries the rations.

(b) Under instructions from II Corps, American Expeditionary Forces, dated July 20th and July 25th, letters will be addressed to members of this command, giving the rank, company, organization and arm of the service. The words "American Expeditionary Forces" must be added to the address. Henceforth the post office number should be added if known. That of this division is A. P. O. 748.

Under no circumstances should Stations A, B or C, or the letters B. E. F. be used, as this causes mail to be missent from New York.

The use of A. P. O., or unit designations on envelopes of outgoing mail is prohibited.

Sub-paragraph 2, paragraph II, Orders 6, Headquarters 27th Division, is rescinded.

6. DISPOSAL OF MANURE. Manure must be removed into fields or to ground outside encampments and treated as follows:

(a) Pack the manure tightly as it is stacked, slapping down each spadeful, treading, or otherwise making sure that it forms a compact mass right through. The stack will then heat up strongly and become unsuitable for maggots to live in. Regular heaps ten feet square and five feet high are a suitable size, the sides of which should be smooth and sloping.

(b) Spray or sprinkle thoroughly each day's addition to the stack with a 5 per cent. solution of Cresol, in water (a gallon per square yard); also spray the ground for at least two feet around the manure heap.

(c) Cover the stack at top and sides, as these are finished, with six inches of earth and slap it down firmly with a spade. When the stack is completed cover the last side with earth.

Old heaps of manure should be left alone—fresh manure will not be added to them.

BY COMMAND OF MAJOR GENERAL O'RYAN:

STANLEY H. FORD,
Lieutenant Colonel, G. S.,
Chief of Staff.

ORDERS
No. 44

July 30, 1918.

REFERENCE MAP: HAZEBROUCK (5-A), 1-100,000. (Sheet 27), 1-40,000.

1. SUPPLY.—Ration refilling point from July 31st:

At Dump "D." Q.5.b.5.6.

For Machine Gun Company, 105th Infantry.

Machine Gun Company, 106th Infantry.

Machine Gun Company, 107th Infantry.

Machine Gun Company, 108th Infantry.

2. USE SAND BAGS.—The use of sand bags in revetting ammunition dumps or recesses, due to their inflammable nature, is prohibited. Corrugated iron will be employed for such purposes.

3. INTERRUPTION TO LIGHT RAILWAY TRAFFIC.—(a) Breakages of the Light Railway Line owing to hostile shelling, derailment or any other interference with the running way, while causing a certain amount of unavoidable delay, should not mean failure in delivery of consignments of ammunition to the forward area.

(b) In the event of it being impossible for a train to reach a group station, ammunition should be off-loaded where the break is and pack-horses or wagons brought to that point to carry the ammunition to its destination. The location and circumstance of a break will be reported immediately by the guide on the train to the officer in charge of the loading party at the group station.

(c) It should seldom be necessary to return a consignment. The responsibility for so doing will rest upon the officer in charge of the loading party at the group station.

4. TENTAGE.—Commanding officers will report by noon, August 1st, the number of tents required as shelter for units of their command. This should be given by numbers of officers and enlisted separately.

Report should also show the number of tents now in use by units and the sources from which obtained.

On receipt of this information, Corps Headquarters will be advised and tents delivered to area commandants for distribution to units concerned.

It will be noted that tents are area stores and in the event of a move to another area, will be turned in to area commandant from whom drawn, and receipt taken therefor.

Tents not already stained when issued will be cutched before pitching, and when set will be widely distributed in localities hidden by trees, etc., from aerial observation.

5. USE OF STRAW.—In view of the shortage of forage, and the recent reduction in the ration, it has been decided that, in future, straw will not be issued for stuffing sacks for bayonet fighting purposes. Straw is not essential for this purpose, and many substitutes can be found in the way of rushes, leaves, wood shavings, etc.

6. LOST.—On July 15th, on route from Lovie (27/F. 16.) to Cassel, one pair of Ross, six-power prism binoculars, in a brown leather case with sling. Name J. D. Belgrave stamped on case.

Any information regarding the above will be reported to A. P. M. 27th Division, at these headquarters.

(b) Parties, 108th Infantry, will precede that command, arrange for accommodations in XIX Corps area and direct units to quarters as follows:

Headquarters 108th Infantry, in Abeele area, apply to area commandant at 27 L.31.d.0.5.

1st and 2d Battalions in St. Eloi area, apply to area commandant at 27 K.35.d.5.5.

3d Battalion, in Winnezeele area, apply to area commandant at Winnezeele.

(c) Parties of Transport, 107th Infantry, will precede that command, arrange for accommodations (apply to area commandant, Lederzeele) and direct units to quarters.

ON AUGUST 1ST

Parties, 105th Machine Gun Battalion, will precede that command to Oudezeele, arrange for accommodations in area, vicinity of C.30.d.2.S., D.26.d.4.4., J.I.d.9.6. and direct units to quarters. (Apply to area commandant, Oudezeele.)

ON AUGUST 2D

(a) Party from 3d Battalion, 108th Infantry, will precede that command, arrange for accommodations in Abeele area (apply to area commandant at 27 L.31.d.0.5.) and direct units to quarters.

(b) Party from 3d Battalion, 107th Infantry, will precede that command, arrange for accommodations in Winnezeele area (apply to area commandant, Winnezeele) and direct units to quarters.

ON AUGUST 3D

(a) Parties of Transport, 3d Battalion, 107th Infantry, will precede that command, arrange for accommodations (apply to area commandant, Lederzeele) and direct units to quarters.

(b) Parties of 3d Battalion, 105th Infantry and 3d Battalion, 106th Infantry, will precede those commands, arrange for accommodations and direct units to quarters as follows:

3d Battalion, 105th Infantry, in Rattekot area, apply to area commandant at K.24.a.1.8.

3d Battalion, 106th Infantry, in St. Eloi area, apply to area commandant at K.35.d.5.5.

(c) Party from Headquarters, 107th Infantry, will direct 3d Battalion to billets in Boisdinghem sub-area.

3. AREA STORES.—Any tentage or other material issued for the use of organizations while at their present stations will be returned, prior to departure therefrom, to the area commandants from whom such material was drawn.

4. EXTRA TRANSPORTATION.—Property of units, as extra blankets and overcoats. Stokes mortars, medical and signal material for which no regular means of transportation is provided, will be left under suitable guard, properly rationed, for later movement by transportation as available. Lorries will report as follows:

AUGUST 1ST AT 9:00 A. M.

10 to Headquarters, 108th Infantry. Guides will be furnished to direct 2 lorries to each battalion.

10 to Headquarters, 107th Infantry. Guides will be furnished to direct 3 lorries each to 1st and 2d Battalions.

AUGUST 2D AT 9:00 A. M.

2 to 105th Machine Gun Battalion.

2 to 3d Battalion, 108th Infantry.

3 to 3d Battalion, 107th Infantry.

AUGUST 3D AT 9:00 A .M.

- 2 to 3d Battalion, 105th Infantry.
- 2 to 3d Battalion, 106th Infantry.

5. POLICE.—The details of Military Police attached to organizations named will change station with those units for general police purposes of the several new stations of the commands named.

6. SUPPLY.—Ration refilling points as follows:

ORDERS
No. 46

July 31, 1918.

REFERENCE MAPS: Sheets 27 and 28, 1-40,000.

1. The following in connection with Field Orders No. 26.

2. TRANSPORT.—Organizations will move with complete transport, loaded with mobile reserve S. A. A., grenades, tools, rations, forage and officers' baggage. Such S. A. A. and grenades will be left at transport lines assigned by British supply officers, and not carried forward into the trenches.

In cases where companies of a battalion are divided between different British brigades, a proper proportion of the transport will accompany each such unit.

The three engineer platoons which join each of two British divisions will be provided with animal-drawn transport by their own organizations. This transport, after dumping loads, will return at once to its proper station.

3. SUPPLY.—Necessary rations and forage will be taken by units and will be drawn prior to departure as follows:

(a) Organizations moving July 31st will draw rations on that day for consumption August 2d.

(b) Organizations moving August 2d will draw rations on that day for consumption August 4th.

Two days' rations will be carried on the men.

Thereafter units concerned will be supplied from refilling points of the British division to which they are attached—including supply for consumption on August 10th and August 12th, respectively.

Supply and transport officers will report for instructions to the British supply officers concerned, as to the location of refilling points and transport lines.

Necessary issues of ordnance property—accommodation stores, clothing, etc., will be made at proper refilling points for conveyance to units by usual means of transport.

4. EXTRA TRANSPORTATION.—None will be provided.

5. OVERCOATS AND EXTRA BLANKETS.—As may be decided by regimental or separate unit commanders. If not taken they will be left at a regimental dump, under suitable guard, properly rationed.

EXTRACTS FROM GENERAL HEADQUARTERS SUMMARY

GERMAN DISCIPLINE

A secret order of May 18, 1918, signed "von Tschischwitz," Chief of Staff, 2d German Army, runs as follows:

"It has recently become known that, on March 24th, our troops shot down one of our own contact patrol machines at Clery and secretly buried the dead occupants.

"An official inquiry has been arranged.

"Should one of our airmen by an unfortunate mistake attack our own troops, the troops in question should make known their identity by sending up a white signal rocket and report the matter as soon as possible.

"Such a procedure as that described above is unworthy of the German army.

"The episode must be used as an object for instruction, and it should at the same time be explained that contact patrols in the attack have to open fire upon the enemy's lines while they are still over their own troops. This may produce a mistaken idea among the troops that they are themselves being fired upon."

SHORTAGE OF ARTILLERY HORSES

The following is the translation of a captured German document:

CROWN PRINCE RUPPRECHT'S GROUP OF ARMIES.

ART. No. 48403

Army Headquarters, April 18, 1918.

To 4th, 6th, 17th and 2d Armies

According to a communication received from General Headquarters, whole regiments or independent Abteilungen of divisional or army field artillery are said to have had their horses taken away from them in order to replace casualties, without the matter being referred to higher authority.

This procedure is forbidden and is equivalent to breaking up the unit concerned. See also Army Group Order Iaf. No. 5413, secret, dated March 25, 1918. General Headquarters is not in a position to bring these regiments and Abteilungen up to strength again in horses.

Should the Quartermaster General, in conformity with General Headquarters Ic. No. 83041 op. of April 15, 1918 (Army Group Order No. 48150 of April 16, 1918) be unable fully to comply with the demands for horses submitted, a readjustment must be carried out within the field artillery regiment, a part being made mobile at the expense of the rest, which must lose its horses and be left behind; for instance, batteries will horse only three or even two guns and four wagons.

A return will be rendered stating whether, and, if so, in which field artillery regiments or independent Abteilungen the procedure mentioned at the outset has been ordered.

(Signed) VONKUHLE.

NOTE.—The 2d Army rendered a nil return to the above; the returns of other armies are not shown.

TRANSLATIONS OF CAPTURED GERMAN DOCUMENTS

(From General Headquarters Summary)

C. G. S. OF THE FIELD ARMY,

Ic. Nr. 6326, Secret op.

General Headquarters, February 2, 1918.

Reports are constantly reaching me that officers on leave give voice to utterances which are calculated to awaken feelings of doubt as to the preparedness of the army for battle. For instance, I am informed that one officer spread the story broadcast in Berlin that an offensive in the west was out of the question, owing to shortage of horses and oats.

The duty of reticence in regard to matters connected with the service applies not merely to the mentioning of units, movements, etc., but even to general questions bearing on the war.

The spreading of such reports usually has its origin in the desire to appear important, a feeling bound up with personal vanity. The authors forget that, in giving way to an unmanly weakness, they are sacrificing the important interests of their country, and causing injury to the conduct of the war, which in some circumstances is immeasurably great. Such conduct cannot be censured strongly enough.

I ask all superior officers, especially regimental commanders, to exercise an influence over officers and men in this connection.

217TH RESERVE INFANTRY REGIMENT

PERSONAL

Ref. C. G. S. of the Field Army, February 2, 1918, Ic. 6326, Secret op.

The purport of the above-mentioned order, which must only pass through the hands of officers, is to be conveyed to the troops in convenient form by means of instruction framed to meet the end in view.

The harm caused by the inexcusable desire to be the purveyor of news is often very great.

Officers returning from leave or special duty must avoid spreading unfavorable rumors of any kind. It is a remarkable fact that they seldom bring with them any news of an uncouraging nature. If incorrect statements are made, it is better to "color with a rosy hue" than to "paint things black."

Not long ago, an officer, an official, and several N. C. O's. and men spread a rumor, without testing its accuracy—which was calculated to do grave injury to the good name of the men of our regiment. I can only condemn this conduct in the strongest terms. Officers and officials, in particular, should avoid such actions.

(Signed) JAROTSKY.

EFFECT OF OUR AIR OPERATIONS

(From General Headquarters, Summary)

(a) A prisoner of the 13th Protective Flight, then at Hellenes (southwest of Lille), states that, as a result of a low daylight bombing raid on Lomme aerodrome on August 17th, seventeen Fokker biplane scouts were completely destroyed.

NOTE.—Lomme aerodrome was attacked on the date given.

(b) Prisoners of the 4th Division, captured on the Hazebrouck front on the 18th inst., were able to give information as to the results of the daylight raid on Tournai station, carried out by the R. A. F. on the 7th inst. Several direct hits were secured on warehouses adjoining the good station, and a canal bridge near the station was also hit and partly destroyed. The casualties are stated to have amounted to twenty-two Germans killed and about thirty wounded.

(c) Prisoners have now confirmed an earlier report from another source that the Army Group Headquarters of Crown Prince Rupprecht, situated in Tournai, were damaged during a bombing raid by the R. A. F.; this is thought to have occurred on July 10th, and it appears that the casualties included a general (of pioneers) and a staff captain.

(d) A bombing attack on Tournai, carried out by the R. A. F. during the early part of May (probably the 3d or 9th), resulted in casualties being caused to a field bakery column stationed at Blandain, northwest of the town. According to prisoners, these amounted to twenty Germans killed, ten wounded, and four horses killed.

(e) Prisoners of the 23d Infantry Regiment (12th Division—in line opposite Merris) state that they lost two killed and six wounded while coming up into support on the night of August 13th-14th. One of our machines dropped a flare, which disclosed this movement, and followed it up with four bombs.

EXTRACTS FROM A CAPTURED DOCUMENT

(From Army Summary)

A document dated August 16, 1918, probably emanating from a battalion of the 4th or 12th Division, states:

“Prisoners are required. Ambush patrols in the strength of about eight men and one light machine gun will push out beyond the outpost line and take cover in shell holes. On the approach of a hostile patrol, let the enemy come through and then attack from the rear and flank and take prisoners.

“The usual report—‘Hostile patrol repulsed by machine-gun fire and bombs’—is not sufficient. We must capture prisoners.”

CAPTURED ORDER

(From General Headquarters Summary)

The following order issued by Ludendorff emphasizes the importance attached by the enemy to strict signal discipline:

C. G. S. OF THE FIELD ARMY.

Ia/Ic Nr. 5798 op.

General Headquarters, December 12, 1917.

From a map issued by the British Intelligence Service, captured at Cambrai, it appears that the enemy was completely informed regarding the distribution of our forces in the line and the divisions which had been withdrawn. On the other hand, he was almost completely in the dark regarding the divisions newly brought into back areas of the army.

Judging by the military situation at that time, it is to be supposed that the enemy obtained part of his information from prisoners' statements. The larger part, however, he undoubtedly obtained from his Intercepting Service.

The opinion has been repeatedly expressed by the troops that the enemy, during major operations, would not be able to make use of his Intercepting Service.

This opinion must be vigorously combated.

The enemy, and particularly the British, installs his mobile intercepting stations even under the most difficult conditions.

The fact that our signal discipline frequently is completely wanting, particularly on battle fronts, plays directly into the hands of the enemy's Intelligence. The fighting troops must understand the necessity for this discipline, otherwise there is grave danger that the enemy will prematurely learn our intentions, which are calculated on surprise, and will be able to take counter-measures accordingly.

(Signed) LUDENDORFF.

GERMAN ARTILLERY TACTICS

The following is an extract from a captured document, issued on May 30, 1918, by the 29th Artillery Command (108th Division) :

“Counter-battery work is only profitable when the enemy’s detachments are actually serving their guns. During a long battle, when the enemy is obliged to fight his guns and to replenish ammunition, destructive fire (as well as gas concentrations) is to a certain extent effective. A hostile battery will be far more damaged by a short, sharp, accurate concentration than by continuous and deliberate fire for effect, during which the personnel has time either to leave the position or to take refuge in dug-outs.

“The enemy’s counter-battery work has recently given proofs of this; for example, a short concentration of twenty rounds, directed against one of the heavier howitzer batteries of the division, put out of action three of its pieces, three men were wounded and an ammunition dump was destroyed. On the other hand, a deliberate shot directed against another battery had no effect, although 1,500 rounds were expended and the shooting was good.

“It is therefore proposed, by the aid of aeroplanes, survey sections and balloons, to carry out ranging on a definite system whereby our own batteries are to register one hostile battery. Should any hostile battery of that type then become troublesome (or for other reasons), we can at once concentrate the fire (H. E. or gas) of several of our own batteries on the battery registered. For the rapid execution of this order, it is essential that the telephone system of the survey sections and balloons be constructed of better material than is now available.

“Traffic centers, camps, rest billets, etc., must be registered in the same way, with the help of observation groups, balloons and aeroplanes, so that at any moment well-directed concentrations can be put down on them. Until batteries are registered, concentrations must be carried out by map shooting. Against points which the enemy must constantly use, persistent, harassing fire with single rounds is considered very useful.

“Fleeting targets and other remunerative targets are to be engaged by batteries independently.”

TRANSLATION OF A GERMAN DOCUMENT

WYTSCHAETE GROUP,
Section Ic.

July, 1918.

INSTRUCTIONS AND RULES OF GUIDANCE FOR THE CONDUCT OF EVERY GERMAN SOLDIER WHO IS TAKEN PRISONER

(Not to be taken into the Front Line.)

To be issued to the Rank and File by Companies for perusal, then collected again and filed by Regimental Staffs for occasional re-issue and collection

For a man to allow himself to be taken prisoner by the enemy without having defended himself to the utmost is a dishonourable act equivalent to treachery.

Capture at the hands of our inhuman foes, in view of their unexampled brutality of treatment, which is now proved beyond question in so large a number of cases, merely means being slowly tortured to death.

Should, however, a man be captured in spite of all his bravery and without its being his fault, even then the soldier still has sacred duties towards his comrades, towards his Commander-in-Chief to whom he took the oath of fealty, and towards his country. It is an easy duty for him to fulfil; he has only to preserve in his captivity the same courage which he has so often shown in the face of the enemy. The first thing suggested to prisoners in the enemy's camp, after their confidence has been gained by stimulating drinks and the best of fare, is nothing less than the betrayal of their country. Afterwards, when the object is attained, follows the usual meagre prisoners' fare and hard work, with the most brutal treatment.

A prisoner is submitted to an examination in which, by cleverly framed questions, insincere promises, or even by threats of every kind, attempts are made to cause him to give away military secrets, such as the order of battle, the strength with which a front is held, intentions and plans for attack, measures for defence, concentrations or movements of troops, the exact condition of his own unit, strength of units, events taking place behind the front and in Germany, rest billets of his comrades and other matters.

It is regrettable that this war has provided many instances where the statements of a man without honour, which unfortunately have often been only too accurate, have been proved to have had disastrous effects for his own comrades. How many brave soldiers have lost their lives through this cause?

The success of our attacks and enterprises is also imperilled in this way, and the successful issue of the war may thus be to a great extent jeopardized, and the whole Fatherland receive the gravest injury.

It is just now, at the decisive point of the final struggle, that every soldier must feel more than ever the shame and infamy of such unprincipled conduct.

Again and again do prisoners captured by us give confirmation of the fact that those German soldiers, no matter to which State they belong, who allow themselves to be pressed under examination into making all kinds of statements, in the idea that they will receive better treatment, have had afterwards a much harder time than those who refused to say anything. For even among our enemies, the soldier who consciously betrays his country and puts his own comrades in danger ranks as a man without honour.

On the other hand, even the enemy invariably respects the German soldier who remains steadfast and refuses to make statements, even in the face of threats, or by a clever answer makes from the start all further questioning useless. Thus, Private Wiegand, of the 3rd Company, 60th Infantry Regiment, who pleaded his soldier's oath and refused to make any statements, received full recognition in the Army Orders of the enemy.*

*NOTE BY G.S.I.—Further reference to this incident is contained in the following extract from an order issued by the Second German Army on 16-4-18:—

“2. Amongst the documents captured from the enemy, there is a report, dated 10th

August, 1917, of the examination of Private Wiegand, 3rd Company, 60th Infantry Regiment, 121st Division, which, literally translated, runs as follows:

'The prisoner, a Roman Catholic, stated that on entering the German Army he had taken an oath that, in the event of his being taken prisoner, he would give no information of any kind whatsoever which might endanger the safety of his comrades. His attitude commanded respect and is completely in accordance with the best traditions of military honour. As a matter of fact, no information of any kind could be obtained from the prisoner, who is 19 years of age.'

"This splendid example of soldierly conduct under imprisonment should be published to the troops, especially as several other records, also captured from the enemy, concerning the examination of German prisoners, contain precisely such statements (i. g., as to billets for troops, battle H.Q., communication trenches, etc.) which are calculated to endanger the lives of comrades in a high degree.

"In view of the above-cited example, it should be continuously impressed upon troops that under examination only the name, and nothing further, need be given to the enemy, and that a prisoner who declines to make any further statement not only does not render his fate worse, but on the contrary exacts respect from the enemy."

If questions are asked about military or other dangerous subjects, there are many answers by which a man can escape further questions or at any rate parry them, e.g.:—

"Only joined the unit a few days ago as a reinforcement."

"Just back from leave."

"Have been sick in quarters, or have just come out of hospital a few days ago and therefore have no information."

"Was on special duty (forestry, collieries, road construction, production of trench materials, etc.)."

"Accommodation under canvas in a wood, the name and exact location of which I cannot give. Have observed nothing there. Have seen no other troops beyond men of the detachment, or any artillery positions; have seen no transport to or from batteries or single guns, or movements of troops."

If further questions are asked, always repeat the same answer: "I was not there": "I do not know": "Am not acquainted with the sector": "Do not know the flanking units": "Have seen no artillery, as visiting artillery positions is strictly forbidden": "Do not know the positions of sentries or machine guns, or their number": "Know of no plans for attack": "Know nothing of the relief of the Division": "Do not know the lines of approach to and departure from the position, as I went in at night": "No work of any consequence in progress in the trenches or behind the front": "Trenches, rations and moral good."

It is naturally no less important to be circumspect in conversation with countrymen or fellow-prisoners in the camp later on, and not to tell them the opposite story to that told shortly before at the cross-examination.

Never forget that a prisoner is subject to continual observation and eavesdropping. In many cases, he is even pumped without being aware of the fact by confidential agents (his own countrymen, who have taken on themselves this despicable rôle). Further, it is of the greatest im- portance that every soldier should burn all letters and other written communications immediately after he has read them; by so doing, he renders a great service to himself and to his country. Should he have any special interest in these letters, he can send them home again or tie them up in a parcel and hand them in to the company orderly room, which provides for their safe keeping.

It will thus be impossible for the enemy to receive or confirm any information by means of letters, note-books, or more particularly diaries and address-books.

Even long after capture, in the prisoners of war camp behind the front or in the labour camp, there are still dangers of many kinds which threaten the unwary man. Seeming comrades come up to him confidentially and induce him to relate his recent experiences, and ply him with questions; these men are naturally acting under the enemy's orders, according to precise instructions. The seeming comrades are simply members of the enemy forces who speak good German and are put into German uniform (often even in German officer's uniform). Therefore, use the greatest caution in conversation; if you have no previous knowledge of the man in question, give him no information about military affairs, say nothing about home circumstances, and tell him none of your experiences; your lot will not be improved by doing so.

Beware of the so-called senior N.C.O.s of the camp, or of quartermasters and such men apparently Germans, as are responsible for your comfort in camp, and receive complaints and requests.

When talking in camp, dormitory or mess-room, speak only in a low voice, for walls have ears! Everywhere an apparatus is installed by which every word is heard, even through the thickest walls, and is written down and afterwards turned to account. In a word, even a prisoner must never forget that he is a German and that even he can still bear his part in helping to win victory over the enemy.

A warning in conclusion.

Our enemies, in their examinations of prisoners, usually record the name of the man examined; even where this is not the case, we on our side can always ascertain from the records of the platoon, company and regiment, together with the date, hour and place of capture, who the prisoner was who made the statement in question. If such an examination, containing matter damaging to us, falls into our hands, criminal proceedings will invariably be instituted against the man who has forgotten duty and honour; this entails in the first instance great unpleasantness for his relatives (parents, brothers, sisters, wife and child), and apart from this, after the war, the heaviest penalties for himself. There is no question of a remission of punishment or amnesty for such traitors, any more than for deserters. They and their names are branded, their home and property lost for ever!

(Translation ends.)

Note by General Staff

The above documents calls for no comment. It is obvious that the Germans, in their efforts to extract information, will apply to Allied prisoners every one of the methods against which they warn their own soldiers. This German document should be read in conjunction with G.R.O. No. 4791 and S.S. 730, "Leakage of Information through Prisoners of War."

FIELD ORDER
No. 38

1. The line of resistance for the front of this division for tonight will be the line of Vierstraat Switch as now held. Our southern divisional boundary will run road from N.22.a.7.2. to N.26.a.0.6. road inclusive.

2. The first objective for tomorrow, September 1st, will be the general line from N.29. central to Vierstraat. During the move of the right regiment to the first objective the left regiment will remain on its present line and continue the consolidation of the position. The right regiment will commence its advance at 7:00 A. M., keeping in touch with the division on our right, which will move at the same hour.

3. The move will be made with strong patrols sent out well in advance to discover occupied positions and outflank them.

4. The Divisional Artillery will commence at 3:30 A. M. a harassing fire, with short bursts at intervals, from 1,000 to 1,600 yards in front of our line and beyond. Heavy artillery will also take part in this fire, which will continue until shortly after daylight. Patrolling will be actively continued throughout the night on the whole divisional front.

5. The Corps Commander wishes impressed on all concerned the importance of operating on wide fronts and of enveloping tactics in all formations and units down to platoons.

6. The objective above designated will be consolidated when reached, bearing in mind that a further advance during the day by part or all of the division may be ordered from this headquarters.

BY COMMAND OF MAJOR GENERAL O'RYAN:

STANLEY H. FORD,
Chief of Staff.

INTELLIGENCE SUMMARY NUMBER 57

27TH DIVISION

AMERICAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCES

FROM 6 P. M., AUGUST 19TH, TO 6 P. M., AUGUST 20TH

ENEMY ORDER OF BATTLE.—No change to report.

RESERVES.—There are now nineteen Infantry Divisions, fit to fight, in reserve in the western theater, and nine of these divisions are between the sea and the Oise.

HOSTILE ARTILLERY.—Usual shelling of E. Pop Line and vicinity of Abeele. Activity about normal.

AIRCRAFT.—Activity below normal. No reports of bombing in our area.

MISCELLANEOUS.—Enemy Intentions.—Army Summary. From statements made by prisoners of the 4th and 12th Divisions, captured yesterday on the Hazebrouck front, there would appear to be very little indication of the enemy's intention to withdraw from this front.

A few days ago the General commanding the 12th Division (Lieutenant General Lequis) addressed the troops and, after referring to the excellent record of the 12th Division in the past, exhorted them to stand fast and not yield ground to the enemy.

(From the army on our right).

(a) A Sergeant Major of the 189th I. R., 187th Division, captured near Neuf Berquin on the 18th instant, states under special examination that withdrawal to a line in the vicinity of Robermetz is imminent. The exact time is unknown. A screen of about forty men per battalion is to be left in the old position.

(b) A Sergeant of the 392d I. R., 23d Reserve Division, captured near Paradis on the 18th instant, states under special examination that his division was to retire last night (18th–19th) to a line on the river Lawe, near Lestrem, leaving a screen of outposts in the old position.

FIRES AND EXPLOSIONS.—A large column of black smoke was seen in Steenwerck at 5 P. M. yesterday. Night reconnaissances report ten fires in Bailleul and twenty in the area south and southeast of the town between 10 P. M. and 3 A. M.

The army on our right reported that a dusk reconnaissance observed a large fire and explosion at Steenwerck and fires in Bailleul, Laventie, south and east of Merville, and north of Douliou.

GERMAN INSTRUCTIONS REGARDING SECRECY

(Army Summary)

A captured German document entitled "Instructions Regarding Secrecy," issued on March 2, 1918, by General von Quast, commanding the 6th German Army, contains a preface, of which the following is the translation:

Army Headquarters, March 2, 1918.

6TH ARMY

LS/Lg/No. 1765. Secret.

1. The more our order of battle, intentions and troop movements, prior to the coming decisive battles, remain undetermined and obscure to the enemy, the smaller will be our sacrifices and the more certain our success. The enemy's Intelligence Service uses every conceivable means to get information. From the smallest facts, it may draw far-reaching conclusions.

Every soldier in the army, whether at the front or on the lines of communication, must actively cooperate in covering all our preparations with the veil of secrecy, even those which seem to be of no importance. Final success is dependent, in part, on the prudence of each individual man.

2. The object of the following instructions is to ensure secrecy. The necessity for them must be impressed on all ranks by careful instruction. All officers will make it their duty to see that these instructions are closely followed, and supervision will be carried out by airmen, balloon and ground observers, officers at intercepting stations, the censorship staff, and by officers specially detailed by Army, Corps and Divisional Headquarters, and by the G. O. C., L. of C.

3. Breaches of these instructions will be severely dealt with without respect of rank, and particulars of the offense and the punishment will be published in routine orders. Such offenses will be treated as "disobedience of orders"; they will not, therefore, be punishable by death or the severest form of imprisonment, as in the case of "treachery or "betrayal" of military secrets." In cases where such offenses may have disastrous results, a sentence of three years may be awarded, but where disastrous results are actually occasioned, imprisonment for life may be awarded.

(Signed) VON QUAST,

General der Infanterie.

GENERAL WAR NEWS

SECOND ARMY FRONT.—Right division reports that the enemy is withdrawing from the west bank of the Plate Beoque in 36. A.K.6 and E.30. Hostile artillery active in Loire Sector and more active than usual on the Poperinghe front. At 4:30 A. M. enemy put down a barrage on the La Clytte-Scherpenberg Road—no infantry action followed. Captures since noon yesterday, one officer, 183 O. R. Total captures in operations of past two days on Hazebrouck front, nineteen officers, 845 O. R.

FIFTH ARMY FRONT.—Our line has been advanced on a front of about 9,000 yards to a depth of about 1,000 yards, and now runs along the Paradise-Merville Road, Merville (inclusive) and north of Merville to the Plate Beoque. Thirty-one prisoners and four machine guns were captured, one hostile aeroplane destroyed, eight 112-lb. and sixty 25-lb. bombs dropped.

BATTLE FRONT.—Between the Oise and the Aisne French troops advanced the line on a front of fifteen kilometers to a depth of at least two kilometers from south of Carlepont to Pontenoy. The plateau west of Nampouel was captured, and the edge of the ravine of Audignicourt was reached; Neuvron-Vingre was captured, and 1,700 prisoners (including two Battalion Commanders) were taken.

GENERAL.—A mutiny is reported at Brussels, especially among Bavarian troops who refused to obey an order to go to the front. Prussian soldiers were called into the barracks, and seven Bavarians were shot and fifteen wounded.

27TH DIVISION SUMMARY

FOR WEEK ENDING 6 A. M., 26TH AUGUST

HOSTILE ARTILLERY.—The enemy have been fairly active during the week. A heavy harassing fire on our front system was put down, so he is still rather nervous of an offensive on this front. Minor operations by the division on our right may have also influenced his shelling to some extent. The usual places were shelled during the week, which include Artillery Farm, Hallebast Corners, Dickebusch, Millekruisse, Milky Way, Scottish and English Woods, St. Hubertushoek-Hallebast Road, Hallebast-Vierstraat Road.

GAS.—There has also been a marked increase in the use of gas during the latter part of the week. 7.7 cm. Green Cross have been especially a tive on H.35.a.4.9., Scottish Wood and N.3.b.3.6. 10.5 cm. Green Cross shelled N.2.b., H.32.d. A heavy concentration of Blue and Green Cross mixed with H. E. was fired into the area enclosed by H.32.d.5.6., H.33.c.5.5., N.2.c., on the night of 26th-27th August. At the same time, all calibers up to 15 cm. were employed on N.8.b.-N.3.d.

BARRAGES.—On the night of 19th-20th, enemy put down a heavy barrage on the front of the division on our right, extending to our front, especially heavy on N.9.a.-N.8.b.-Millekruisse. The night of 20th-21st the enemy shelled the division on our right; at the same time 10.5.cm. Howitzers were active on H.35.d. and N. to D. At 10:30 P. M., night of 21st-22d, light barrage was put down along the Vyverbeek Valley; at 5 A. M. on the same night, another light barrage was put down along the valley which runs in front of Scherpenberg-Dickebusch Lake line.

MOVEMENT.—During the week a great deal of movement was seen opposite this divisional front, but to a great extent was confined to individual movements. Considerable movement was reported along Cheapside Road, especially at N.5.c.75.60. This movement was seen mostly on the night of the 25th. It might have been a relief taking post. The usual movement around crater in N.24.c. was also noticed. Considerable movement was also seen on the right between Wytschaete-St. Eloi going in the direction of Wytschaete. In the forward area individuals have been seen all along the line, in the majority of cases observing our trenches. In one or two cases officers have been seen with men.

WORK.—Very little work has been observed during the past week. No work of any special importance has been reported. At O.13.a.1.1. to O.13.a.2.6. fresh earth was seen around a line of white tape. It was apparently a new trench being dug.

M. G's.—M. G's have been located at the following places:

N.5.h.85.10.	N.5.d.6.0.	N.6.a.75.80.
N.9.d.95.30.	N.11.a.85.90.	N.15.a.61.43.
N.15.a.78.53.	N.15.b.10.30.	N.15.b.3.7.
N.15.b.25.65.	N.15.b.75.95.	H.36.d.5.0.

T. M's.—T. M's have been located at N.10.b.92.81. and at Siege Farm. A dart machine gun was located at N.16.a.28.82.

MISCELLANEOUS.—During the week it was reported that a dump exploded at about N.22.d. This may be one of the larger dumps in the vicinity of N.22.

GENERAL ATTITUDE.—The enemy appears to be rather nervous and continually on the alert, sending up frequent S. O. S. calls along the line.

BY COMMAND OF MAJOR GENERAL O'RYAN:

STANLEY H. FORD,

Chief of Staff.

First Lieutenant 108th Infantry, D.I.O.

NEWS REPORT

August 27, 1918.

ARRAS FRONT.—We attacked this morning (26th) south of the Scarpe and attack appears to be going well; reports indicate that Orange Hill (about 2,000 yards in front of our line) has been captured.

An enemy counter-attack north of Fampoux made slight progress.

FRENCH FRONT.—Between the Ailette and the Aisne the French made further progress east of Bagneux, and repulsed enemy counter-attacks west of Crecy-au-Mont. Four hundred prisoners were captured.

Fresnoy le Roye has been captured.

BATTLE FRONT.—A very successful attack was carried out yesterday morning east of Arras and all objectives were reached. Further progress was made north and south of the Somme.

The line on the whole battle front now runs from south to north—no change south of Chuignes—thence line runs 2,000 yards northeast of Chuignes, east of Cappy, east of Suzanne, east of Carnoy, east of Montauban, Longueval (inclusive), Delville and High Wood (inclusive), Seven Dials (northwest of Geaudecourt), Luisenhof Farm (south of Ligny Thillois), east of Le Barque south of Bapaume, east of Avesnes, north and northeast of Bapaume, east of Favreuil, 1,000 yards north of Beugnatre, 2,000 yards west of Vraucourt, Mory Copse, east of St. Leger, through Croiselles, Henin Hill, Heninel (inclusive), Wancourt, Guemappe, east of Monchy, across Scarpe to western edge of Roeux, Roeux Station, western edge of Garvelle, Bailleul.

Prisoners taken by 3d Army to date, 14,500 (since 21st).

LATER

British have taken Longueval-Delville and High Woods and are advancing to Arrow Head Copse. They have passed road northeast from High Wood, and have taken Luisenhof Farm. Enemy still in Thillois and in strength in and east of Bapaume. Attack launched on Bapaume by New Zealanders at 6 P. M. (26th)—no news yet. British troops have captured Hindenburg Line on Henin Hill and moving towards Fontaine les Croisilles.

8 A. M., 27th.—1st Army situation report: Greenland Hill reported captured and line runs from there northwest to western outskirts of Gavrelle, which is reported clear of enemy.

7:45 A. M.—4th Army situation report: Our line is advanced to Fontaine les Cappy, northeastwards to Virgin Wood to southern bank of the Somme. North of Somme we have taken Vaux Wood.

8 A. M.—3d Army reports: We have captured Beugnatre, but strong enemy counter-attacks forced us to withdraw from Luisenhof Farm and to the western outskirts of Longueval.

11 A. M.—3d Army reports: 5th Corps have recaptured Longueval and Delville Wood and have taken Flers. Further north 62d Division have captured Sugar Factory northwest of Vraucourt and guards have reached Ecoust-Croissilles Road midway between the two places.

10:40 A. M.—4th Army reports: Our troops have further advanced and have taken Bois de la Bache, and north of the Somme have taken Bois de Vaux, Fargny Wood, Faviere Wood, Bernafay Wood and Trenes Wood. Prisoners estimated at 500.

WEATHER FORECAST.—Forecast wind west to southwest, ten to 15 miles per hour, probably increasing later from southwest. Fair at first. Moderate temperature becoming cloudy or overcast, with rain probable later. Visibility good; temperature, day, 65 to 70; night, 55.

AMERICAN OFFICIAL COMMUNIQUE. —In a local action west of Fismes our troops gained ground and captured prisoners. In Alsace a hostile raid was repulsed with losses.

AIR COMMUNIQUE.—On Saturday, seven hostile aeroplanes were driven down by us, and five German balloons were shot down in flames. Ten of our own machines are missing.

During the twenty-four hours we dropped forty-three tons of bombs, Valenciennes and Cambrai Railway connections being attacked among other targets.

All our night-flying aeroplanes returned safely. We succeeded in destroying two enemy night-bombing machines.

Our machines successfully attacked a hostile aerodrome and the railway stations at Bettemburg and Luxemburg. Excellent results were obtained on the railroad stations.

A Turkish official communique states:

“Two enemy air squadrons attacked Constantinople on Wednesday night.”

GENERAL NEWS.—Unofficial advices state that Germany, in reply to Spain's note protesting against the destruction of Spanish merchant ships by U-boats, will construe the note as an unfriendly act.

Moscow dispatches announce that anti-Bolshevik sentiment is growing.

Letters from the Eastern States to the front-line trenches in seventeen days—this is a promise from Congressman Isaac Siegel, who has been in France the past month investigating the delays in the delivery of mail matter to American soldiers in France.

Mr. Newton D. Baker, the Secretary of War, has received a cablegram from General Pershing announcing that since the commencement of August a squadron of eighteen aeroplanes of a new type and provided with Liberty motors has succeeded in effecting several successful reconnoitering expeditions over the rear of the German lines.

Senator Jacob H. Gallinger has died in hospital at Franklin, N. H., after an illness of several weeks, due to a complication of diseases, at the age of eighty-one. He was the oldest member of the Senate.

27TH DIVISION, DAILY SUMMARY OF INTELLIGENCE No. 6
FROM 6 A. M. 28TH, TO 6 A. M. 29TH AUGUST, 1918

PATROLS.—One N. C. O. and three O. R. left trench at N.5.c.4.6. Saw enemy patrol of three men at about N.5.c.60.65 going north. Heard working party—direction of N.11.b.85.90 (NAWE).

One N. C. O. and five O. R. left trench N.5.b.60.03., found ground immediately in front full of shell holes and old wire (NAWE).

One officer and seven O. R. left trench H.36.a.63.12—reconnoitered ground to N.6.a.9.6. and found ground covered by short grass. Patrol reported depression sufficient to furnish cover for at least one patrol (NAWE).

One officer and three O. R. left trench H.36.c.85.45—patrol moved parallel to railroad track to H.36.d.17.21. Patrol reports ground covered with high grass and shell holes, furnishing good cover. Also found two narrow bolts of barbed wire (not shown on map) in bad condition. One strand in good condition, but very low (NAWE).

One N. C. O. and 10 O. R. left trench N.5.c.35.60., moved east to Cheapside Road. Located sniper and M. G. in tin huts N.5.c.85.60. Undergrowth of about one and one-half feet over all area covered (NAWE).

One patrol left trench on road at N.10.b.20.85. and worked down old C.T. at N.10.b.20.75. and found it being used as light machine gun post (NARE).

ENEMY OPERATIONS—Artillery.—Usual shelling of H.26.a., b. and c. about 75—4.2 being reported from this area. Slight shelling in vicinity of H.2.8.b., Vijverhoek-Dickbusch Lake region, Hallebast Farm and La Clytte Road. Usual shelling of front line system. Ridgewood, Scottish Wood and Hallebast. Vicinity of Gretna Cross continually shelled during evening and early morning, and intermittent shelling of woods in N.1.central.

M. G's.—M. G's. seem more active on left of this front. During the night a machine gun at N.5.c.2.2. was silenced by our rifle grenades.

T. M's.—Very slight activity on right. Active from vicinity of N.6.b.0.4. during the night. Active also in Ridgewood on our line N.5.a.

Aircraft.—Activity below normal.

ENEMY OBSERVATION.—M. G's.—M. G's. located at H.36.d.2.2., N.6.a.85.65., N.5.c.8.6 (NAWE).

TO BE DESTROYED WHEN FINISHED WITH
27TH DIVISION DAILY SUMMARY OF INTELLIGENCE No. 9

From 6 A. M., August 30th, to 6 A. M., September 1st

OPERATIONS.—Information having been received that the enemy was about to retire from the Ypres salient, patrols were pushed forward during the morning until objectives on a line approximately Rossignol Wood, Vierstraat, N.5.a.0.5. All objectives were reached. Twenty-three prisoners passed through division cage. In addition, two O. R., wounded, were evacuated through R. A. S., one having died since.

IDENTIFICATIONS.—

NAWE—153 I. R. , 8th Division, north of Vierstraat.....	11 O. R.
—459 I. R. , 236th Division, N.6.a. &c.....	5 O. R.
NARE 93 I. R. , 8th Division, N.15.d.....	7 O. R.

The prisoners of the 153d I. R. were from the 8th Company and stated that orders for withdrawal were given three days ago; that the withdrawal would extend back to good sound ground on Messines Ridge where entrenchments were being prepared. Prisoners further state that it is generally understood that Kemmel had been mined in anticipation of our occupancy.

Prisoners of the 459th I. R. belong to the 6th Company. State that company has been in line for three days and expect relief in about three days more. It has been expected that the division would be relieved. Prisoners stated they did not know by what division relief would be made, although one prisoner stated he understood the trenches would be taken over by Bavarians. Prisoners all agreed that the strength of company was about forty men. Further stated that orders for withdrawal have been treated with unusual secrecy. One prisoner stated reason for withdrawal was that they were too weak to hold the line as it was at present. Left boundary of division was said to be at Voormezele and right boundary of the regiment was at Xillebeke Lake. Prisoners confirmed order of battle from south to north:

459th I. R. ,	458th I. R. ,	457th I. R.
----------------------	----------------------	--------------------

Prisoners of 93d I. R. confirm the statement that order of withdrawal was given about three days ago and that M. G. groups were to be left forward as screens and that withdrawal would be to the first heights back of Mt. Kemmel. One wounded prisoner of 93d I. R. was told by a Lieutenant of his company that there would be a retirement to Messines, this information also having appeared in a division order. He claims that a quantity of M. G.'s—at least thirty he knew of personally—would hold Wytshaete Ridge while the main body retired. He stated emplacements had already been constructed. These prisoners also said that Bavarians are still in back of them.

SELF-LOADING PISTOLS.—A prisoner of the 459th I. R. states that in each M. G. group there were eight men, and two members who did the sighting and firing, carry Selsbstladepistolen (self-loading pistols), carrying thirty-eight shots, while the others and ammunition carriers attached, carry carbines instead of rifles.

ENEMY OPERATIONS.—T. M's.—Very little activity reported.

Artillery:

Time	Rounds	Caliber	Location

27TH DIVISION DAILY SUMMARY OF INTELLIGENCE No. 10

From 6 A. M., 1st, to 6 A. M., 2d Sept., 1918

OUR OPERATIONS.—On the morning of September 1st our troops held line running approximately O.1.a.2.9., N.6.c.4.5., N.5.d.7.3., Vierstraat, Rossignol Wood. During the day and evening, advances were made towards the new objectives. On the left the objectives were reached and the line now runs along road from o.1.a.3.0. to o.1.c.25.05. South of that, our troops had advanced about 300 yards east of Vierstraat and along portions of Chinese Trench to the south.

Patrols were pushed forward towards Petit Bois. The enemy reported to be holding Petit Bois in strength and their line was reported as approximately Plateau Farm—directly south through trenches through Petit Bois and southwest to N.24.c.4.4.

IDENTIFICATIONS

(NAWE) 459th I.R., 236th Div. (normal) 1 O.R., wounded.

ENEMY OPERATIONS.) Artillery:

Time	Rounds	Caliber	Location
7:10 P. M.	8	5.9	H.27.d.7.3
3:00 P. M. to 3:45 P. M.	50	5.9 and 8	H.27.b
7:30 P. M.	2	4.2	N.11.a.5. 8
12:00 N. to 12:10 P. M.	10	4.2	H.34.b.3.9
2:30 P. M.	10	4.2	Burgomaster Farm
7:30 P. M.	10	5.9	H.28.d
9:25 A. M.	9	4.2	N.5.c

Area H.28.c and H.34.a was shelled at intervals from 9:50 A. M. to 11:30 A. M. and from 1:15 P. M. to 7:28 P. M. with 4.2s. During the day our new positions along York Road were shelled at intervals. Extremely active during the early morning on Scottish Wood and Bristol Camp. At 3 P. M. several 4.2 fell near our right battalion headquarters and Dickebusch Road in H.28.d. Areas H.21.c. and d. were heavily shelled from 3:15 P. M. to 4 P. M., approximately fifty shells counted.

M.G.'s.—Enemy M.G.'s active along the line of advance. This activity was from a screen of M.G.'s left behind to hinder the advance of our troops.

T.M.'s.—No activity reported.

Aircraft.—One E. A. flew over Dickebusch Lake at 11 A. M., going southeast. E. A. active over area H.20.a. during the morning, flying at a very great height.

OBSERVATION OF THE ENEMY.—M. G.'s and T.M.'s. Emplacements observed were directly in front of our advance and were dealt with by our troops. M. M.G.'s or T.M.'S on new line to be established, yet reported.

MOVEMENT.—Party of eight seen on road near Wyttschaete Church—disappeared over the ridge. Considerable movement was seen in the vicinity of Wyttschaete Church during the day. A party of eleven men were observed coming over ridge near Wyttschaete Church, walked along ridge and disappeared in dug-outs at o.19.a.4.2. Several were carrying what appeared to be a machine gun over their shoulders. From 2 P. M. to 7 P. M., movement in pairs was observed at o.19.c area. From 7:30 P. M. to 7:55 P. M., thirty-two men, wearing full equipment, appeared at N.24.b.9.2. and disappeared over Vierstratt Ridge at approximately N.24.d. 5.4. They moved in pairs at about 100 yards distance.

BALLOONS.—Twelve balloons were reported on our division front during the day.

GERMAN TRAPS AND MINES

(Supersedes Ia/31737, "German Ruses.")

1. ABANDONED POSITIONS.

Attention is drawn to the practice of the enemy, when making an organized withdrawal, of leaving certain positions, dug-outs, dumps, etc., mined, the firing arrangements being such that the charges are exploded after the position has been occupied by our own troops (see S.S. 163, "Hints on Reconnaissance for Mines, etc.").

2. LIKELY TRAPS.

The following should be regarded with special suspicion until investigation has been carried out by experts:

Attractively furnished dug-outs.

Dug-outs under roads.

Single houses left standing when others have been destroyed.

All new work, or new trench or other equipment, in the midst of weather-worn ground or articles, e. g., recently disturbed soil, new metalling, new trench boards.

Souvenirs, such as helmets, shells, badges and bayonets, left in conspicuous positions.

Articles sticking in the ground, such as stick grenades or shovels.

3. METHODS OF FIRING.

German traps and mines may be classified under the following headings according to the nature of their firing arrangements.

(a) Delay action fuzes.—The action of these fuzes depends on the eating away of a wire by a corrosive solution. The "delay" may be any time up to one month. Two patterns are known:—

(i.) Automatic detonating device.—This device differs from any other German fuze and can be easily identified. It is employed with bulk charges and placed in the explosive. For description see S.S. 733, "German Automatic Detonating Device."

(ii.) 1917 long delay action fuze.—This is a counterfeit 1904 pattern German gun fuze and can only be identified by the fact that the gaine is painted red, but when screwed into a shell is indistinguishable from the ordinary fuze. For description see S.S. 732, "1917 German Long Delay Action Fuze for Demolition Purposes." It is primarily intended for destroying guns and ammunition. The 1904 fuze is principally used with 10-cm., 13-cm. and 15-cm. gun shell and with 15-cm. and 21-cm. howitzer shell. It is not used with any field artillery shell (see S.S. 306, "Notes on German Fuzes," page 68).

These fuzes are absolutely silent and require no connections outside the charge. New work or signs of the ground having been disturbed will probably be the only indications of their presence.

(b) Clockwork devices.—These are of complicated manufacture and will probably be rarely met with. They may possibly be discovered by the ticking.

(c) Percussion devices.—The percussion device may be set in action by treading or pressing on a board hidden under earth or by pressing against a railing, etc., when a safety pin will be withdrawn, releasing the spring of a spring lighter, or a striker may be driven into a detonator.

(d) Electrical devices.—Electrical devices depend on a pull on a wire or pressure on some article completing a contact.

(e) Mines fired electrically from a distance.—This method is chiefly applicable to bridges and billets used as H.Q.s, where telephone wires can be utilized for the firing circuit. These mines can be fired at will by the enemy at any moment so long as the wires remain uncut.

As a rule, suspicious wires should be cut at once, but care must be taken not to cut taut wires (these may be found mixed up with slack telephone wires), as they may be simply supporting a weight, which, if the wire is severed, will drop on and ignite a detonator. Wires, if cut, should not be pulled out, but the cut ends should be turned away from each other and carefully marked, both ends of each wire alike, so that experts when they arrive can investigate, trace and remove the charge.

1. Dug-outs.

4. TYPICAL EXAMPLES OF TRAPS.

(a) A shovel stuck into the side of a dug-out between the timbers; when the shovel is removed, it pulls a wire which explodes a mine.

(b) A French stove with stove-pipe dismantled; one wire attached to leg of stove and the other to stove-pipe near by. When the stove-pipe is picked up, a mine is fired.

(c) A charge of 2,000 lbs. Perdite in a seemingly dead end of the gallery of a dug-out and connected to ordinary telephone wires. Face of the gallery made up to look like undisturbed ground with pick marks on it.

(d) A window weight suspended by fine cord stretched across the entrance of a dug-out. On a man entering, the cord would be broken and the weight fall into a box of detonators connected to a charge of explosive.

(e) Cap badges, artificial flowers, bits of evergreen, pieces of shell and other articles likely to be picked up as "souvenirs," left in dug-outs and attached to charges.

(f) Hand rails on the steps of dug-outs attached by wires to a charge.

(g) One of the timbers on the side of the staircase of a dug-out was noticed to be projecting slightly inwards at the top, though it was in place at the bottom. A nail had been driven through its lower end, the point of which was placed against the cap of the cartridge, which had a charge of explosive behind it. Thus, if driven home, the nail would have struck the cap and exploded the charge.

(h) In dug-outs constructed with casing, mortice and tenon jointed, the position of the charge is sometimes indicated by the wedging of the timber where the sides have been cut and removed.

(i) A dozen stick grenades to be fired by means of a wire attached to a sandbag, which has to be moved before the door of a dug-out can be opened.

(j) Charge in a chimney, with length of fuze attached, which would be ignited if a fire were lighted.

(k) Detonators in lumps of coal.

(l) Book on table, with wire down leg of table. Charge would fire if book were lifted.

(m) A blown-in entrance to a dug-out is not always a safety sign. Charges may be concealed in the unblown portions. They are generally crudely arranged contact charges.

(n) A branch placed over the entrance of a dug-out as if to conceal it; on moving the branch an explosion was caused two minutes later, the dug-out being completely destroyed.

(o) A false step in the stairway of a dug-out of thin planking making contact when trodden on.

2. Trenches.

(a) Hand grenades liable to explode when kicked or trodden on.

(b) Trench boards (new in every case) on fire-step, which detonated grenades when trodden on.

(c) Barricades interlaced with wires attached to stick grenades.

(d) Hand grenades buried in a trench, with telephone wire just showing attached to the grenade.

3. Roads.

(a) A cavity hollowed out under the road, leaving only the crust. An 8-inch shell placed in the cavity with a contact fuze arranged to fire at the slightest pressure.

(b) An automatic box-mine, designed apparently to explode under a weight greater than that of a man, has been found on a road. The box was a few inches below the surface of the road.

4. Stables.

Grenade placed in a hole in the floor of a stable and covered with a brick, the whole being concealed under straw. Any pressure on the brick causes the grenade to explode.

SHORT NOTES ON THE DIVISIONS OPPOSITE
THE CORPS FRONT

2D GUARD DIVISION.—During June of this year the 2d Guard Division was in the Faverolles area. It was reported in line west of Fismes on 16th August, and reinforced the front at Bernafay Wood on the 27th of August. It has been continuously on this battle front since then except for one short period of fourteen days in reserve. The division has suffered heavily during this period and is thoroughly exhausted, and an early relief is expected. The division has been recently reinforced by the 202d R. I. R., formerly 43d Reserve Division, now disbanded.

232D DIVISION.—The 232d Division is composed of men from East Prussia and Altenstein. This division was in the line in the Chambrey area during June and in July appeared north of Verdun. It was first identified near Clery on this battle front on August 29, 1918, and except for a period of twelve days in reserve has taken part in the fighting ever since. It has likewise suffered heavy losses and is undoubtedly tired and demoralized.

121ST DIVISION.—This division is recruited from the Rhineland, Westphalia and Silesia. During the spring it was in the Woevre area and on May 3d was identified at Dranoutre. It remained in the Locre area till July 7th. After a period of rest it reinforced this battle front in the Rouy area. Save for one period of five days' rest, it has been involved in heavy fighting ever since, and has suffered heavy casualties. The division must be considered very exhausted.

185TH DIVISION.—This division is composed of Rhinelanders, and has recently received the 258 R. I. R. (the 75th Reserve Division has been disbanded) as a reinforcement. During May of this year, it was in the Neuville-Vitresse area and was withdrawn very weak on August 2d-3d. It reinforced the battle front here on August 15th in the Herleville area, and except for sixteen days' rest has been continuously in the line. This division has suffered extremely heavy casualties and is too exhausted for much resistance.

75TH RESERVE DIVISION.—This division was on the Montdidier-Noyon front and was withdrawn on 22d June. After a rest, it reappeared again at Courcelles on 3d July. It took part in the retirement from Montdidier, and with the exception of two short rests, has been continuously engaged ever since. This division must also be considered exhausted.

AUSTRALIAN CORPS—(Intelligence).

27TH DIVISION DAILY SUMMARY OF INTELLIGENCE NO. 1

From 6 A. M., September 25, to 6 A. M., September 26, 1918

PATROLS.—Patrols active during the night. No enemy encountered.

ENEMY OPERATIONS.—Artillery.—Active. Forward areas received considerable attention during early morning. Particularly active on F.10.d.6.2., F.14.b.9.1., Doleful Post, F.23.a., F.29.b., F.28.d., L.3.b. and 4.a.

T. M's. and M. G's.—Active. Considerable harrassing machine-gun fire on all our forward areas. Machine guns located at A.13.b.3.4., A.16.b.5.1., A.13.d.2.1.

Gas.—Blue Cross and Yellow Cross shells on entire sector during day and night.

Patrols.—None observed or encountered.

AIRCRAFT.—Five E. A. over our lines in the afternoon attacked by our scouts and one E. A. crashed. During the night bombing planes were active over back areas.

OBSERVATION OF THE ENEMY.—M. G's.—Located at A.13.b.3.4., A.16.b.5.1., A.13.d.2.1., A.24.b.3.4.

Attitude.—Active on the divisional front. A barrage was put down on our front system during the morning in F.29.d. and extended to L.6.

Movements.—None observed or reported owing to bad visibility.

GENERAL.—Mining in German Back Areas.—The following reports on mining in German back areas have been received:

Le Catelet.—Mines have been placed in houses and "La Route Nationale" is mined 1 km. south of Le Catelet Church.

All the wells in the localities neighboring on St. Quentin have also been mined.

27TH DIVISION DAILY SUMMARY OF INTELLIGENCE No. A-6

From 6 A. M., October 16, to 6 P. M., October 17, 1918

OUR OPERATIONS.—Under cover of a barrage we attacked today with tanks on a front of 2,500 yards and succeeded in advancing our line approximately 3,000 yards in the face of stiff resistance. Line runs cross roads Q.23.d.9.4., Q.30.central to Arbre Guernon (inclusive). We have taken the following places: Arbre Guernon, Bandival Farm and Advantage Farm, St. Souplet is now entirely in our hands. Twelve hundred prisoners, including twenty-three officers, many machine guns and a large quantity of material fell into our hands.

ENEMY ORDER OF BATTLE.—North to south: 243d Division, 204th Division, 3d Naval Division, 24th Division.

NOTE.—It is impossible to give the enemy order of battle by regiments, owing to the shifting of enemy units and disorganization behind his lines.

ORDERS

No. 79

The following administration instructions are issued in connection with the entrainment of the division (less Artillery and 1st Battalion Engineers) for move by rail to a new area.

1. ENTRAINING STATIONS.—Proven, Heidebeke and Waayenburg and the approaches to them are shown on the attached map.

2. COMPOSITIONS OF TRAINS.—All trains consist of one officer's carriage, thirty box cars and seventeen flat cars.

Each flat car will take an average of four axles, except in the case of G. S. wagons, in which case the number varies according to the particular type of flat car.

Each box car will take six H. D. or eight L. D. horses (or mules) or forty men.

No personnel or stores will be allowed in the cabooses at each end of the train or on the roofs of the cars.

3. ADVANCED PARTIES.—Billeting parties for each regiment will proceed on the 1st train by which any troops of their regiment move. Billeting parties for Divisional Troops and Brigade Machine Gun Battalions will proceed by the first train leaving Heidebeke. These parties will consist of one officer and one N. C. O. per Battalion of Infantry, Machine Gun, Engineers, Signal Troops and Military Police, and one N. C. O. from Division Headquarters Troop, each Brigade Headquarters and Headquarters, 102d Engineers.

On detrainment the above parties will report to the Divisional Detraining Officer for instructions on duty at the station.

4. DETRAINING OFFICERS.—(a) C. G. 53d Brigade will detail two officers (one not below rank of Captain) to act as Divisional Detraining Officers.

These officers will proceed by first train from Waayenburg and will take up duty at detraining station (Mondicourt).

(b) C. G. 54th Brigade will detail two officers (one not below rank of Captain) to act as Divisional Detraining Officers.

These officers will proceed by first train from Proven and will take up duty at detraining station (Doullens).

(c) Commanding Officer, Military Police, will detail Captain Ackerley, 102d Military Police, to act as Divisional Detraining Officer. He will be assisted by one Lieutenant to be detailed by C. O. 104th Machine Gun Battalion.

These officers will proceed by first train from Heidebeke and will take up duty at detraining station (Candas).

The names and organizations (except where stated) of the officers selected for the above duty will be notified to G-1 as soon as possible.

Special instructions regarding the detrainment of organizations and details connected with their moves from detraining stations will be notified to these officers by Staff Officer from Division Headquarters in charge of detrainment.

Detraining Officers will assist R. T. O. during detrainment and will inform officers commanding trains of procedure on detrainment as notified them by Staff Officer in charge of detrainment.

5. UNLOADING PARTIES.—(a) C. O. 107th Infantry Regiment will detail one company of 1st Battalion for duty at detraining station.

(b) C. O. 108th Infantry Regiment will detail one company of 1st Battalion for duty at detraining station.

(c) C. O. 102d Engineer Regiment will detail one company of 2d Battalion Engineer Regiment for duty at detraining station.

As soon as their respective battalions arrive at detraining points those companies will be detached to report to the Divisional Detraining Officer for duty.

They will unload all trains arriving at their respective stations and will be accommodated in the vicinity of the station and will rejoin their battalions as soon as possible after all property and stores are clear of the station.

Officers commanding unloading companies will arrange to work their companies in relief and according to requirements of Detraining Officers.

6. ENTRAINING OFFICERS.—(a) C. G. 53d Brigade will detail two officers (one not below rank of Captain) to act as Divisional Entraining Officers at Waayenburg.

(b) C. G. 54th Brigade will detail two officers (one not below rank of Captain) to act as Divisional Entraining Officers at Proven.

(c) C. O. 106th Machine Gun Battalion will detail one officer of the rank of Captain to act as Divisional Entraining Officer at Heidebeke.

C. O. Headquarters Troop will detail one officer for similar duty.

Entraining Officers will take up duty four hours before the first trains are due to leave their respective stations.

The names and organizations of the officers selected for the above duty will be notified to G-1 as soon as possible.

Entraining Officers will assist the R. T. O's in the entrainment of units. They will travel by the last train from their respective stations.

7. LOADING PARTIES.—(a) C. O. 107th Infantry Regiment will detail one company from 1st Battalion for duty at Proven.

(b) C. O. 108th Infantry Regiment will detail one company from 1st Battalion for duty at Waayenburg.

(c) C. O. 102d Engineer Regiment will detail one company from 2d Battalion Engineers for duty at Heidebeke.

The above companies (accompanied by their respective cooks and teams) will report to Divisional Entraining Officers at the above stations four hours before first train is due to leave their station.

They will be quartered in the vicinity of the stations, will be responsible for loading all trains and will proceed by the last train from their respective stations.

Officers commanding loading companies will arrange to work their companies in reliefs and according to requirements of Entraining Officers.

8. ENTRAINMENT.—Organizations will entrain according to the attached table. Dismounted personnel of units will arrive at entraining point one hour before their train is due to depart. Canteens will be full on entrainment.

9. TRANSPORT.—All horse-drawn transport will move by rail with its organization except where otherwise stated.

(a) Baggage and supply wagons will accompany the units they serve.

(b) Water carts will entrain full.

(c) Breast ropes will be provided by units for animals. All animals will be watered before entraining.

(d) All vehicles will be packed with their normal loads.

10. MOTOR TRANSPORT.—M. T. vehicles, including ambulance cars, will proceed by road under orders to be issued separately by M. T. O.

11. EXTRA BAGGAGE, ETC.—All property such as overcoats, blankets, etc., will be loaded in box cars in the same train as the unit to which it belongs.

Arrangements for the transportation of these stores by lorry to entraining stations will be notified later.

12. SUPPLIES.—All units will double refill on 3d inst., i.e., will draw supplies for consumption 4th and 5th.

Supplies for consumption 6th inst., for units which entrain at or before 1 p. m. on 4th inst., will be drawn from R. S. O. Esquelbeeq by M. T. on 3d inst. and issued to those units as notified by Division Q. M.

Units entraining after 1 p. m. 4th inst. will refill on morning of 4th inst. for consumption 6th inst from present refilling points.

13. POLICE.—C. O. 102d Military Police will detail a squad of Military Police for duty at each entraining station. These men will report to the Divisional Entraining Officer four hours before the first train is due to leave that station. These policemen will be on duty during the entrainment and will proceed by last train from their station.

A similar number of police will be detailed for duty at each detraining station and will proceed by the first train from each of the three stations, reporting for duty to Divisional Detraining Officers at detraining stations on arrival there.

14. TIMES OF TRAINS.—A complete time table will be issued later.

15. Orders for the movement of the 1st Battalion 102d Engineers, point of detrainment and other details will be communicated later.

SECRET ORDERS

No. 92

September 21, 1918.

REFERENCE MAPS: LENS 11, AMIENS 17, ST. QUENTIN 18, I-100,000.

1. The following in connection with operations directed by Field Order No. 44.

2. BILLETS.—Advance parties (one officer per battalion and one non-commissioned officer per company, including interpreters) from all organizations, rationed to include September 24th, will report at G-1 Office, Beauquesne, at 11 A. M., September 22d, for conveyance by four busses to Tincourt, where they will report to representative, III Corps, at R. T. O.'s office of instruction regarding accommodations for their several units. Advance parties will meet incoming troops on arrival and direct them to quarters.

3. AREA STORES.—Tentage or other material issued for use of organizations while at their present stations will be returned, prior to departure therefrom, to the Area Commandant from whom such material was drawn.

4. CONDITION OF QUARTERS.—The usual certificate as to conditions of billets on departure will be obtained and medical officers of units concerned will make an inspection of the locations occupied by their several organizations, to insure that the camp sites and quarters have been thoroughly policed and left in proper sanitary state. All measures necessary to effect such conditions will be taken prior to departure of units.

5. STRENGTH REPORTS.—A memorandum of the strength of commands (officers, enlisted men and animal-drawn transport) will be furnished by Commanding Officers to the Area Commandants concerned on each occasion of entry into or departure from an area by any organization.

6. ANIMAL-DRAWN TRANSPORT.—(a) The G. S. wagons of trains now used for supply purposes will at once return to their organizations.

(b) All animal-drawn transport will move September 22d, under direction of Commander of Trains, in such manner as to converge on Marieux. Head of column will pass Marieux cross roads at 9 P. M., proceeding via Acheux, Albert, Meaulte, Bray-sur-Somme, staging at the last named place. Billets for transport staging at Bray will be obtained from Area Commandant at Bray. First Line Transport and baggage wagons will carry normal loads. Ration wagons will carry only rations and forage for personnel and animals with transport column.

(c) The bicycles of all organizations will accompany column of animal-drawn transport.

(d) On September 23d wagons of animal-drawn transport will be refilled by ration lorries at Bray, in season for column to pass eastern end of Bray at 7 P. M. Route: Cappy-Herbécourt Road, junction 200 yards south of Hem, outskirts of Cléry, Feuillacourt, Mt. St. Quentin, St. Denis. Guides will meet column at St. Denis and direct it to transport lines.

7. RAIL MOVEMENT.—Organization (personnel only) will entrain in accordance with table attached.

Units will arrive at stations one-half hour prior to departure of trains.

An officer from these headquarters will supervise the entrainment.

Probable duration of journey, about twelve hours.

No transport, baggage or equipment other than that worn will be entrained, except dixies necessary for the preparation of hot coffee on arrival at destination.

8. COMPOSITION OF TRAINS.—All trains consist of forty-eight box cars; total capacity, 1,900 all ranks.

9. ENTRAINING STATEMENT.—The Commanding Officer of each unit or part of unit entraining separately will, on arrival at entraining station, hand to the R. T. O. a statement giving the number of officers and men separately.

10. DETRAINMENT.—The Senior Line Officer on each train will be the Train Commander and will see that entrainment is conducted in a prompt and orderly manner as may be directed by the R. T. O.

11. OVERCOATS.—These will be worn.

12. RATIONS for two days will be carried by men.

13. QUARTERS.—On detrainment units will move to Haut Allaines area, for bivouac in areas about Allaines, Driencourt, Longavesnes, Liermont, Aizécourt le Bas, Bois de Gurlu, (Aizécourt le Haut not included).

14. MILITARY POLICE.—The Commanding Officer, Military Police, will detail one squad Military Police at each entraining station (reporting on arrival to R. T. O.) for the preservation of order, traffic control and other general police purposes.

A detail of two squads of Military Police will proceed by the first train leaving this area and will report on arrival at Tincourt to the R. T. O. that place for similar employment.

12. SUPPLY.—(a) Rations for two days will be carried by all men changing stations. Dixies for the preparation of hot coffee on arrival at destination will be taken on trains.

(b) All organizations will draw rations and forage on September 21st for consumption September 23d, and on September 23d for consumption September 24th, transport to be at refilling points on September 22d, by 11 A. M.

(c) This division will draw supplies from rail-head on September 22d and until further notice.

(d) On September 23d, Supply Column (M. T.) will refill animal-drawn transport at Bray with rations and forage for consumption September 25th.

(e) RAIL-HEADS.—Last rail-head in 3d Army area at Roisel, from September 23d. First rail-head at 4th Army area at Peronne, from September 24th.

(f) Location of refilling points to be given in later orders.

13. EXTRA TRANSPORTATION.—Twenty-five lorries will be available for moving regimental property such as Stokes mortar ammunition, medical and signal equipment, office records, etc. This property will be left at Regimental or Battalion Headquarters, under suitable guard, properly rationed, for movement by lorries as available.

It will probably be necessary for some lorries to return from 4th Army area for a second trip, to complete the movement of this property.

FIELD ORDERS

No. 16

MAPS: 1:20,000, 62 CN. E., 62B N. W., 57C S. E., 57B S. W., Diagrammatical Sketch.

1. SITUATION.—The enemy opposite the front to be occupied by the II American Corps September 24th and 25th holds the Hindenburg Line in force. The salient feature of this line is the Cambrai-St. Quentin Canal, which runs through a tunnel from a point 1,500 yards southeast of Vendhuile to a point 1,000 yards south of Bellicourt.

The 4th Army will attack the Hindenburg defenses between Vendhuile and St. Quentin at an hour and on a date to be notified later.

The IX Corps will attack on the right and simultaneously with the II American Corps.

The III Corps will be on our left and will not attack, but will hold a defensive front between the II American Corps and the V Corps until the II American Corps has reached the green line. When the troops of the II American Corps commence their exploitation towards the dotted green line, the III Corps will mop up the ground west of the canal.

2. GENERAL PLAN.—The II American Corps affiliated with the Australian Corps will attack the enemy's position in the Hindenburg Line in the sector Nauroy-Gouy (both inclusive) on a date and hour to be notified later. There will be a preliminary bombardment by all available artillery lasting for a considerable period. The object of this preliminary bombardment will be:

- (a) To complete the demoralization of the enemy.
- (b) The destruction of the enemy's defenses, including wire, dugouts, etc.

The attacks will be carried out on a frontage of two (2) divisions. The boundaries and objectives of divisions are shown on the attached map.

3. (a) PRELIMINARY OPERATIONS:

The present situation on the battle front is as follows:

The front line is in the advanced Hindenburg Line as far north as the interdivisional boundary for the operation. North of this the front line is now along the old British outpost line. The III Corps has undertaken to make every endeavor to seize the front line of the Hindenburg system before its relief by the 27th American Division. If it succeeds in doing this the forming-up line as shown in dotted brown on the attached map will be available. If the III Corps does not succeed in doing this it will be necessary for the 27th American Division to undertake a definite operation in order to seize the advanced line of the Hindenburg system.

During the period that this operation takes place the 30th American Division will advance posts to such a position as will enable it to ensure that the forming-up line on its sector will be sufficiently protected.

(b) MAIN OPERATION:

The main operation will be divided into two phases as follows:

(1) First Phase. The 30th American Division on the right and the 27th American Division on the left will form up on a taped line prior to the given zero hour and will attack with tanks under a creeping artillery barrage. This barrage will include a considerable proportion of smoke shell.

The start line is shown in brown on the attached map and the objectives are shown in a continuous green line.

The flanks of the attack will be protected by a smoke screen which will be provided by one field artillery brigade on each flank. As soon as the artillery barrage program is completed and the infantry have seized the objective, the green line, the smoke barrage on the flanks will lift outwards in order to enable the infantry to exploit their success toward the flanks under the concealment of the flanking smoke barrages; to the north with a view to assisting the advance of the V Corps over the canal, and to protecting the Australian Corps left in their advance to the red line; to the south with a view to assisting the IX Corps in their advance across the canal, and to protecting the Australian Corps right in their advance to the red line.

2. Second Phase. The 5th Australian Division on the right and the 3d Australian Division on the left, each with its own divisional artillery and a proportion of tanks, and organized in brigade groups, will pass through the 30th and 27th American Divisions respectively in open warfare formations at a time to be decided later. Their objective is shown in red on the attached map.

In order to secure the flanks of this operation and to extend the base of the salient created by the advance, the reserve troops of the 30th and 27th American Divisions will extend their operations to the south and north respectively with the object of seizing the objectives shown in red on the attached map.

A proportion of artillery, which will be allotted from the barrage guns and will be withdrawn as soon as the barrage program is completed, will be placed at the disposal of each Divisional Commander for this.

A proportion of tanks will be similarly allotted.

A detailed program and time table will be issued.

The troops which captured the first objectives will be reassembled after the whole of the brigades detailed to the second objective have passed through them. The time for this reassembly will be notified. They will be prepared to advance eastwards on a one-division front, in touch with the Australian Corps on their right and with the V Corps of the Third Army on their left.

(c) ASSEMBLY:

The line will be held prior to the operation by the 30th and 27th American Divisions, each with one regiment in the line supported by one regiment and each with one brigade in reserve.

The capture of the first objective will be carried out by the reserve brigade in each case.

The capture of the second objective allotted to the American divisions will be carried out by the supporting regiment of the line brigade, the line regiment of the line brigade passing into reserve at a stage which is indicated later.

The program will be so arranged that the two attacking brigade groups of the 5th and 3d Australian Divisions respectively will pass through the American troops as soon as possible after the latter have attained the first objective. These two brigades will follow the regiments of the 30th and 27th American Divisions respectively allotted to the capture of the red line. The reserve brigades of the 5th and 3d Australian Divisions will then be passed through the gap. The last infantry to pass through the gap from the west to the east side of the canal will be the regiments of the 30th and 27th American Divisions who were originally holding the line and now pass into reserve.

The order of movement across the tunnel will be, therefore:

"A" and "B" Regiments of the 30th and 27th American Divisions (that is, the attacking brigade in each case).

"C" Regiment of the 30th and 27th American Divisions (that is, the supporting regiment of the brigade originally in the line).

"A" and "B" Brigades of the 5th and 3d Australian Divisions.

"C" Brigade of the 5th and 3d Australian Divisions moving in divisional reserve.

"D" Regiment of the 30th and 27th American Divisions (that is, the regiment which was holding the line when the attack began). This regiment will be concentrated immediately the last Australian brigade has passed through and will then move according to the orders of the respective Divisional Commanders.

(See diagrammatical sketch enclosed.)

Assembly areas will be selected and allotted for each American regiment and each Australian brigade in such position as will best permit of this order of movement being carried out.

(d) ROAD MOVEMENT:

The country over which the attack will pass in its early stages is very much shell-pitted and all roads have been very badly damaged.

To enable guns and ammunition wagons and the armored cars to pass across this area the Chief Engineer of the corps has arranged to develop four roads as rapidly as possible.

The Chief Engineer of the Australian Corps will have at his disposal the five Australian Pioneers Battalions plus such proportion of the American engineering personnel as may be necessary.

Every body of troops will be allotted its own definite road and will on no account use any other. Maps will be issued later showing the roads allotted in each case.

Careful traffic control will be organized and all ranks must be warned beforehand and must be prepared to adhere to the traffic rules strictly.

The bivouac areas will be selected in positions which will be convenient to the roads to which each body of troops is allotted.

(e) TROOPS AVAILABLE:

Divisions.

3d Australian Division.

5th Australian Division.

27th American Division.

30th American Division.

Artillery.

- (I) Field Artillery—23 Field Artillery Brigades.
- (II) Heavy Artillery—10 Heavy Artillery Brigades.

Tanks.

- 4th Tank Brigade consisting of 84 Tanks, a proportion of which are Mark V and a proportion Mark V (Star) Tanks.
- 5th Tank Brigade, between 70 and 80 Tanks, portion of which are Mark V and portion of which are Mark V (Star) Tanks.
- A portion of 3d Tank Brigade, giving a total of 25 Whippet Tanks and 1 Armored Car Battalion.

Mounted Troops. 13th Australian Light Horse Regiment.

Cavalry. 5th Cavalry Brigade.

Special Companies, R. E. Several will be available for smoke-screening work.

Air Forces. 3d Squadron, A. F. C., and auxiliary assistance from 5th Brigade, R. A. F.

4. PRELIMINARY PREPARATIONS, LIAISON, ETC.

(a) Light Signals. The only light signals to be employed will be:

- (I) The S. O. S. signal, which will be a No. 32 rifle grenade bursting into three red lights.
- (II) Success signal, which will be a No. 32 rifle grenade bursting into three white lights.
- (III) Message-carrying rockets will be made available and will be issued early.

(b) All ranks will be provided with a metal disc sewn on the reverse side of the box respirator, which will be used for signaling to our aeroplanes when they sound the Klaxon horn, to indicate the position of the troops.

Red flares will be issued and will be lit for the same purpose when the aeroplane calls.

All ranks must be made to understand that when the aeroplane calls the flares must be lit and the discs shown.

(c) The organization of the troops for the first phase of the operation will ensure that definite bodies are allotted for duty at each entrance to the tunnel with the object of dealing with any of the enemy who may have taken refuge in the tunnel during the bombardment and barrage. These troops must on no account be withdrawn from their tasks until the tunnel is completely clear of the enemy.

(d) All troops must be warned of the absolute necessity of keeping as close up to the barrage as safety permits in order to deal with the enemy before he can recover after the barrage has passed.

(e) A very liberal supply of

- (I) Operation map
- (II) Message maps
- (III) Oblique and trench photos will be issued. All commanders must ensure that these are distributed right down to non-commissioned officers in order that the achievement of their task may be facilitated for all ranks.

Special instructions as to Intelligence functions dealing with prisoners of war, etc., will be issued.

(f) A complete system of liaison between flanks and from front to rear between companies, battalions, regiments and brigades and divisions will be worked out. The responsibility for liaison and for communications will be from right to left.

(g) A series of code calls for employment between infantry using the Popham panel and contact aeroplanes will be made and issued by Australian Corps. Those now in use by the Australian Divisions will be retained, except in the case of the I and IV Australian Corps.

5. LOCATION OF HEADQUARTERS AND P. C.

- (a) Headquarters, no change.
- (b) P. C. to be notified later.

6. ACKNOWLEDGE.

READ,
Major General.

MAPS: St. Emilie, 1-20,000.

1. An operation will be undertaken on September 27th at an hour to be notified later to advance and occupy a new line about 1,000 yards forward of our present front (as shown on barrage map already issued). This operation will be carried out in conjunction with a similar operation by troops on our right flank.

2. Troops available:

53d Infantry Brigade	Nine brigades of Field Artillery
104th Machine Gun Battalion	Detachment 102d Engineers
106th Machine Gun Battalion	Detachment 102d Field Signal Battalion
Twelve tanks of 4th Tank Brigade

3. The attack will be carried out by the eight battalions of the 106th Infantry side by side, disposed in depth on the frontage of the division sector, the boundaries of which are as follows:

South boundary: From present boundary line at F.30.b.4.0., northeast to A.26.d.5.9.

North boundary: Present north boundary of division to F.6.e.4.0., thence to A.2. central.

4. The objective of attack is as follows: Line from A.26.e.9.9. at its junction with the division at southern boundary along the line of trenches to A.20.e.8.0., thence along trench line in open country to A.14.c.2.0., thence in the open to A.14.a.0.0., thence along the trench to A.14.a.3.8., continued along the trench line to the north boundary of the division at A.1.d.3.5. (as shown on barrage map).

This objective will be reached in one advance and as soon as taken will be organized and consolidated in depth, Lewis gun groups being pushed out to the front. The division on our right attacks at the same time and will occupy a line in prolongation of our right. The division on our left will make no attack and as the advance progresses our left flank must be protected and a line occupied by troops other than those taking part in the frontal advance. The Commanding General 53d Infantry Brigade is especially charged with the protection of this flank, using such parts of the 105th Infantry as necessary. Combat liaison with the division on our right will be provided for by the 106th Infantry.

5. The infantry will form up on a taped line one hour prior to zero hour (line shown on barrage map as infantry forming up line). Time table of attack as follows:

At zero hour the attack leaves the parallel of departure and at zero plus 36 the objective is reached. The rate of march will be 100 yards in three minutes throughout the advance. The advance will be made under cover of a creeping barrage by artillery and machine guns and when the objective is gained a protective barrage will be continued for thirty-nine minutes.

6. The twelve tanks of the 4th Tank Battalion will assist the advance. Specific tasks will be assigned these tanks.

7. A contact aeroplane will fly over the objective line at zero plus 90 minutes.

The position of the most advanced infantry will be indicated by the following means:

(a) Red ground flares,

(b) Tin discs.

(c) Groups of three or four rifles laid parallel across the trench, and about one foot apart.

Divisional dropping station will be established at J.11.c.6.2.

8. Watches will be synchronized as follows: An officer from Division Headquarters will take the time to Brigade Headquarters at 3 P. M. and at 8 P. M. on September 26th. Similar means will be taken by subordinate commanders to synchronize with subordinate units.

Under no circumstances will the time be given over the telephone.

9. Division Headquarters unchanged.

SECRET ORDER
No. 93

REFERENCE MAPS: Sheet 62B, Sheet 62C.

1. AMMUNITION.—Division ammunition dump will be located at E.28.d.2.0. Division will deliver to the following regimental dumps for right and center battalions in line F.22.d., left battalion in line F.17.c.3.4.

2. SUPPLY.—Rail-head, Tincourt.

Supplies will be drawn from rail-head by animal-drawn transport. Ration refilling point for all units is located at J.9.central. For Plan of Supply, see Appendix B.

3. RESERVE RATIONS.—Each regiment will be issued with one preserved meat and biscuit ration per man as assault rations. These rations consist of one tin of preserved meat and one pound of biscuits. These rations will only be issued to troops taking part in operations.

4. WATER.—Water tanks of the following capacity will be dug in at the vicinities shown below:

These tanks will be kept filled under divisional arrangements. Each man taking part in operations will be issued an extra water bottle, which will be filled under divisional arrangements. These water bottles must be accounted for after the operation. Each regiment fighting will be issued 250 petrol tins for conveying water to the troops in the front line. These petrol tins will be available on demand to the Division Ordnance Officer.

5. BURIALS AND CEMETERIES.—Burials will take place under the supervision of the Division Burials Officer, who will select suitable sites for cemeteries.

6. EVACUATION OF SICK AND WOUNDED:

Main dressing station at Driencourt.

Advance dressing station at St. Emilie, F.13.c.0.2.

For further medical arrangements, see Appendix C.

7. PRISONERS OF WAR.—The A. P. M. will be responsible for the collection of all prisoners of war, rear of the line. Military Police will take over all prisoners of war as far forward as possible and escort them to the divisional prisoners of war cage.

Corps cage is located at K.10.central.

Divisional cage is located at F.26.d.8.8.

8. STRAGGLERS.—The A. D. M. is responsible for the establishment of straggler posts along the line Lempire-Ronssoy-Hargicourt-Villeret-L.23.

9. VETERINARY ARRANGEMENTS.—All sick and wounded animals in the forward area will be sent to the 105th Mobile Veterinary Section, located at J.10.a.1.8. From this point animals will be sent for further treatment, if necessary, to II Corps, Veterinary Station, located at Tincourt. At the latter place wounded and sick animals in rear areas can be treated.

10. DEAD ANIMALS.—Regimental Commanders will be responsible for the burial of all dead animals in their areas.

11. ROADS, REPAIR AND MAINTENANCE.—One officer and twenty men from the 102d Engineers will be detailed for road repair and maintenance in forward areas. The Divisional Engineer will be responsible that these parties are detailed and give every assistance to the repair of roads.

12. ENGINEER MATERIAL.—This will be drawn from the following engineer dump: St. Emilie.

13. ORDNANCE.—The advance ordnance dump will be established at E.28.d.2.0. At this dump the following battle stores will be maintained:

Box respirators, which will be issued under the supervision of the Division Gas Officer.

Flannelette and rifle oil.

Socks.

200 long wire cutters.

14. CAPTURED TROPHIES.—It is the responsibility of the regiment who captures any trophies of war to have the name of the regiment painted on such trophies and return them to the division ordnance dump for transportation to the base. It is essential that all such trophies of war are removed from forward areas as soon as possible.

15. PACK ANIMALS.—All units will insure that pack animals in their establishment are available with saddlery complete in case they are required for the conveyance of ammunition, rations and water to the forward area.

16. SUPPLY TANKS.—Three supply tanks have been detailed to carry stores to the forward areas. These tanks will be loaded under divisional arrangement and one tank will proceed to each of the following vicinities:

Right battalion in line.....A.26.a.0.9.

Center battalion in line.....A.13.d.7.4. Sheet 62CB, N. W.

Left battalion in line.....A.7.b.9.5.

The Commanding Officer 106th Infantry will arrange for a reliable guide from each battalion to report to Captain Moniz at E.28.d.2.0. by noon tomorrow. These men will guide their respective battalion tank to its destination. In addition, one non-commissioned officer and six men from each battalion will report to the same location at the same time, to act as unloading party when the tanks reach their destination.

The following is the load each tank will carry:

12 S. O. S. signals.
120 rounds Lin. T. M. A.
20,000 S. A. A. rifle.
20,000 S. A. A. M. G.
300 No. 23 rifle grenades.
150 picks.
150 shovels.
40 coils barbed wire.
10 coils French wire.
150 long screw pickets.
150 short screw pickets.

17. Y. M. C. A. AND RED CROSS.—The Y. M. C. A. and Red Cross will establish their canteens within the area as will best serve the troops.

APPENDIX A,
ORDER No. 93

AMMUNITION

1. All ammunition required by the division will be indented for from Australian Corps.
2. Corps is responsible for delivery of ammunition to the divisional dump; division is responsible for the delivery of ammunition to regimental dumps; regiments are responsible for the delivery of ammunition to battalion dumps; and, likewise, the larger units are always responsible for the delivery of ammunition to the next smaller one. It is to be clearly understood that the responsibility of the higher unit terminates upon the delivery of the ammunition to the immediate subordinate unit.
3. While it should never be necessary for the troops in the front line to go to the rear for ammunition, yet the battalion is responsible for the maintenance of proper liaison with the regiment and the regiment is responsible for the maintenance of liaison with the division dump. This is absolutely necessary because, while the higher unit is responsible for delivery to the next lower unit, yet the lower unit is responsible for making the request and stating the locality at which the requesting unit desires the said ammunition placed.
4. For the purpose of conveying ammunition from regimental dumps to battalions in the lines, four L. G. S. wagons per battalion will be detailed by O. C. 4th Australian Division, S. A. A. Section, and will be located at their respective regimental dumps and will come under the orders of the Regimental Officer in charge of such dumps.
5. All grenades will be detonated at divisional dumps. Stokes mortar ammunition will be detonated under R. E. arrangement.
6. Captain R. T. Moniz will be in charge of the division ammunition dump, which is at present located at Sheet 62O, E.28.d.2.0. near Villers Faucon.
7. All messages for the Division Ammunition Officer will reach him at the division ammunition dump; in case of breach of communication with this dump, messages should be sent to Division Headquarters. The Division Ammunition Officer will be kept advised of the location of all regimental and battalion ammunition dumps at all times.

27TH DIVISION.

SECRET

FIELD ORDERS

No. 48

MAP: ST. EMILIE, 1-20,000.

1. In preparation for the main operation the 54th Infantry Brigade will relieve the 53d Infantry Brigade, except 104th, 105th and 106th Machine Gun Battalions, in the line on the night of September 27th-28th, the 108th Infantry occupying the right regimental sector and the 107th Infantry occupying the left regimental sector.

2. The brigade will march on the morning of September 27th to vicinity of Ronssoy so that the command may be rested and prepared to take over the front line during the night.

3. The divisional sector is now subdivided into three battalion subsectors. This subdivision will be changed so as to arrange for two regimental subsectors within the division sector designated by Commanding General 54th Infantry Brigade in preparation for the disposition of troops for attack. This will require a careful arrangement of relief of the battalion of the 106th Infantry which now holds the center sector, to be now divided between the two regimental sectors.

4. Details of relief will be arranged by the Commanding Generals of the 53d and 54th Infantry Brigades, who will also send advance parties to secure as much information as possible during the afternoon of September 27th as to the position of troops they are to relieve. The relief to be completed before daylight of September 28th. Upon being relieved the 106th Infantry, less one battalion, will march to and bivouac in area No. 10, as laid down in Appendix B, Battle Instructions, Australian Corps, Series E, No. 8. This area includes roughly E.16.d., E.17.c. and d. to E.23., E.29., K.4., K.5., K.10., K.11., K.17. One battalion of 106th Infantry will, upon being relieved from the front line, march to area No. 6, as described in paragraph 5 below, and will be available for the Commanding General, 54th-Infantry Brigade, for use as support to the left regiment for future operation.

5. The 105th Infantry will move at dusk, 27th inst., from the forward line and bivouac in area No. 6, which includes roughly: F.7., 13., 14., F.15.a., E.12.d., E.18.b.

6. Billeting parties and the Division Billeting Officer will reconnoiter areas given and mark out the actual sites of bivouacs for 53d Infantry Brigade.

7. Routes to be followed:

108TH INFANTRY—Via Aizecourt, Le Bas, Longavesnes, St. Emilie.

107TH INFANTRY—Via Longavesnes and the most direct road thereafter so as to take position north of 108th Infantry.

The Commanding General 54th Infantry Brigade will arrange march of regiments so as not to block each other.

8. The greatest care must be taken in arranging bivouacs so as to avoid observation by enemy aircraft or other means, and after reaching bivouacs the men, during daylight hours, will remain under cover and avoid all unnecessary movements in the open.

9. Headquarters 54th Infantry Brigade will be F.21.b.2.1., present headquarters of the 106th Infantry. Headquarters 53d Infantry Brigade will be F.21.a.7.4., present headquarters of the 105th Infantry.

10. Marches will be conducted with the minimum distances prescribed for this army area and greater when in shelled areas.

11. Command of forward area will pass to the Commanding General 54th Infantry Brigade, upon completion of infantry relief.

27TH DIVISION
AMERICAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCES, FRANCE
SECRET

FIELD ORDERS
No. 49

September 27, 1918.
9:08 A. M.

MAPS: 1/20,000, 62C, N. E., 62B, N. W., 57C, S. E., 57B, S. W.

1. GENERAL OBJECT OF THE OFFENSIVE.—The II American Corps affiliated with the Australian Corps will attack in the general direction Gouy-Nauroy on a date and at an hour to be specified later. The corps will attack with two divisions (27th on the left, 30th on the right) in the sectors shown on the map attached hereto.

After the penetration of the Hindenburg Line the divisions will push on to the first objective indicated by the green line on the map. The front line divisions (27th and 30th) will move forward in the given sector and capture the first objective indicated by the green line east of the Sector Gouy-Nauroy.

As soon as this objective is taken by the 27th and 30th Divisions, the 3d Australian Division on the left and the 5th Australian Division on the right will immediately pass through the front line American divisions and capture the second objective, indicated by the red line.

2. GENERAL PLAN.—(a) There will be a preliminary bombardment lasting for a considerable period. The 18th British Division on the left of our corps will simultaneously attack, as far as the canal.

(b) The operation will be divided into two phases, the boundaries and objectives being shown on accompanying map. Our corps will complete the first phase, the Australians the second phase.

(c) FIRST PHASE.—The 54th Infantry Brigade (with part of the 53d Infantry Brigade following in rear of its left flank) will form up on a taped line prior to zero hour and, with tanks, will attack under a creeping shrapnel, H. E. and smoke barrage.

On the map the start line is shown in brown and the objective in continuous green line.

Upon gaining the objective, the infantry will exploit their success to the flanks under concealment of a flanking smoke barrage.

As soon as the road situation permits, an armored car battalion will pass through the infantry in furtherance of special missions.

(d) SECOND PHASE.—The 3d Australian Division with its own artillery and tanks will pass through the 54th Infantry Brigade in open warfare formations at a time to be decided later. Their objective is shown in red on map.

In order to secure the left flank of this operation and extend the base of the salient thus created, reserve troops of the 27th Division will extend their operations to the north to secure the objective shown in red on map. A proportion of artillery and tanks will support this movement.

The 54th Infantry Brigade will be reassembled after the whole of the 3d Australian Division have passed through their line.

(e) The program will be so arranged that two attacking brigade groups of the 3d Australian Division will pass through the 54th Infantry Brigade as soon as possible after the latter have attained the first (green) objective. These two brigades will follow the 105th Infantry allotted to turn north and secure the left flank. The reserve brigades of the 3d Australian Division will then follow their advance brigades. The last infantry to cross the tunnel from the west to the east will be the 106th Infantry in reserve.

The order of movement across the tunnel will therefore be:

First—54th Infantry Brigade.

Second—105th Infantry.

Third—Attacking brigades of 3d Australian Division.

Fourth—Brigade in reserve of 3d Australian Division.

Fifth—106th Infantry. This regiment will be concentrated immediately the Australian Brigade has passed through and will then move according to orders from Commanding General 27th Division.

3. DETAILED ORDERS FOR UNITS.—(a) 54th Brigade (less 105th Machine Gun Battalion).

(1) The boundaries of the zone of action are as follows:

Northern—the northern boundary of the 27th Division.

Southern—the southern boundary of the 27th Division.

(2) The objective to be reached is that specified in 2 (b) (as shown by green line on map).

(3) The brigade will attack with regiments side by side, both regiments disposed in depth.

(4) During the advance, and at a time fixed in the time table and barrage map, the barrage will pause for fifteen minutes on a line 500 yards east of and parallel to the St. Quentin Canal. This pause will facilitate mopping up, give opportunity for reorganization of the attacking units, and enable the 105th Infantry to cross the tunnel and form for attack to the north to gain its objective red line. Special mopping-up units detailed by the Brigade Commander and having a total strength of at least two battalions, will mop up the Hindenburg Line, canal tunnel, tunnel exits and open portion of canal. Units will be given specific missions in detail, and will remain on the general system of trenches, dugouts and entrances until all danger of attack or fire from forces in hiding is past.

(5) One battalion of the 106th Infantry is detailed to the brigade for the especial purpose of aiding the mopping up referred to in preceding paragraph. The Commanding General 53d Infantry Brigade will accordingly direct, as prearranged, one battalion, 106th Infantry, to report to the Commanding General 54th Infantry Brigade, when the 106th Infantry is relieved by the 54th Infantry Brigade.

(6) The Brigade Commander will make the necessary arrangements for mopping-up the entire sector, allotting definite areas to special units for the purpose.

(b) 53d Brigade (less 106th Machine Gun Battalion).

(1) The 105th Infantry will move from its assembly area at zero hour, so conducting its march in approach formation as to follow the left flank of the 54th Infantry Brigade and clear the northern exit of the canal tunnel. Upon arrival at the canal tunnel this regiment will change direction to the left and effect a deployment, disposed in depth in rear of that portion of the left regiment (107th) detailed for extension to the dotted green line (reference, paragraph 3 (a-4)).

(2) At the hour prescribed in the time table (11 A. M.) the 105th Infantry will advance beyond the dotted green line to its objective, i. e., that portion of the red line, S.30.b.central to S.14.c.0.4.

(3) Upon arrival on the red line the 105th Infantry will consolidate its position and establish contact with the Australian Brigade on its right and the British Brigade on its left. All officers and men of this regiment will be cautioned to be alert to observe for the possible successful advance of the 18th British Division across the canal from Vendhuile and into the 105th sector. If British troops cross the canal as indicated, combat liaison will be promptly established with them, so that cooperative effort may result.

(4) During its advance the 105th Infantry will be supported by three brigades of Field Artillery and one company of tanks. Further protection will be provided by a special smoke barrage on the northern boundary of the division. The Commanding Officer 105th Infantry will arrange direct with the Commanding Officer Supporting Artillery and Tanks the details affecting the character and scope of their supporting action.

(5) The 106th Infantry (less one battalion) will move from its assembly place at such time as will enable it to follow immediately in rear of Reserve Brigade of the Australian Corps, to a position 500 yards east of northern exit of the canal tunnel and then move according to orders of the Commanding General.

(c) Detachments of 102d Engineers will be detailed as follows:

(1) A detachment to assist the 54th Infantry Brigade prepared to effect a crossing of the open portion of the canal.

(2) A detachment to assist the tanks supporting the 105th Infantry in effecting a passage through to its objective.

(d) Divisional Reserve:

106th Infantry (less one battalion).

Detachment 102d Engineers.

(e) Artillery (see annex to paragraph 3 (e)).

(f) Aeronautics (see annex to paragraph 3 (f)).

(g) Engineers (see annex to paragraph 3 (g)).

(h) Machine guns (see annex to paragraph 3 (h)).

(i) Cavalry (see annex to paragraph 3 (i)).

(j) Tanks (see annex to paragraph 3 (j)).

(k) Armored cars (see annex to paragraph 3 (k)).

(l) GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS:

(1) The attack will begin on _____ at _____ hour.

Time table follows:

Zero—One hour assembly of all units.

Zero—54th Infantry Brigade leaves from starting trench.

105th Infantry leaves assembly area.

106th Infantry in readiness to follow Reserve Australian Brigade.

Advance of troops under barrage will be shown on barrage map (to be issued).

(2) The rate of march is indicated precisely by the barrage table. Leading elements will follow barrage as closely as practicable.

(3) Upon reaching its objective the 54th Infantry Brigade will remain on that line until orders for relief are received from the Division Commander, at which time it will concentrate north of Catelet.

The 105th Infantry will await the orders of the Division Commander on its objective.

(4) Upon concentration the division will be joined later by the 30th American Division for future operation to the northeast.

4. COMMUNICATION, SUPPLY AND EVACUATION.—See annexes to paragraph 4, Plan for Communication, Supply and Evacuation.

5. (a) LIAISON.—See annexes to paragraph 5 (a).

(b) COMBAT LIAISON.—By corps order combat liaison between the 27th and 30th Divisions will be furnished by the 30th Division.

During the advance of the 54th Infantry Brigade the Brigade Commander will be held responsible for the protection of the left flank, and will maintain a thorough combat liaison between the different units, both laterally and backward.

Special liaison detachments will be detailed and will advance keeping abreast of the support companies of the leading battalions.

(c) COMMAND POSTS.—Command posts will be located as follows:

27th Division—St. Emilie, E.18.d.0.8.

54th Brigade—F.21.b.2.1.

53d Brigade—F.21.a.7.4.

PLAN OF COMMUNICATION, SUPPLY AND EVACUATION
ANNEX TO PARAGRAPH 4, FIELD ORDER No. 49

PART I—COMMUNICATION

1. BROAD GAUGE RAIL-HEADS:

Ammunition.....	Tincourt
Supplies.....	Tincourt
R. E. Stores.....	Roisel
Personnel.....	La Chapelette

2. ROADS: (a) The four main roads will be developed for traffic in the corps area. These roads from right to left (south to north) are known as the "Black," "Red," "Yellow" and "Blue" Roads respectively.

They will be respectively marked on the ground by signboards, painted in the same sequence of colors.

The "Blue" and "Yellow" Roads are included in boundaries of this division, as is also portion of the "Red" Road. Of these roads the "Red" and "Yellow" will probably be developed into M. T. roads. "Black" is not likely to be suitable for any but pedestrians and horse transport traffic.

(b) The course of the roads included in 27th Division area is as follows:

Reading from south to north—"Red" Road from Bellicourt diagonally across the square A.29 from southwest to northeast, with one branch to Mt. St. Martin (A.18.d.-0.5) and another branch across squares A.30 and B.25 to Estrees.

The course of "Yellow" Road: Longavesnes, Villers Faucon, Ronsoy, F.22.a.-8.9., F.8.a.6.3., southern limits of village at A.15.central, Mt. St. Martin (A.18.central).

The course of "Blue" Road: Lieramont, northern edge Villers Faucon, E.15.-c.0.9.—F.8.a.6.3., Basse Boulogne Lempire, eastward to Guillemont Farm, A.13.b.-central, northern edge of village at A.15. central, Le Catelet, Gouy and eastward to B.8.a.0.5.

(c) It is anticipated that all roads will be suitable for the use of horse-drawn artillery as far east as the Le Catelet line by 9 A. M. on zero day.

(d) Tanks will use "Yellow" Road.

Light tanks will, whenever practicable, move close and not entirely on these roads.

(e) In order to consolidate an alternative marching track for infantry the following is assignment of roads in this division area to battle troops and the order of movement in each case:

"YELLOW ROAD"

"A" Regiment of 54th American Brigade—As far as start line only.

Armored Car Battalion—Throughout.

"A" Brigade Group of 3d Australian Division with artillery—Throughout.

"BLUE ROAD"

"B" Regiment of 54th American Brigade—As far as start line only.

"B" Brigade Group of 3d Australian Division with artillery—Throughout.

Reserve Brigade Group of 3d Australian Division—Throughout.

"D" Regiment of 53d American Brigade—Throughout.

"RED ROAD"

No units of this division will move by "Red Road."

(f) The following time table will control use of these roads by units to which allotted:

1. Units of this division have right of way and preferential use of all roads, as far east as the start line, up to zero hour on zero day. After that hour no troops of the division other than "D" Regiment are to use any of these roads.

2. From zero hour on zero day the above roads east of the start line will be under the exclusive control of the engineers and pioneers until 9 A. M. No traffic of any description, other than for the service of these engineers and pioneers and urgent signal traffic, may use these roads east of the start lines going east before 9 A. M.

3. During the remainder of the zero day troops will have right of precedence on those four roads for the whole length in the following order:

Between 9 A. M. and 11 A. M.—Artillery detailed to support "C" American Regiment, east of the line, Lempire-Hargicourt.

Between 11 A. M. and 12 noon—3d and 5th Australian Divisions, Reserve Brigade followed by "D" Regiment American Division.

After 2 P. M.—Cavalry Brigade on "Red Road" only.

(g) Tanks will have precedence of all other traffic on the "Yellow" Road.

If the artillery detailed to support "C" American Regiment require to move east of the canal to carry out their task, they will have precedence at 9 A. M. on "Blue" Road.

No M. T. or tractor-drawn artillery may use any of these roads until after 5 P. M. on zero day. One or more of these roads will be assigned for use of heavy artillery according to the situation.

(h) The existing M. T. roads and M. T. circuits, Roisel, Hargicourt, Ronssoy, Villers Faucon, Longavesnes, Tincourt, are to be put in order for work on zero day.

Until orders issued at a later date, M. T. will not proceed beyond above circuit.

Horse transport will not use traffic circuit as above, but will use the horse transport roads and dry-weather tracks in the forward area.

No horse transport other than artillery to be forward of the line Jeancourt-Hargicourt-Ronssoy-Lempire until 8 P. M. on zero day.

Horse transport will use the "Red," "Yellow" and "Blue" tactical roads, but will give way in every case to the troops and artillery having priority over these roads.

Horse transport roads will be indicated by a white triangular notice board bearing the black letters H. T.

Motor transport roads will be indicated by a white rectangular notice board bearing the black letters M. T.

3. TRAFFIC CONTROL:

The responsibility for the traffic control in this division will rest with 3d Australian Division, assisted by A. P. M. and personnel of Military Police, 27th Division.

Traffic posts will be double (one Australian and one American) as far east as the line Lempire-Hargicourt, beyond which traffic control will be single (Australian personnel only). Special precaution will be observed for efficient traffic control on the tactical roads ("Blue," "Yellow" and "Red").

Only forward traffic uses the roads, and empty traffic dry weather tracks alongside.

Traffic instructions relating to direction of traffic on circuits, double banking and advance by H. T. of the M. T. circuit will be strictly observed and enforced.

SPECIAL REGULATIONS for traffic control on tactical roads "Blue" and "Yellow" are as follows:

No traffic of any description other than urgent signal traffic will be permitted on any of these roads after 9 A. M.

Roads west of the start line will be kept clear of all traffic after zero hour except for battle troops, in accordance with time table as per paragraph 2 (f).

No traverse crossing of any of these roads, from north to south, or vice versa, will be permitted on zero day, except for single vehicles or single tanks of small bodies of troops. All north and south traffic must give way to, and avoid blocking, all eastbound traffic.

Tanks moving east to assembly positions or moving west to rallying points must keep clear of these roads and must not cross them unless absolutely unavoidable.

PART II—SUPPLIES

1. The supply situation from September 28th, is as follows:

J.29.a.5.9. (128')	J.29.d.5.8. (20')

Each division will be supplied with one water tank lorry and if required one additional lorry can be obtained on application.

Division Engineer can draw windlass complete from Bray Tourbiere R. E. dump and has been authorized to draw one hand chaîne helice pump, if required. Horse troughs are also available at dump.

In the event of water being required along canal, the 238th A. T. Coy R. E. are preparing two 9,000-gallon tanks and four lift and force pumps which can be put up at once. Water will be pumped from the canal into tanks, and the whole of the sterilizing lorries will be moved forward and water delivered into water carts direct, if the situation permits.

8. DISPOSAL OF THE DEAD.—3d Australian Division is to be responsible for clearing the battle-field in the division area.

Commanding officers of 105th, 106th, 107th and 108th Infantry Regiments will each detail the following personnel, with full equipment and two days' rations:

1 Sergeant—3 Squads to report at 10 A. M. on September 28th to Divisional Burial Officer at St. Emilie at advance dressing station. This personnel will work with the burial party of the 3d Australian Division and will be responsible for the burial of all American dead, make the prescribed records and observe all regulations.

27TH DIVISION

SECRET ORDER
No. 107

October 11, 1918.

REFERENCE MAPS: 57B, 62B, 62C, 1-40,000.

1. AMMUNITION.—Organizations will carry their complete establishment of small arms ammunition, grenades and tools in their L. G. S. wagons. Such ammunition will be used in the earlier stages of operations and will be refilled from the S. A. A. section of the 4th Australian D. A. C., now located at 62B, C.7.a.5.0.

Guides from units will be sent to this point and report to Divisional Ammunition Officer, Captain R. T. Moniz, who will also see that they are informed of any change in location of divisional S. A. A. dump, and who will fill all demands for ammunition.

Owing to the nature of the operations, the location of the S. A. A. dump is likely to be advanced from time to time. It is therefore essential that guides from the units are always in liaison with the dump and their organization.

GRENADES.—Those in the battalion limbers will be detonated by the personnel of the battalion and carried that way until further orders. All grenades sent forward will be detonated at divisional dump.

Commanding Officers 107th and 108th Infantry Regiments will each detail from the Band Section of the Headquarters Company twenty men, with two days' rations, who will report at divisional ammunition dump, 62B, C.7.a.5.0., October 12th at 10 A. M. for such duty.

2. SUPPLY.—RAIL-HEAD.—Broad gauge, Roisel, unchanged. Narrow gauge, Joncourt. Ration refilling point, I.2.c.7.5. (east of Montbrehain).

PLAN OF SUPPLY.—Supplies will be drawn from the narrow gauge rail-head to refilling point by mechanical transport, thence by animal-drawn transport to unit.

3. TRANSPORT.—G. S. wagons at present used for supply will be returned to the transport lines of their respective organization, and will be at their disposal until further orders.
4. EVACUATION OF SICK AND WOUNDED. Main dressing station, Premont. Advance dressing station, Busigny.
5. EVACUATION OF SICK AND INJURED ANIMALS. Through 105th Mobile Veterinary Section, which will locate on October 12th at Joncourt.
6. PRISONERS OF WAR.—A. P. M. will be responsible for the collection of prisoners of war behind the lines. Military Police will take over prisoners of war as far forward as possible and escort them to the prisoners of war cage, located at C.22.c. northeast of Brancourt.
7. STRAGGLERS.—A. P. M. will, under instructions of II Corps A. P. M., establish suitable straggler posts along the general line of those now maintained by 30th Division, this line to be successively established as conditions may require.
8. TRAFFIC.—A. P. M. will provide the necessary details of military police for the control of traffic and general police purposes in the area taken over from the 30th Division.
9. WATER SUPPLY.—Water in sufficient quantities is available throughout the area. Organizations will take every opportunity to fill water carts and cans.
10. ROADS, REPAIR AND MAINTENANCE.—An officer and twenty men from the 102d Engineers will be detailed for road repair and maintenance in the forward portion of the area. Divisional Engineer will be responsible that the party is detailed and will give every assistance to the repair of roads.
11. ENGINEER MATERIAL.—Corps dumps at Roisel.
Units will indent for engineer stores on G-1, by whom indent will be forwarded to G-4, II Corps, for necessary action.
Divisional Engineer will establish forward dump as necessary, location to be given later.
12. ORDNANCE.—Ordnance dump will be at Joncourt from October 12th.
Ordnance Officer will deliver ordnance supplies to organization.
Hot food containers are available for issue to front line units on request to Ordnance Officer. They will be carefully used and turned over on relief to succeeding units.
13. BURIALS.—Each organization will be responsible for clearing the battle-field and conducting the burial of its own dead.
Regimental chaplains will supervise details.
Each regiment will detail two sergeants and six squads as burial party. These parties will operate under direction of Division Burials Officer.
Details of Graves Registration Service will arrange for the establishment of cemeteries in suitable localities and in accordance with regulations.
14. CAPTURED TROPHIES.—Organizations making captures are responsible for the designation of their unit being marked on same and for their early return to division ordnance dump for transmission to base. It is essential that all such trophies of war be removed from forward areas as soon as possible.

October 15, 1918.

FIELD ORDER
No. 63

MAPS: 57. B. S. E. Barrage, Special 1-20,000.

1. GENERAL OBJECT OF OFFENSIVE.—The II American Corps, in connection with the IX Corps on the right and the XIII Corps on the left, will attack in the general direction of Catillon, on a date and hour to be specified later. The II Corps will attack with two divisions (27th Division on the left and the 30th Division on the right) in the sectors shown on the map attached hereto.

2. GENERAL PLAN.—(a) A creeping barrage will come down at zero, under which the infantry will advance to the red dotted line (indicated on attached map) west of Arbre Guernon, where a halt of barrage and infantry will be made to reorganize and mop up.

(b) The first line infantry will again advance under a creeping barrage to the first objective (the red line) east of the Jone de Mer Farm. Here the first line will organize a line of resistance, the troops designated for the second objective will advance and prepare to take up the attack, while the artillery will first maintain a protective barrage, then lift and search the ground eastward.

(c) At a time designated below the troops to attack the second objective will advance through the troops holding the first objective, and continue to the second objective (brown line) accompanied by tanks and supported by specially detailed brigades of mobile field artillery, but without a creeping barrage. Upon reaching the second objective, troops will be immediately sent forward to exploit to the green line, and the second objective will be organized as a line of resistance.

3. BOUNDARIES (shown on map).—Zone of the division:

South boundary: W.9.b.0.6.—W.6.a.central, thence, including Arbre Guernon, to R.31.d.0.4.—R.24.a.0.8.

North boundary: Q.28.c.0.0.—R.9.central.

Boundary between brigades: Q.34.c.0.0.—Q.36.a.9.4.—R.20.c.0.0.—R.16.central.

4. OBJECTIVES.—Artillery start line: Q.28.c.0.0.—Q.34.c.0.0.—W.9.central.

Line of first halt (red dotted line), (halt from Z plus 102 to Z plus 132 minutes): Q.23.d.8.4.—Q.30.d.0.8.—Q.36.d.0.0.—W.6.c.5.0.

First objective (red line) (halt for about three hours): R.13.d.5.7.—R.20.c.0.0.—R.32.c.0.0.

Line of exploitation: R.9.central—R.18.central.

5. DETAILED ORDERS FOR UNITS: (a) The division will attack with two brigades side by side, the 53d Infantry Brigade on the right and the 54th Infantry Brigade on the left, each brigade with one regiment covering the brigade sector, the remaining regiment in support, regiments disposed in depth. At one hour before zero the front line battalions will be formed up 200 yards in rear of the artillery start line and all other units will be in their assigned places as arranged by Brigade Commanders. Start line will be taped the evening preceding the attack. At zero the artillery barrage will fall on the start line and remain for three minutes, at the end of which time it will go forward at the rate of 100 yards in three minutes to beyond the red dotted line, where it will halt from Z plus 102 until Z plus 132 minutes and form a protective barrage at 200 yards from the infantry line. The infantry will reorganize and finish mopping up.

(b) Two minutes before the advance is resumed the artillery barrage will increase in intensity, with an increase of smoke to serve as a signal for the troops to be ready to advance. At Z plus 132 minutes the creeping barrage will again advance at the same rate as before (100 yards in three minutes) until 200 yards beyond the first objective (red line), when it will halt at Z plus 192 minutes and form a protective barrage until Z plus 222, after which it will lift and search special locations eastward until Z plus 372. The infantry line will halt on the first objective, Z plus 192 to Z plus 372 (three hours), and organize the position for defense.

Troops will not go forward of the first objective until the expiration of three hours from the commencement of the halt on this line.

During this period the battalions designated by Brigade Commanders to continue the advance will move up to the first objective and the tanks assigned to the division will arrive and be prepared to assist in the next advance.

(c) At Z plus 372 the second line battalions will continue the advance under cover of the tanks supported by batteries cooperating directly with them, but without creeping barrage. The advance will be made in open warfare formation to the second objective, where the infantry line will halt, immediately exploit to the green line and organize the objective line as a line of resistance.

(d) Special units will be designated as mopping-up parties, to follow in rear and clear up thoroughly behind each advance, these parties to be given special missions.

(e) The successive advances of the 27th Division are to be coordinated with similar advances on the right by the 30th American Division and on the left by the 50th British Division.

6. DIVISIONAL RESERVE.—The 102d Engineers (less one company), the 104th Machine Gun Battalion and one squadron cavalry (less detachments) will constitute the division reserve.

7. MACHINE GUNS.—All regimental machine gun companies will remain at the disposal of their respective Regimental Commanders.

Task for barrage machine guns will be as shown on the machine gun barrage map.

(a) The 105th Machine Gun Battalion on the south half of the division sector; the 106th Machine Gun Battalion on the north half of the division sector.

(b) Time for lift to be notified later.

Barrage will be fired by 105th and 106th Machine Gun Battalions under the direction of the Division Machine Gun Officer.

On completion of barrage, machine gun battalions will move in accordance with instructions of their Brigade Commanders at whose disposal they will be.

(c) On receipt of this order they will report to their respective Brigade Commanders for advance instructions.

The 104th Machine Gun Battalion will remain in divisional reserve, taking up a position south of Busigny, about B.22.a.4.5.

8. ENGINEERS.—(See Engineer Plan.) Two companies will establish foot bridges across Le Selle River immediately after the first infantry line has crossed the stream following the barrage. Thereafter the engineers will act in accordance with plan as instructed by the Division Commander.

9. TANKS.—(See Plan.) Ten heavy tanks of the 301st Tank Battalion have been assigned to the division. These will cross Le Selle River as soon as practicable after the infantry have crossed and will assist the advance as soon as practicable thereafter. They will in any event reach the red line (first objective) in time to accompany the troops to the final objective.

10. CAVALRY.—One squadron of the 20th Hussars has been attached to this division. One detachment will report to the 54th Infantry Brigade and a similar detachment to the 53d Infantry Brigade on the morning of the 16th instant. The remainder will be held under the orders of the Division Commander.

11. ARTILLERY.—See Artillery Plan.

12. LIAISON.—See Liaison Plan.

13. GENERAL INSTRUCTIONS.—The attack will begin at Z day at zero hour.

TIME TABLE:

Zero minus one hour—All units will be in their places of assembly and ready for the attack.

Zero—Artillery barrage commences.

Z plus 3—Barrage commences to lift in accordance with barrage map, at the rate of 100 yards in three minutes, and the attack line starts. Leading elements will follow barrage as closely as possible.

Z plus 81 to Z plus 102 (according to the part of line it is in front of)—Artillery halts beyond dotted red line.

Z plus 130—Barrage increases in intensity and increased smoke.

Z plus 132—Barrage commences advance to first objective.

Z plus 183 to Z plus 192 (according to part of line)—Barrage halts beyond first objective.

Z plus 222—Barrage lifts and searches eastwards. Infantry remains on first objective.

Z plus 372—Battalions designated to attack second objective commence their advance without creeping barrage.

14. COMMUNICATION, SUPPLY AND EVACUATION.—See accompanying plan for above.

15. COMBAT LIAISON.—Combat liaison between the 27th Division and 30th Division will be furnished by the 30th Division.

The 53d Infantry Brigade will furnish combat liaison between 53d Infantry Brigade and 54th Infantry Brigade. The 54th Infantry Brigade will be held responsible for combat liaison with the division on its left and will be prepared to guard its left flank in case it is exposed. Through combat liaison will be established between the different units of brigades both laterally and to the rear.

16. SYNCHRONIZATION.—Watches will be synchronized from II Corps to Division Headquarters at 12.00 and 18.00 on the day before attack, and time will be immediately transmitted by Division to Brigade Commanders, who will arrange to synchronize the watches of their companies. Not to be given over the telephone.

17. AXIS OF LIAISON.—Busigny, Escaufourt, St. Souplet, Advantage Farm, Jone de Mer Farm.

18. COMMAND POSTS will be located as follows:

27th Division—Busigny.

53d Infantry Brigade—First P. C., Busigny. Second P. C., Escaufourt.

54th Infantry Brigade—First P. C., Busigny. Second P. C., Escaufourt.

106th Infantry, 57B, V.5.b.2.2.; V.11.a.6.1.; V.11.b.2.8.

107th Infantry, 57B, V.24.a.8.1.; W.7.c.9.4.; W.19.d.8.1.; V.10.c.7.1.

108th Infantry, 57B, Q.35.b.8.1.; Q.31.a.4.1.; W.7.c.2.1.

Entraining point for walking wounded, narrow gauge railway at Montbrehain.

2. VETERINARY ARRANGEMENTS.—Advance collecting station, C.27.central. 105th Mobile Veterinary Section, at Joncourt. Upon evacuation of animals to above station, conducting parties will rejoin their units.

3. PRISONERS OF WAR.—Collecting station, St. Souplet Church (Q.33.d.central). Divisional cage, V.27.b.7.9. (cross roads 2,000 yards south of Busigny). Corps cage north-east of Brancourt.

Escorts, upon units turning over prisoners of war to Military Police at collecting station, will rejoin their organizations.

A. P. M. will provide necessary escort for prisoners of war from collecting station to divisional cage, where lists of prisoners will be made as provided by regulations.

Prisoners may be employed for carrying wounded toward the rear. Under no circumstances will they be sent on a return trip forward for any purpose.

A. P. M. will arrange for prisoners of war rations as required.

4. PROVOST ARRANGEMENTS.—(a) A. P. M. will establish suitable straggler posts along the line Escaufourt-W.7.d.5.2. to return stragglers to their units, direct walking wounded to dressing station, regulate traffic and other usual functions of the A. P. M. in such duty.

(b) A collecting post of one squad of Military Police will be maintained at advance dressing station. Under the direction of C. O. dressing station, it will be the duty of this detachment to return stragglers to their organizations.

(c) A. P. M. will arrange for two detachments of twelve Military Police. One detachment, with two days' rations, will report October 16th, at 18 hour, to the Commanding Officer 106th and 107th Infantry, respectively, for duty as mobile straggler post in rear of those commands.

5. BURIALS.—Division Burial Officer at advance dressing station, Busigny (V.10.b.9.4.).

Each organization will be responsible for clearing the battle-field and conducting the burial of its own dead.

Regimental chaplains will supervise details.

Each regiment will detail two sergeants and six squads as burial party, with two days' rations. Report to Burial Officer, as may be later directed by these headquarters.

Details of Graves Registration Service will arrange for the establishment of cemeteries in suitable localities and in accordance with regulations.

Commanding Officers will be responsible for the burial of dead animals in the areas of operation of their respective organizations.

6. RED CROSS AND Y. M. C. A.—These units will establish canteens, and continue their activities at such locations as will be most convenient to organizations of the division and for their several purposes.

7. SALVAGE.—Divisional Salvage Officer and Salvage Company No. 16 will continue operations in the area to the fullest extent possible with existing facilities as heretofore.

8. CAPTURED TROPHIES.—Organizations making captures are responsible for the designation of their unit being marked on same and for their early return to division ordnance dump for transmission to base. It is essential that all such trophies of war be removed from forward areas as soon as possible.

9. ANTI-GAS MEASURES.—Each man taking part in operations will be provided with two teaspoonfuls of bicarbonate of soda, which will be added to the water in his canteen.

This process should be carried out under the supervision of officers who will impress upon their men that the use of this substance in no way affects water for drinking or cooking purposes.

Bicarbonate of soda may be obtained from battalion aid posts.

The Division Surgeon is arranging for additional supplies of the above commodity as needed to meet requirements.

FIELD ORDER
No. 64

1. The army will continue its advance tomorrow, October 18th, the II Corps continuing its attack.

2. The 27th Division will attack at 5.30 under a creeping barrage, and advance to the following objective: R.8.d.6.0., R.14.b.9.0., R.15.c.2.0., R.21.c.7.0., R.27.a.9.0., R.33.b.8.0., X.3.b.7.0., X.3.d.7.0. The division and brigade boundaries will remain as today.

3. (a) The 53d and 54th Brigades will continue the advance in the same sub-sectors as today, leading troops following the barrage closely and careful arrangements being made for mopping up.

(b) The division reserve will consist of:

104th Machine Gun Battalion,
102d Engineers (less one battalion),
One squadron 20th Hussars.

The Engineers and 104th Machine Gun Battalion will move at dawn to a position on the east side of Le Selle River on the general line of the railroad near St. Souplet, keeping clear of the roads, and remain under the orders of the Division Commander.

(c) The 105th and 106th Machine Gun Battalions will be under the direction of the Division Machine Gun Officer for the barrage. On completion of the barrage these battalions will be at the disposal of their respective Brigade Commanders, who will arrange for their use.

4. The line upon which the barrage will fall at the zero hour, 5.30, will be announced on addenda sent herewith.

5. Division Headquarters, Busigny. 53d Brigade Headquarters, Escaufourt. 54th Brigade Headquarters, Escaufourt.

1. The following in connection with operations directed by Field Order No. 65:

2. LORRIES FOR MOVEMENT OF PERSONNEL.—A bus column (twenty lorries) will report at 5 hour, October 21st, head of column facing west at road fork east of Escaufourt at Q.31.a.7.7.

These lorries will be allotted as follows:

To 106th Infantry.....	7
107th Infantry.....	6
108th Infantry.....	7

Such portions of commands named as may be designated by Commanding Officers thereof will embus in season for lorries to move at 7 hour. Column will proceed via Escaufourt Road, passing through V.18.central, Busigny and Bohain to debussing points at C.22.d.2.3. (eastern edge of Brancourt), where troops will debus and proceed to their quartering areas.

3. BILLETS.—For the night of October 21st-22d organizations will be quartered in bivouac camps or billets as available about Brancourt. Apply for accommodations to Town Major, Brancourt, if any.

For night of October 22d-23d organizations will be quartered in bivouac camps or billets as available about Bellicourt. Apply for accommodations to Town Major, Bellicourt, if any.

For night of October 23d-24th organizations will be quartered in bivouac camps or billets as available and as follows:

53d Brigade, Roisel, Hesbecourt, Hervilly (western part of Hervilly).
104th Machine Gun Battalion, Hervilly.
102d Sanitary Train, 102d Trains and Military Police, Roisel.

Apply for accommodations to Area Commandant at Hervilly.

54th Brigade in Tincourt area (about Tincourt, Hamel, Marquaix).

Apply for accommodations to Area Commandant at Tincourt.

102d Engineers and Engineer Trains, Boucly, Homelet.

On October 24th troops with essential transport (rolling kitchens, water carts and G. S. wagons as necessary) will entrain probably at Tincourt and Roisel by broad gauge railway for Corbie training area.

Detrainment (probably) at Longeau, Villers Bretonneux and Corbie.

Instructions for rail movement will be communicated in later orders.

4. TRANSPORT.—Transport will accompany troops to their quarters in the Hervilly and Tincourt areas. That portion of transport that is not moved by rail will move as a train under the orders of Commander of Trains, staging night of October 24th-25th in Cappy area. On arrival at Corbie area trains will rejoin their units at locations to be given in later orders.

5. SUPPLY.—(a) Rail-heads as follows: October 21st, Montbrechain, unchanged. October 22d, Roisel. October 23d, Roisel. From October 24th, Corbie.

(b) Ration refilling points as follows: October 21st, V.22.b.4.6 (south of Busigny), unchanged. October 22d, vicinity of Brancourt, exact location to be notified by Division Quartermaster. October 23d, east of Bellicourt, probably 62B.G.11.a.3.5., exact location to be notified by Division Quartermaster. October 24th, in Tincourt or Hervilly area, exact location to be notified by Division Quartermaster.

6. TRANSPORTATION.—Property for which no regular transportation is provided will be left under suitable guard, properly rationed, for movement by rail transportation as available under arrangement as made by Supply Officers with M. T. O.

Such property will be carried through to destination at Roisel for entrainment at that point, on October 24th, to Corbie area.

7. BURIALS.—Cemetery is located at W.2.b.9.9., southwest of St. Souplet.

Burial details of twenty men from each infantry regiment will report October 21st at 9 hour to Chaplain Kelley, in charge of burials, at cemetery as above.

Arrangements have been made for the necessary transportation, rations and cooking facilities for the burial parties who will be quartered at St. Souplet until their work is completed.

On completion of this duty, detail will proceed by marching to Roisel, at which point R. T. O. will furnish transportation to Corbie. Necessary personnel will accompany transport through to Corbie. Travel directed is necessary in the military service.

Division Burials Officer is charged with collection and caring for effects of the dead and compilation of records as prescribed by regulations.

Personnel of Graves Registration Service are charged with the observance of regulations relative to location of cemetery, marking of graves, etc.

The disposal of enemy dead will be conducted in the same manner as that of our own troops.

The bodies of dead animals will be disposed of by burying.

8. OCCUPATION OF BILLETS.—Units who have occupied billets in villages in this area (St. Souplet, Eseaufour or Busigny) which civilian owners are still in occupation of will make out certificates and billeting distribution lists. The French Mission attached to this division will render all possible assistance to units in connection with the above.

It has been pointed out that the inhabitants of this region have undergone great hardships during the period of enemy occupation and are therefore at present in a condition of great poverty.

HEADQUARTERS, 27TH DIVISION

AMERICAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCES, FRANCE

November 5, 1918.

GENERAL ORDERS

No. 94

This division will parade on Sunday, November 10, 1918, at 10:00 A. M., south of Fouillois, along the improved road from o.15.b. to o.10.b.7.0, Sheet 620.

The parade will be in honor of the memory of our comrades who died in the recent series of battles. Their bodies have been buried in cemeteries organized on the fields where they fell. Their graves have been marked and appropriate religious services have been held. Nevertheless the Division Commander believes that the soldiers of the division would express by some ceremony, in which all may share, our admiration for their valor and our loyalty for their memory. It is fitting that the ceremony should be military in character, for no soldiers were ever animated by higher military ideals or were more responsive to the requirements of military discipline. No soldiers have ever possessed greater spirit of pride and confidence in their organizations.

This spirit characterized their work at all times and made them prodigal with their lives in the service they rendered. Always shall we honor them. Never shall we forget their devotion and splendid courage.

Detailed orders for uniforms, formation, etc., will be given later.

BY COMMAND OF MAJOR GENERAL O'RYAN:

STANLEY H. FORD.

OFFICIAL:

TRISTRAM TUPPER,

Adjutant General,

Acting Division Adjutant.

AMERICAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCES, FRANCE

November 8, 1918.

GENERAL ORDERS

No. 96

1. The division will be formed as follows for the memorial review at 10 A. M., Sunday, November 10, 1918.

2. UNIFORM—O. D. with steel helmets. Slickers will be folded and carried on the back of the belt.

ARMS—All men with Lewis gun, rifles or pistols will carry them.

EQUIPMENT—Empty packs and fields belts.

In each battalion companies will be equalized so as to be of equal strength. Only the guard, sick, cooks and those absolutely necessary for other duty will be excused.

3. The division will be formed in two lines on a parade ground southwest of Fouillois, troops in first line, transport in second line (see diagram). Infantry regiments will be formed in line of masses (battalions in close column) with band on right and Headquarters Company and Machine Gun Company closed up in rear of regiments.

Machine gun battalions will be formed on a front of one company, other companies in rear, in close column.

Other organizations will take a similar formation.

A uniform interval of ten yards will be taken between battalions, thirty yards between regiments and fifty yards between brigades.

4. Transport will be formed in a second line at a distance of seventy-five yards from the rear of first line, the transport of each unit being arranged in depth in rear of the organization to which it belongs.

5. Troops will be arranged in the following order from right to left:

54th Brigade	{	108th Infantry
		107th Infantry
		106th Machine Gun Battalion
53d Brigade	{	105th Infantry
		106th Infantry
		105th Machine Gun Battalion
Company F, 102d Engineers
102d Field Signal Battalion
104th Machine Gun Battalion
Military Police
Headquarters Troop
Sanitary Trains
Mobile Veterinary Section

The details of assembly at the review ground, the formation and routes to and from the review will be announced in instructions issued with diagram.

6. All troops will be in place by 9:45 A. M.

At 10 A. M troops will be brought to attention.

At a signal for passing in review the right element of the right brigade will move out and the command will pass in review in the usual manner.

The transport will pass in review, following the last of the troops, vehicles four abreast.

Bands, after turning out and playing while the regiment passes, will not follow the regiment, but will remain in place opposite the reviewing officer, each band lining up on the left of its predecessor. After the infantry have passed the bands will alternate in playing while the rest of the troops and the transport pass.

7. After passing the reviewing officer all will take up the double time or trot for a short distance and continue the march to the far end of the field, where route column will be formed without halting and troops march to billets. Troops billeted at Velquemont, etc., will march through Fouilloy. Care must be taken for a considerable distance not to halt or block the roads for following units.

8. Troops will prepare to make an early start from billets on Sunday morning, as they must be in proper places at the hour designated in the place for forming.

BY COMMAND OF MAJOR GENERAL O'RYAN:

STANLEY H. FORD,
Colonel, G. S.,
Chief of Staff.

27TH DIVISION
AMERICAN EXPEDITIONARY FORCES

November 8, 1918.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR FORMING FOR THE REVIEW NOVEMBER 10TH

Map 62 D, 1-40,000.

The formation will be on the 53d Brigade.

The 53d Brigade (less 105th Machine Gun Battalion) (right in front) will march from billets via Aubigny so as to be halted as follows at 8:20 A. M.

Head of column at cross roads o.15.a.9.9., regiments in column of squads facing south, infantry off the road and west of it. Transport closed up on road, head opposite head of infantry.

105th Machine Gun Battalion to march via the south exit of Fouilloy and halt at 8:25 A. M. with head of column at cross roads o.10.c.9.5., trains pulled up alongside and to the right of the troops.

A staff officer will then indicate the position of the right of the 105th Infantry and the brigade will be formed on the review ground, the 105th Machine Gun Battalion forming on the left of the brigade.

The 106th Machine Gun Battalion will march so as to clear the south exit of Fouilloy ahead of the 105th Machine Gun Battalion and march on the road across the review ground, halting at 8:15 A. M. before reaching the cross road at o.15.b.3.5., the trains closed up and pulled alongside the column and to the right. This places this battalion between where the troops and transport of the 54th Brigade are to form, but as soon as the 53d Brigade has passed, this battalion is to march and turn to the left about above the terrace and form on the right of the band of the 105th Infantry. Its trains will follow the transport of the 53d Brigade, turning to the right about, and form in rear of its battalion.

Headquarters, 54th Brigade and 107th Infantry will march by the road o.13.d—o.14.a. and b. and be halted at 8:30 A. M. with head of column just west of cross roads o.15.a.9.9, transport at rear of column. As soon as the 106th Machine Gun Battalion has marched left about and formed, the 107th will march and form on the right of the 106th Machine Gun Battalion.

Organizations of the 108th Infantry in Aubigny will form at the proper time to follow instructions given below, but will keep the roads clear for the 53d Brigade.

The 108th Infantry will clear Fouilloy by 8:10 A. M. and halt on the road west of that place, head of column just east of road junction at o.9.a.8.2. by 8:30 A. M., troops pulled off in the field to the left of the road, transport closed up on road, head of column abreast of the head of the infantry column.

Units of 108th Infantry in Aubigny will move after the transport of the 53d Brigade has passed and join in their proper place in the 108th Infantry as the 108th moves off. The 108th Infantry will follow the rear of the transport of the 53d Infantry Brigade and again halt just before reaching the cross road at o.15.a.9.9. until the troops and transport of the 107th Infantry have moved into the column.

The above instructions are not difficult to follow, but they must be carefully read and carried out promptly to prevent delay. The 108th Infantry must be entirely clear of Fouilloy by 8:10 A. M. to clear the way for divisional troops to come through.

Company F, 102d Engineers, with transport in rear will march in time to halt with head of column just east of Fouilloy-Villers Bretonneux road at 8:40 A. M. It will follow the 105th Machine Gun Battalion and form on its left.

The following organizations, without trains, will form at 8 A. M. and march to a position in the fields just southeast of the cross roads at the south exit of Fouilloy

(in 11.o), from where they will follow Company F, 102d Engineers, and its transport in the order named below, and form on the review ground as indicated in the diagram:

102d Field Signal Battalion
104th Machine Gun Battalion
Military Police
Headquarters Troop
Field Hospital Companies
Field Ambulance Companies
Veterinary Section.

The Field Hospital Companies and Field Ambulance Companies will each be formed as a battalion.

The trains of the 102d Field Signal Battalion, 104th Machine Gun Battalion, Military Police and Sanitary Trains (no motor transport to be in review) will be assembled by 8:15 A. M. and will march and form in the same order as listed above, in the street of Fouilloy, the head of the trains of the 102d Field Signal Battalion halting at the south exit of the town and all trains pulled well out to the right of the road. The officers in command of the trains of these units will consult together and arrange to have trains thus placed in proper order without confusion and well closed up.

As soon as the last troops of above organizations (Mobile Veterinary Section) have marched to form on the review ground, the trains will march and form in proper place and order in rear.

Watches will be synchronized on Saturday by telephoning to Signal Center at Division Headquarters.

A staff officer from each regiment and separate organization will be sent to report to G-3 at the southern exit of Fouilloy at 1:30 P. M., November 9th, to look over the ground and receive instructions.

Promptness and exactness in carrying out these instructions are necessary.

Bring this copy with you to consult on Sunday morning until you are formed on the review ground.

A diagram of review ground will be sent later.

STANLEY H. FORD,
Colonel, G. S.,
Chief of Staff.

27TH DIVISION

SECRET ORDERS
No. 122

November 21, 1918.

The following in connection with rail movement of this division (less artillery) to Le Mans area (Department Sarthe) in the American sector.

1. ENTRAINING STATION.—Corbie.

Duration of journey.—About 72 hours.

Regulating station for detraining.—Le Mans.

Detraining points.—According to location of organization in new area, to be notified later, probably on arrival at regulating station.

Location of Division Headquarters in new area will be at Montfort (northeast of Le Mans).

2. COMPOSITION OF TRAINS.—All trains consist of one officers' coach, thirty box cars and seventeen flat cars.

Capacity of box cars.—Six H. D. horses or eight L. D. horses or thirty-two to forty men.

Each flat car will take an average of three to four axles, except that usual types will not accommodate two G. S. wagons.

3. BILLETING PARTIES will proceed on the first train by which any units of their organizations move. These parties will consist of one officer and one non-commissioned officer per battalion of Infantry, Machine Gun, Engineer Signal Troops and Military Police, and one non-commissioned officer from Division Headquarters Troop, each Brigade Headquarters and Headquarters, 102d Engineers.

4. ENTRAINING OFFICERS.—The following Division Staff Officers will supervise entrainment:

Lieutenant Colonel J. M. Wainwright
Lieutenant Colonel Edward Olmsted
Major Tristram Tupper
First Lieutenant Edw. B. King

Progress of entrainment for the preceding twenty-four hours will be reported daily at 1800 hour by identical telegrams to G-4 II Corps and to "Traffic," Busigny, as follows:

"Serial 3117 trains No. 2 to 7 left at 2019 hours 23d Nov. 0019 hours 0419 hours 0819 hours 1219 hours and 1619 hours 24th Nov."

(a) C. G. 53d Brigade will detail three officers (one not below the rank of captain) to act as Entraining Officers.

Entraining Officers will take up duty four hours before hour of departure of first train.

The names, grades and organizations of the officers selected for the above duty will be notified to G-1 as soon as possible.

Entraining Officers will assist R. T. O's. in the entrainment of units, arranging among themselves for necessary relief, and they will travel by the last train.

5. LOADING PARTIES.—(a) C. O. 102d Engineers will detail one company from 2d Battalion to load Trains Nos. 1 to 10, both inclusive.

(b) C. O. 108th Infantry will detail one company from 2d Battalion to load Trains Nos. 11 to 20, both inclusive.

(c) C. O. 105th Infantry will detail one company from 1st Battalion to load Trains Nos. 21 to 29, both inclusive.

The above companies (with their rolling kitchens and teams) will report to Divisional Entraining Officer at entraining station four hours before the first train of their relief is due to leave.

They will be quartered in the vicinity of the station and will be responsible for the loading of all trains during their period of entrainment, as indicated above.

Officers commanding loading companies will arrange to work their companies in reliefs and according to requirements of Entraining Officers.

6. ENTRAINMENT.—Organization will entrain according to the attached table. Organization or Detachment Commanders will report their entraining strength (officers, men, light draft and heavy draft horses and axles) immediately upon arrival at the station to Divisional Entraining Officer. Dismounted personnel of units will arrive at entraining point one hour before their train is due to depart.

Overcoats will be worn and three blankets carried by all enlisted men.

Canteens will be filled before entraining.

7. TRANSPORT.—All animal-drawn transport will move by rail with its organization.

(a) G. S. wagons now in use for supply purposes will be released to units on the day previous to that of their departure.

(b) Water carts, including tins carried in crates, will be entrained full.

(c) Transport will arrive at station three hours before departure of trains.

8. MOTOR TRANSPORT.—M. T. vehicles will proceed by road under orders of the M. T. O.

American motorcycle side cars will be loaded on train except those required by M. T. O. to accompany M. T. column.

9. DETRAINING OFFICERS.—C. G. 54th Brigade will detail three officers one not below the rank of captain) to act as Divisional Detraining Officers.

These officers will proceed by the first train and take up duty at detraining station.

The names and organizations of the officers selected for the above duty will be notified to G-1 as soon as possible.

Special instructions regarding the detraining of organizations and details in connection with their moves from detraining stations will be notified to these officers by Staff Officer from Division Headquarters, in charge of detraining (Colonel Acher or Major Crimmins, 102d Engineers).

Detraining Officers will assist R. T. O.'s during the detraining as notified them by Staff Officer in charge.

10. UNLOADING PARTIES. (a) C. O. 102d Engineers will detail one company of 1st Battalion to unload Trains Nos. 1 to 10, both inclusive.

(b) C. O. 108th Infantry will detail one company of 2d Battalion to unload Trains Nos. 11 to 20, both inclusive.

(c) C. O. 105th Infantry will detail one company of 1st Battalion to unload Trains Nos. 21 to 29, both inclusive.

As soon as their respective battalions arrive at detraining station these companies will be detached to report to Detraining Officer for duty. They will unload all trains arriving at their respective stations and will be accommodated in the vicinity of the station and will rejoin their battalions as soon as possible after all property and stores to arrive by last train during their period of detraining are clear of the station.

Officers commanding unloading companies will arrange to work their companies in relief and according to the requirements of the Detraining Officers.

In case more than one detraining station is used the Commanding Officer of the first train arriving at any station will detail a company (with its cooker and team) to act as unloading company, using, if possible, the companies designated above.

11. EXTRA BAGGAGE.—All property will be loaded in box and flat cars on the same train as the unit to which it belongs. Supply Officers will give prompt notice to G-1 of lorries required for the transportation of these stores to entraining station.

12. SUPPLIES.—Four days' rations and forage, plus unconsumed portion of ration of day of entrainment, will be taken.

All units will refill twice on the day before departure (once in morning and again in the afternoon).

Travel rations will be drawn at rail-head on day of departure at time of loading.

One box car on each train will be reserved for rations.

Forage will be loaded on flat cars.

13. POLICE.—Commanding Officer 27th Division Military Police will detail two squads of Military Police for duty at entraining station. Detachment will report to Divisional Entraining Officer four hours before the first train is due to leave entraining station. Detail will continue on duty during the entrainment and will proceed by the last train.

A similar number of Military Police will be detailed for duty at detraining station and will proceed by the first train from entraining station, reporting for duty to Divisional Entraining Officers at detraining stations on arrival there.

14. Two ambulances will be at Corbie station throughout the period of entrainment.

15. CONDITION OF QUARTERS.—Medical officers of units concerned will make an inspection of locations occupied by their several organizations to ensure that quarters have been thoroughly policed and left in a proper sanitary state. All measures necessary to effect such conditions will be taken prior to departure of units.

In accordance with regulations an officer will remain behind in each town twenty-four hours after the departure of troops to receive and investigate claims. In Corbie the Division R.R. and Commanding Officer will assume this duty.

16. BRAZIERS.—Division Ordnance Officer has arranged for a limited number of braziers for heating cars while en route. These consist of large oil tins with necessary draught opening near the bottom. To supplement those thus provided, it is recommended that organizations salvage suitable cans and prepare same for the purpose indicated.

17. RED CROSS, Y. M. C. A., KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

These organizations have arranged for the maintenance of a canteen at the entraining station to provide comforts for men while en route.

In addition, the Red Cross and K. of C. have arranged for a supply of such comforts to go on each train for distribution at stops during the journey.

18. COOKING.—For the preparation of hot meals while en route necessary rolling kitchens (probably two per battalion will suffice) will be loaded on flat cars, located conveniently with reference to service of food to troops in box cars and for ease of access to kitchens by cooks.

Units having field ranges will arrange for their proper installation in box cars with an earth or brick base in suitable framing, to avoid burning of cars.

BY COMMAND OF BRIGADIER GENERAL PIERCE:

T. B. TAYLOR,
Colonel, G. S.,
Acting Chief of Staff.

27TH DIVISION

SECRET ORDERS
No. 123

November 22, 1918.

1. The practice of turning in brand-new articles of clothing, equipment and shoes to salvage dumps will cease forthwith.

All such new equipment which may be surplus of requirements in organizations will be turned in to ordnance dump in accordance with previous instructions.

Stringent measures will be taken in case of such improper disposal of public property in future.

2. In connection with movement of transport, officers and men concerned in the loading and care of animals en route will note the following:

- (a) Animals that have been clipped will be blanketed during the journey.
- (b) Unclipped animals will not be blanketed.
- (c) All harness will be removed except halter and halter shank.
- (d) Breast ropes will be kept tight to prevent animals from walking off train.
- (e) Buckets for watering animals en route will be provided on each horse car.
- (f) Forage for feeding animals en route will be loaded on flat cars conveniently located with reference to horse cars, and easily accessible when required.
- (g) Four men from transport will ride in each horse car.
- (h) Cinders or sand (if available at entraining station) will be spread on floors of horse cars to prevent animals from slipping during the journey.

Transport Officers of organizations and Entraining Officers are charged with observation of the foregoing.

BY COMMAND OF BRIGADIER GENERAL PIERCE:

T. B. TAYLOR,
Colonel, G. S.,
Acting Chief of Staff.

November 28, 1918.

The following administrative instructions will govern in the movement of the II Corps to the Le Mans area, and pending further instructions.

1. The 27th Division is assigned to the Montfort area with Division Headquarters at Montfort. Detraining points will be with each divisional area as near as possible to regimental areas.

2. The system of supply prescribed by G. O. 44, G. H. Q., A. E. F., 1918, will be followed except that all requisitions which are required by that order to be forwarded to G-4 of the army will be sent to G-4 of the corps for approval pending the incorporation of this corps into an army.

3. Rail-head will be as follows:

Pont de Gennes

4. RATIONS.—Sub-depots are being established at Pont de Gennes for rations, forage and all Class 1 supplies. Issues will be made direct to regiments and separate units, on ten day returns.

5. Requisitions for Class 2 and 3 will be handled as laid down in G. O. 44, A. E. F., 1918.

6. BATHS AND LAUNDRIES.—Portable baths now with the division will be utilized as far as possible. There are no laundry facilities available. The men will be provided with two suits of clothing and will be required to arrange for their own laundry.

7. Water supply is ample, but the proper precautions will be taken before its use as drinking water.

8. Sick will be evacuated to Base Hospital No. 101 at Belgian Camp, east of Le Mans.

Sick horses will be treated under instructions to be issued by the Corps Veterinarian.

BY COMMAND OF MAJOR GENERAL O'RYAN:

T. B. TAYLOR,
Colonel, G. S.,
Acting Chief of Staff.

Ninety-five officers and 3,792 men available for all duty. Weather, good; roads, good; health, very good; camp, fair. Losses: One officer and eight men killed, three officers and 178 men wounded, three officers and 191 men missing.
105th Infantry.....	106th Infantry holding division sector on front line advanced under barrage 5:30 this A. M. to capture red line. 3d Battalion, 105th Infantry, was assigned duty of following the left of the advancing line and forming a protective flank to the left, using two companies for this purpose. Companies K and M were selected for this mission. Due to failure of advancing units to properly mop up, our protective flank was under machine gun fire from the rear and was unable to maintain line to the flank as planned. Commanding Officer, 3d Battalion also reported he was unable to find line of 106th Infantry on his right. At 2:30 A. M. one company from 1st Battalion was sent forward to report to Commanding Officer 1st Battalion, 106th Infantry, as supporting troops, and one company from 2d Battalion was sent forward to report to Commanding Officer, 2d Battalion, 106th Infantry, as supporting troops. At 11 A. M. orders issued to Commanding Officer 2d Battalion to send one company to vicinity of Yak Post to remain there subject to further orders. Fighting continued during the afternoon and at dusk Commanding Officer 3d Battalion reported he had established his line in support as follows: F.5.B.5.0. southerly to F.5.d.7.3, thence along road to F.11.b.05.25, thence along London Road, F.11.d.8.7, thence along trenches to F.17.b.5.8. Orders received 4 P. M. that our units would be relieved by units of 107th Infantry and 108th Infantry during the night and directing that upon relief troops proceed to areas north of St. Emilie. All battalions and separate unit commanders notified. One day's rations and one day's forage with troops. Seventy-two officers and 2,609 men available for all duty. Weather, good; roads, good; health, good; camp, good.
1st Battalion.....	Our aeroplanes and artillery active throughout day. Enemy artillery fairly active. Enemy aeroplanes

1st Battalion (Continued) over our line at 7 and 10 p. m. One company went forward to take over sector occupied by 1st Battalion, 106th Infantry. Patrols sent out to establish new line at some favorable point forward. Patrols after being out four hours returned with report that they had gone forward almost to enemy line and could not find a suitable position. One day's rations and forage with troops. No forage or rations in supply train. Eleven officers and 535 men available for all duty. Weather, good; roads, good; health, good; camp good.

2d Battalion A. M. Heavy barrage laid down on enemy lines in front of this divisional sector from 5:30 to 8:15 this morning. Slight retaliation in this vicinity by enemy during this period 1,000 yards gained by Allies. P. M. Heavy barrage laid down on enemy lines in front of this divisional sector at about noon today, lasting until about 12:45 p. m., this being due to counter-attack by enemy. P. M. Slight shelling in vicinity of 2d Battalion Headquarters tonight, our artillery very active. Rations delivered as usual. This battalion remained in support during attack, and therefore no companies of this battalion were actually engaged with enemy. Nineteen officers and 714 men available for all duty. Rations, 733. Weather, fair; health, excellent; camp, good. Losses: Two men gassed.

3d Battalion Orders received night September 26-27th, two companies of this battalion to go forward at zero hour (5:30 A. M.) September 27th with 106th Infantry to act as left flank guard. Companies K and M took up position on left of 106th Infantry and at zero hour advanced behind barrage. Company K reached its objective at 6:05 A. M., but later had to retire to a position about 300 yards in front of starting-off line account of no flank protection and connected up with British met on its left. No clear account can be given of Company M's advance because both its officers and first sergeant and three platoon sergeants were killed, but from accounts of survivors it apparently reached its objective with no sign of 106th Infantry on its right and company was completely disorganized and forced to fall back and attach itself to Company K. At about 11 A. M. one platoon of Company L was sent forward as a reinforcement, followed by the remainder of the battalion. At 4 p. m. Company G, 105th Infantry in support at about 400 yards in rear. Before dark the battalion took up position at original starting line, as no track could be found of 106th Infantry on our right or front. One day's rations and forage with troops. One day's forage and rations in supply train. Nineteen officers and 744 men available for all duty. Weather, fair; roads, muddy; health, fine; camp, dugouts.

106th Infantry The attack was made promptly on the zero hour 5:30, and about forty minutes later the success signal was observed from the 3d Battalion. The objectives were reached and held. Failure of the 105th Infantry on the left to occupy Lark Trench rendered the Knoll untenable. Sixty-three in combat train. One day's rations and forage with troops. Twenty-three officers and 1,183 men available for all duty. Weather, variable; roads, good; health, excellent; camp, poor. Losses: One officer and eight men killed, three officers and 176 men wounded, three officers and 191 men missing.

NOTE.—Crellin Avenue trench, not Lark trench, was objective of 3d Battalion of 105th Infantry.

- 1st Battalion..... Battalion advanced at 5:30 A. M. A, B and C, with Company D in support. Battalion gained objective 1,000 yards. The tanks supposed to operate with this battalion did not get into action. Owing to the heavy casualties and lack of information and in anticipation of counter-attack Battalion Headquarters under command of adjutant were sent to occupy old first line position at 6 P. M. Company B, 105th Infantry, arrived and were disposed in most advantageous manner to resist attack. At 7:30 P. M. four contact patrols were sent out to our front. They advanced to the objective and returned information that they saw nothing of the enemy. Were unable to get in touch with our Battalion or with the troops on either flank. Advance party of relieving battalion arrived at 11 P. M. Eighteen limbers in combat train. One day's rations and forage with troops. No rations or forage in supply train. Four officers and 198 men available for all duty. Weather, rainy; roads, heavy; health, good.
- 2d Battalion..... This battalion in front line. Battalion Headquarters at F.17.d.7.6. Battalion ordered to advance front line to a line along A.14.a.2.9. to A.20.a.1.1. - 105th Infantry..... II American Corps today attacked the Hindenburg Line north of St. Quentin, 27th Division advancing in the left sector. 108th Infantry on the right, 107th Infantry on the left. A battalion of the 106th Infantry was assigned to duty of mopping up in the rear of the advance of the 107th Infantry. The 105th Infantry, in column of battalions in artillery formation, moved from assembly area (between Yak Post and Lempire Post) in the rear of the 106th Infantry, the mission of the 105th Infantry being to move across the canal and to form a line to the left, facing northwest along the canal, and from this position to move forward at 11 A. M., clearing the town of Vendhuile, and advance to clear up Hindenburg Line for about 2,000 yards to the north, the final objective being a line from S.13.d. southeast to Pienne and thence southeast to S.23.d.7.0. At 5:50 A. M. barrage came down and movement of this regiment from assembly area started. Movement proceeded until the advance was stopped by heavy resistance from enemy machine guns. At the same time a dense smoke screen covered the column. The battalions deployed and took cover from machine-gun fire and continued fighting during the day, occupying portions of Knoll Switch in A.1.e., Willow Trench in A.7., Cochran Avenue, Island Traverse and Causeway Lane in F.12. Individuals and detachments from 106th, 107th and 108th Infantry were intermingled with our units. Regimental Headquarters moved from Ronssoy to dugouts on road F.16.d.7.4. at 8 A. M. and from there to Duncan Post at 11 A. M. Telephone communication was maintained from Regimental Headquarters to Battalion Headquarters except for frequent breaks caused by shell fire, but no communication (telephone) was maintained with Battalion Headquarters. At about 7:30 P. M., under orders from Brigade Commander, Regimental Headquarters moved to Dugout F.16.d.7.4. At 7:30 P. M., Operations Memorandum from 53d Infantry Brigade, dated September 29th, received, designating Colonel Andrews to command the entire line from Duncan Post to Fleeceall Post, inclusive, and all troops of whatever organization located therein, and directing organizations of all such troops for support line. At 7:51 P. M., Operation Memorandum issued by Colonel Andrews dividing the sectors into three subsectors and designating subsector commanders as follows: Right subsector, Lieutenant Colonel Berry, 106th Infantry; center subsector, Colonel DeBevoise, 107th Infantry; left subsector, Major Engel, 107th Infantry, and directing that all troops in subsectors, regardless of organization, be reorganized and placed in the best defense position available and a strong line of outposts established. Subsector commanders reported reorganization going on during evening. Number of casualties, uncertain. One day's rations and forage with troops. Seventy officers and 2,495 men available for all duty. Weather, good; roads, good; health, good; camp, good.

- 1st Battalion..... Battalion left area near St. Emilie, 3:30 A. M., marching toward front line, halted and waited until 5:30 A. M., the zero hour, when artillery and machine gun battalions laid down barrage. Battalion advanced, meeting friendly tanks just ahead of German former front line trenches. Battalion stopped its advance, due to the fact that shells from our own barrage were breaking directly overhead. While battalion was halted a number of Germans were taken prisoner, about 150 in number. One day's rations and forage with troops. No forage or rations in supply train. Five officers and 335 men available for all duty. Losses: Thirty men killed, seven officers and 120 men wounded, fifty-nine men missing.
- 2d Battalion..... This battalion left Epehy at 3:50 A. M. today to take over position at Yak Post. The order in which the battalions of this regiment were placed was—2d Battalion, 1st Battalion, 3d Battalion. Zero hour—5:50 A. M.—very heavy shelling by enemy. Our artillery laid heavy barrage as troops went over the top. 105th Infantry was in support, following 107th Infantry and a detachment of the 106th Infantry. The objective for this regiment was to pass through the 107th and advance north on Putney. This regiment ran into heavy machine-gun fire, and therefore progress was very slow. Weather, fair; health, good.
- 3d Battalion..... At 2:30 A. M. battalion broke camp, arriving at starting-off line at 4:30 A. M. At 5:50 A. M. (zero hour) barrage advanced. Up to this time and at no time thereafter was any sign seen of 106th Infantry. Shortly after starting units became intermingled, but the regiment as a whole kept within its boundaries. At 2,000 yards from starting-off line serious enemy opposition was met with in the Knoll system of trenches, due to the fact that the 107th Infantry swung off to the right. The Knoll was mopped up by the 1st and 3d Battalions. The 1st Battalion advanced across the Macquincourt Valley to opposite ridge, 3d Battalion remaining on west side of valley. About 4 P. M. 1st Battalion forced to withdraw and consolidate with 3d Battalion in the Knoll system. Contact gained with British troops on our left and Australian on our right. Our position was sent to Regimental Headquarters through Artillery O. P. wire and by runners. This position held during the night. Captain Buckley went to the rear wounded and Captain Clinton, who had been put in command of Company M for the attack, resumed command of the battalion. One day's rations and forage with troops. One day's rations and forage in supply train. Eighteen officers and 588 men available for all duty. Weather, fair; roads, good; health, good; camp, dugouts.

105TH INFANTRY

Information received this A. M. from Liaison Officer that the 11th and 9th Australian Brigades were attacking the Bony system from the south and the 10th Australian Battalion was mopping up at A.14 and A.S.c. and d. Fighting continued during the day and the re-organization proceeded as per plan. At A. M. orders received revoking previous order organizing all troops in the territory for the defense of the line and directing that organizations revert to original status of command, administration, etc. At A. M. orders issued by Colonel Andrews to all subsector commanders directing as above, also that battle-field be policed, sick and wounded cared for, etc. Also directing the salvaging of American and British material, and cleaning of all property. At 6:26 P. M. order issued pursuant to brigade order directing the withdrawal of this regiment at once to St. Emilie area, directing battalions to move to same area occupied prior to coming into the line. Up to midnight the Commanding Officer, 1st Battalion, the Commanding Officer, 2d Battalion and the Commanding Officer, Machine Gun Company had reported receipt of order. The Commanding officer, 3d Battalion had not reported receipt of order. 1st and 2d Battalions were withdrawn during the evening. Losses: Uncertain. Strength: uncertain.

MESSAGES

No. 17. From center subsector C. O. at F.17.a.2.4, September 29, 11:30 P. M. to Blanding and Andrews. Order to take command subsector received. Am reorganizing now. Lone Tree Trench occupied by a few men of the 107th Infantry. Boche also in this trench. Am sending our patrols to reconnoiter. Willow Trench occupied by 107th and 105th Infantry, also by Australians. Fag Trench, Causeway Lane and Egg Post occupied by Buffs Battalion. Fag Support occupied by 7th Queens. Have sent out officers to reorganize Americans in these trenches and maintain contact on right and left. From all reports I believe the 3d Battalion, 107th Infantry, have detachments in the Hindenburg Line and east of Canal. Have been unable to get in touch with them. Will maintain all positions. Officers greatly needed. My headquarters will remain in Kent Lane, F.17.a.4.2. DeBevoise. Received 1:15 A. M. 30th.

6:25 A. M., September 30th. To Major Engel, Commanding Officer. Left subsector: Report immediately on your defense arrangements in your subsector. No report has been received from you. Urgent. Andrews. Your ration parties have not reported to these headquarters for rations for 105th men. Can you send them down in daytime? Andrews.

6:25 A. M., September 30th. To Colonel DeBevoise: Report desired of your present selection and arrangements for defense your subsector. No ration parties have arrived for rations for 105th men. What arrangements will you make. Andrews.

6:25 A. M., September 30th. To Lieutenant Colonel Berry: Immediate report required of your dispositions and plans for defense your subsector. Andrews.

8:39 A. M., September 30th. To Lieutenant Colonel Berry: Hold on to all troops in your sector. Am sending rations for 150 men. Send carrying parties here for any additional rations needed. Report what you can of allied troops to your front. Andrews.

To Commanding Officer 105th Infantry: Commanding Officer of unit 108th Infantry here has received orders from Colonel Jennings to cover another sector which includes Duncan Post on left. This would leave line to Doleful Post uncovered. Advise me what to do. Have no more men. Berry. Received 7:40, Adj. 30th.

September 30th. To Major Engel: No ration parties have reported here. What is ration situation? Your action leaving troops in forward trenches correct. They will not be withdrawn to line given you unless forced. Give me any information of allied troops to your front. Andrews.

7:40 A. M., September 30th. To Commanding Officer 105th Infantry: Sent message 6:30 A. M. dispositions. Have about 200 men 108th Infantry covering line Duncan Post-Doleful Post, inclusive. Small patrols in front. Patrol on right to find Australians. Am covering left (Doleful Post) by patrol until I can organize it. Will also attend to communication trenches. Will probably lose these men, as Colonel Jennings has ordered them to cover another sector. We are holding on until we hear from you. Berry.

September 30th. To Commanding General 53d Brigade: Following information just received from 10th Australian Brigade through Liaison Officer quote 1st and 9th Brigades are attacking the Bony System from south and attack due north. Our brigade are mopping up at A.14 and A.8.c. and d. The 37th Battalion have moved to London Road in F.11 and if the Americans do not take The Knoll the 37th will do so, and if attack is successful our front will be A.8.central to A.7.central northeast of The Knoll. So far the 11th have not taken Bony and the Hun appears to be there in strength. Our troops are out in A.14.a and c. Signed A. I. B unquote. Andrews.

10:19 A. M., September 30th. To Lieutenant Colonel Berry: I must have immediately report showing—1, numbers; 2, organization and units; 3, dispositions in line; 4, also number of officers available and units in your subsector. (Same message to Colonel DeBevoise and Major Engel at 10:20 A. M.) Andrews.

8:15 A. M., September 30th. To Commanding Officer 105th Infantry: One Australian unit on our right went forward at dawn. Another unit of Australians on our right now. Am sending to find out name. Have not got in touch with 107th on left, but found an Australian machine gun there. Am collecting stragglers, wounded, etc. Will you fix up matters with Jennings regarding use of his men? Front quiet. There are men walking all over the front 500 yards. Trench. Berry.

6:30 A. M., September 30th. To Commanding Officer 105th Infantry: Am using about 200 men and four officers of the 108th Infantry to cover line Duncan Post to Doleful Post, inclusive. Have small patrols to front and patrol on right flank looking up Australians. Berry. Received 7:40 A. M. Adj.

7:15 A. M., Headquarters 107th Infantry, September 30th. To Colonel Andrews: All men in center subsector that could be reached and found were rationed and provided with ammunition last night. Report of situation will be forwarded later. General estimate of situation was forwarded to Brigade Commander, but through error was not sent through your headquarters. Duplicate will be prepared and will be forwarded to you. DeBevoise. Received 7:42 A. M., September 30th.

From Commanding Officer 107th Infantry, center subsector at F.17.a.2.1, September 30th, 1918, at 6:20 A. M. No. 18. To Commanding Officer sector and intermediate commanders. Have reorganized center subsector. Captain MacArthur, 105th Infantry, has about 400 men in immediate vicinity disposed in Island Traverse, and southerly through Fag Trench and Causeway Lane. Captain Bird, Machine Gun Company, 105th Infantry, has about 100 men from various infantry units in and around Egg Post. British who are in the trenches with us have sent detachments into Tombois Road. We are supported by a platoon of the machine gun company. Enemy is shelling this sector with whiz bangs, but not very effective. Sent food up as requested. DeBevoise. Received 7:17 A. M., September 30th.

Headquarters, 107th Infantry. To Colonel Andrews: Made personal reconnaissance immediately upon receipt of orders and found that men from regiments of the 53d and 54th Brigades were all over and beyond the front of the subsector.

(Here the messages stop and the entry is made that Colonel Taylor ordered that no more papers be copied.)

OPERATIONS REPORT 107TH INFANTRY

Period from 8:00 o'clock October 17th to 8:00 o'clock October 18th.

1. Upon arrival of Brigade Commander at advance Brigade Headquarters, W.31.a.9.8, Regimental Headquarters was moved at 9:50 o'clock to Headquarters of 108th Infantry, Q.33.b.2.1, arriving there at 10:30 o'clock. At 8:00 o'clock Captain Brady, Operations Officer, left to reconnoiter ground in advance to determine situation, as all telephone lines were down. This information was communicated at 8:40 to Brigade Adjutant, 54th Brigade. At 8:55 Captain Brady returned, having been as far forward as the river. Everything was going nicely and the troops had crossed the river. The 106th Machine Gun Battalion, detailed to 1st Battalion, 107th Infantry, were delayed in crossing the river, but were then on their way. At 11:25 o'clock General DeBevoise left Regimental Headquarters for conference with General Pierce, returned at 12:55. Plan of action changed as follows: 107th and 108th Infantry are to consolidate positions, but not go beyond first objective with the 107th Infantry, in support. Position was established west of road Q.23.d.8.3., Q.30.d.4.0. S. O. S. line. Line for barrage to be 500 yards east of road. At 20:10 107th had organized in support with strong points at Q.29.a.7.5. Bandival Farm held by 1st Battalion, supported by 106th Machine Gun Battalion, and at Q.28.d.8.5. (high ground) held by 3d Battalion, supported by 106th Machine Gun Battalion and two Stokes mortars. This position was reinforced at 21:00 o'clock by provisional company of all available men and all stragglers to be found who were used to get rations to the battalions and remain to strengthen defense.

2. Enemy artillery very active during period. 13:35 o'clock heavy shell fire was reported on Machine Gun Company transport line, which caused the loss of nine mules. At 14:00 o'clock 3d Battalion reported heavy shelling on road held by them. At 15:35 o'clock trench mortars were very active on our 1st Battalion's position. The artillery was asked to strafe the woods Q.18. and watch for other possible targets to the south between road and S. O. S. line. 1:06 o'clock, information received from Headquarters 27th Division, through Captain Terry, "prisoner states Bandival Farm and Advantage Farm are mined."

3. Usual liaison with flanks maintained. No means of communication forward at any time except by runner. No lateral communication except one line to 51th Brigade and runners.

4. Fire steps were constructed in the bank of road from Q.28.d.3.1. to Q.31.d.5.8. by 3d Battalion. At 23:50 o'clock organization strong points Q.28.d.8.5. and Q.29.b.3.8. carried out with necessary construction of pits and shelters.

5. Patrols. None reported except customary contact patrols to flanks.

6. At 10:30 o'clock a conference was held between Commanding Officer 107th Infantry and Commanding Officer 108th Infantry at which the situation was discussed. The result of this conference was the departure of General DeBevoise at 11:25 o'clock for conference with General Pierce. The following orders were issued and received. Those received as follows: At 18:35 o'clock a memorandum was sent to Commanding General, 51th Brigade to effect that the total rifle strength of 107th and 108th Infantry was 550, which number was totally inadequate in the estimation of General DeBevoise. At 20:10 o'clock in reply to this the Commanding General, 54th Brigade advised that he had taken the matter up with the Division Commander, also getting advance information relative to attack contemplated for the morning of the 18th. Orders from Commanding General 51th Brigade received through Lieutenant Baxter to hold road running through Q.23.d. Q.30.d. Field Order No. 64 and addenda, Headquarters 27th Division, received. Field Order No. 30, 54th Brigade, received. At 13:08 o'clock orders were issued to all Battalion and Company Commanders, following the conference between Generals Pierce and DeBevoise, directing that under no circumstances will advance be made beyond Q.23.d.8.4. to Q.30.d.4.0., that the S. O. S. line will be 500 yards east of road. At 14:30 o'clock all battalions had reported themselves in position as above, work on fire steps and defense progressing. At 16:30 o'clock Commanding Officer, Machine Gun Company ordered to advance to Q.29.c.8.6. (Bandival Farm). At 18:23 orders issued to Commanding Officer, 1st Battalion to use one company to protect left flank, paying particular attention to sunken road Q.29.a. At 1:45 o'clock Field Order No. 38, with addenda to Field Order No. 38, Headquarters 107th, was issued, giving in detail the plan for attack this morning. 4:30 o'clock all battalions were in position in readiness for attack. At 5:30 the units moved forward with the barrage.

APPENDIX C DECORATIONS
MEDAL OF HONOR

*WILLIAM BRADFORD TURNER, First Lieutenant, 105th Infantry. For conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity above and beyond the call of duty in action with the enemy near Ronssoy, France, September 27, 1918. He led a small group of men to the attack, under terrific artillery and machine-gun fire, after they had become separated from the rest of the company in the darkness. Single-handed he rushed an enemy machine gun which had suddenly opened fire on his group and killed the crew with his pistol. He then pressed forward to another machine-gun post twenty-five yards away and had killed one gunner himself by the time the remainder of his detachment arrived and put the gun out of action. With the utmost bravery he continued to lead his men over three lines of hostile trenches, cleaning up each one as they advanced, regardless of the fact that he had been wounded three times, and killed several of the enemy in hand-to-hand encounters. After his pistol ammunition was exhausted, this gallant officer seized the rifle of a dead soldier, bayoneted several members of a machine-gun crew, and shot the other. Upon reaching the fourth line trench, which was his objective, Lieutenant Turner captured it with the nine men remaining in his group and resisted a hostile counter-attack until he was finally surrounded and killed. Emergency address: Charles P. Turner, brother, 92 4th Street, Garden City, Long Island, N. Y.

ALAN LOUIS EGGERS, Sergeant, Machine Gun Company, 107th Infantry. For conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity above and beyond the call of duty in action with the enemy near Le Catelet, France, September 29, 1918. Becoming separated from their platoon by a smoke barrage, Sergeant Eggers, Sergeant John C. Latham and Corporal Thomas E. O'Shea took cover in a shell hole well within the enemy's lines. Upon hearing a call for help from an American tank, which had become disabled thirty yards from them, the three soldiers left their shelter and started toward the tank, under heavy fire from German machine guns and trench mortars. In crossing the fire-swept area Corporal O'Shea was mortally wounded, but his companions, undeterred, proceeded to the tank, rescued a wounded officer, and assisted two wounded soldiers to cover in a sap of a near-by trench. Sergeant Eggers and Sergeant Latham then returned to the tank in the face of the violent fire, dismounted a Hotchkiss gun, and took it back to where the wounded men were, keeping off the enemy all day by effective use of the gun, and later bringing it, with the wounded men, back to our lines under cover of darkness. Residence at enlistment: 152 Summit Avenue, Summit, N. J.

JOHN CRIDLAND LATHAM, Sergeant, Machine Gun Company, 107th Infantry. For conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity above and beyond the call of duty in action with the enemy near Le Catelet, France, September 29, 1918. Becoming separated from their platoon by a smoke barrage, Sergeant Latham, Sergeant Alan L. Eggers and Corporal Thomas E. O'Shea took cover in a shell hole well within the enemy's lines. Upon hearing a call for help from an American tank, which had become disabled thirty yards from them, the three soldiers left their shelter and started toward the tank under heavy fire from German machine guns and trench mortars. In crossing the fire-swept area Corporal O'Shea was mortally wounded, but his companions, undeterred, proceeded to the tank, rescued a wounded officer, and assisted two wounded soldiers to cover in the sap of a near-by trench. Sergeant Latham and Sergeant Eggers then returned to the tank in the face of the violent fire, dismounted a Hotchkiss gun and took it back to where the wounded men were, keeping off the enemy all day by effective use of the gun, and later bringing it, with the wounded men, back to our lines under cover of darkness. Residence at enlistment: 171 Montross Avenue, Rutherford, N. J.

REIDAR WAALER, Sergeant, Company A, 105th Machine Gun Battalion. For conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity above and beyond the call of duty in action with the enemy near Ronssoy, France, September 27, 1918. In the face of heavy artillery and machine-gun fire, he crawled forward in a burning British tank, in which some of the crew were imprisoned and succeeded in rescuing two men. Although the tank was then burning fiercely and contained ammunition which was likely to explode at any time, this soldier immediately returned to the tank, and entering it, made a search for the other occupants, remaining until he satisfied himself that there were no more living men in the tank. Residence at enlistment: 104 West 96th Street, New York, N. Y.

*THOMAS E. O'SHEA, Corporal, Machine Gun Company, 107th Infantry. For conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity above and beyond the call of duty in action with the enemy near Le Catelet, France, September 29, 1918. Becoming separated from their platoon by a smoke barrage, Corporal O'Shea with two other soldiers took cover in a shell hole well within the enemy's lines. Upon hearing a call for help from an American tank, which had become disabled thirty yards from them, the three soldiers left their shelter and started toward the tank under heavy fire from German machine guns and trench mortars. In crossing the fire-swept area Corporal O'Shea was mortally wounded and died of wounds shortly afterwards. Emergency address: Mr. Thomas E. O'Shea, father, 90 West Street, New York, N. Y. Residence at enlistment: 587 Springfield Avenue, Summit, N. J.

FRANK GAFFNEY, private, first class, Company G, 108th Infantry. For conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity above and beyond the call of duty in action with the enemy near Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. Private Gaffney, an automatic rifleman, pushing forward alone with his gun, after all the other members of his squad had been killed, discovered several Germans placing a heavy machine gun in position. He killed the crew, captured the gun, bombed several dugouts, and, after killing four more of the enemy with his pistol, held the position until reinforcement came up, when eighty prisoners were captured. Residence at enlistment: 831 Pierce Avenue, Niagara Falls, N. Y.

Address: Forest Avenue, Rye, N. Y. Residence at appointment: Forest Avenue, Rye, N. Y.

DISTINGUISHED SERVICE CROSS

J. LESLIE KINCAID, Lieutenant Colonel, Division Judge Advocate. (Citation not available.)

PAUL DALY, Major, 198th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Soissons, France, July 19-22, 1918. Although wounded he took command of the 1st Battalion of his regiment after the previous Battalion Commanders had been wounded, displaying the highest courage in advancing and holding the objective of his battalion. Three days later he was again wounded, but remained with his command until he was ordered to the rear by his Regimental Commander. Residence at appointment: 20 Nassau Street, New York, N. Y.

HENRY ADSIT, Captain, Machine Gun Company, 107th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Le Catelet, France, September 29, 1918. While leading a platoon of heavy machine guns through a smoke screen and under terrific fire, he suddenly became pocketed in the midst of enemy machine-gun strongholds. He personally went forward and, with the aid of bombs and the effective use of his pistol, made possible the holding of the position until a defense was organized.

Residence at appointment: 157 Park Street, Buffalo, N. Y.

WALTER GRESHAM ANDREWS, Captain, Machine Gun Company, 107th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Vendhuile, France, September 29-30, 1918. Although severely wounded in the arm on the morning of September 29th, Captain Andrews gallantly led his company throughout the attack on the Hindenburg Line. After the advance he made a personal reconnaissance under heavy shell and machine-gun fire and organized a section of a trench within twenty yards of the enemy line. This position was held against enemy grenade and machine-gun fire until his company was relieved on the afternoon of September 30th. Residence at appointment: Buffalo, N. Y.

RUTHERFORD IRELAND, Captain, 106th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near St. Souplet, France, October 18, 1918. He continued to lead his battalion in attack, although suffering great pain from a wound caused by shell fire. After being ordered to the dressing station, he had his wound dressed without waiting to have the shrapnel removed, returning to his battalion and remaining on duty for two days. Residence at appointment: 556 Hancock Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

ABNER H. PLATT, Captain, formerly Commanding Officer, Company C, 106th Machine Gun Battalion. For extraordinary heroism in action near St. Souplet, France, October 17, 1918. Captain Platt, while moving forward in the attack with machine-gun units, encountered a number of stragglers in a sunken road. He organized these men into a company and led them in attacking waves. Later he personally led a patrol which located and silenced enemy machine guns which were firing from a flank position.

CHARLES A. SANDBURG, Captain, Company E, 108th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near St. Souplet, France, October 17, 1918. After having been severely wounded, he continued to advance with his command until ordered to leave the field by his Regimental Commander. Residence at appointment: 87 Prather Avenue, Jamestown, N. Y.

MARVIN L. ATKINS, First Lieutenant, 105th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near St. Souplet, France, October 18, 1918. Continuing in action after being gassed, Lieutenant Atkins displayed exceptional personal bravery when the advance of his platoon was checked by heavy machine gun fire in seizing the gun of a wounded soldier and attacking the machine gun, which he silenced and captured. Under the inspiration of this fearless act his company overcame several other machine-gun emplacements and reached the objective. Residence at appointment: 174 Argyle Place, Arlington, N. J.

RALPH POLK BUELL, First Lieutenant, 107th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action in an attack on the Hindenburg Line, September 29, 1918. Lieutenant Buell led his company in attack exposed to heavy artillery fire. When confronted by a strong enemy machine-gun position, firing point-blank on his advancing unit, he led the dash which resulted in the capture of the trench. He fell wounded thirty yards in advance of his men. Residence at appointment: 29 Washington Square, New York, N. Y.

DAVID T. BURGH, First Lieutenant, Chaplain, 105th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action east of Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. During the operations against the Hindenburg Line he displayed remarkable devotion to duty and courage in caring for the wounded under heavy shell and machine gun fire. The splendid example set by this officer was an inspiration to the combat troops. Residence at appointment: Warren, Me.

ROBERT A. BYRNS, First Lieutenant, 107th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Vendhuile, France, September 29, 1918. Lieutenant Byrns, although himself wounded, reorganized his company after the captain was killed and led it forward in the face of intense machine gun fire until he was wounded a second time. His splendid courage and gallant conduct set an inspiring example to all ranks. Address: Care of the Adjutant General of the Army, Washington, D. C. Residence at appointment: Arrochar, Staten Island, N. Y.

FRED C. DAVIS, First Lieutenant, 108th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Ronssoy, France, September 29-30, 1918. He successfully held a trench several hundred yards in advance of the Hindenburg Line, under heavy shell and machine-gun fire, with a detachment which he had organized with men from different organizations. The following morning he led his detachment still farther, cleaning up about 500 yards of enemy trenches. Residence at appointment: Madrid, Iowa.

*PERCY M. HALL, First Lieutenant, 107th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. Disregarding his extremely weak condition, he insisted on going into attack with his company. Recent illness made it nearly impossible for him to stand, still he went to all parts of the line during an enemy counter-barrage and murderous machine-gun fire, maintaining his platoon formations. By giving his overcoat to a wounded man he so exposed himself that he died shortly afterwards from the effects. Emergency address: Mrs. Joseph A. Howe, sister, 43 Brunswick Road, Montclair, N. J. Residence at appointment: Montclair, N. J.

WILLIAM S. HAWKINS, First Lieutenant, 107th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near St. Souplet, France, October 17-18, 1918. Acting as liaison officer during the forcing of Le Selle River, Lieutenant Hawkins was severely wounded by an exploding shell. Undeterred by the weakened condition to which his wound reduced him, he bravely continued on, working untiringly under heavy shell and machine-gun fire for two days until the advance of his battalion was checked. Residence at appointment: 16 North 14th Street, Flushing, Long Island, N. Y.

*ALFRED J. HOOK, First Lieutenant, 106th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action east of Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. He exhibited great courage and gallantry in taping off the line of departure for his company under a heavy shell and machine-gun fire. Later in the attack this daring officer was killed at the head of his company. Emergency address: Mrs. Hook, mother, 1001 Ocean Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y. Residence at appointment: 1467 East 15th Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

*FRANKLYN J. JACKSON, First Lieutenant, 106th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action east of Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. During the operations against the Hindenburg Line he, as trench mortar officer of his regiment, twice volunteered to go forward under heavy shell and machine-gun fire on a personal reconnaissance. While gallantly and courageously engaged in the second reconnaissance he was killed. Emergency address: Mrs. Elizabeth S. Jackson, mother, 505 Clinton Avenue, New York, N. Y. Residence at appointment: 505 Clinton Avenue, New York, N. Y.

FRANCIS A. KELLEY, First Lieutenant, Chaplain, 104th Machine Gun Battalion. For repeated acts of extraordinary heroism in action near Ronssoy, France, September 26-30, 1918, and east of Le Selle River, France, October 13-20, 1918. During the operations of his regiment against the Hindenburg Line, and later east of Le Selle River, he was constantly at the front, caring for the wounded and supervising the burial of the dead, often under heavy shell and machine-gun fire. His fearless conduct afforded an inspiring example to the combat troops. Residence at appointment: 99 Congress Street, Cohoes, N. Y.

DELANCY KING, First Lieutenant, 108th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. He was wounded early in the engagement, but continued to lead his men until he received a second wound. His gallantry under shell and machine-gun fire and his disregard for his own safety furnished a splendid example to all ranks. Residence at appointment: 140 Bedford Avenue, Buffalo, N. Y.

JAMES R. LISA, First Lieutenant, Medical Corps, attached to 105th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near St. Souplet, France, October 18, 1918. After his battalion had been compelled to withdraw because of enfilading fire, Lieutenant Lisa displayed marked bravery in going forward and attending wounded men, whose evacuation was impossible because of the intense fire. Residence at appointment: 301 6th Street, Calumet, Mich.

JAMES J. ROOS, First Lieutenant, 108th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near St. Souplet, France, October 17, 1918. During the forcing of Le Selle River, he made personal reconnaissances of the territory, under terrific machine-gun fire, before leading his men in attack. Advancing to a farm which was strongly fortified by the enemy, he scattered his men about the building, from which a deadly fire was pouring, and, advancing alone into the building, captured nearly 200 Germans at the point of his pistol. He was killed in attack the following morning. Emergency address: Mrs. James J. Roos, wife, Dover, Ga. Residence at appointment: Dover, Ga.

CARL GUSTAVE ROBERT ROSS, First Lieutenant, 105th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action east of Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. When his company was held up by an enemy machine-gun post, he advanced alone against it and succeeded in putting it out of action, exhibiting great bravery and gallantry, which was a splendid example to all ranks. Residence at appointment: 17 West 103d Street, New York, N. Y.

ARTHUR TALBOT, First Lieutenant, 107th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near La Roux Farm, France, October 18, 1918. Being unable to find a suitable target for the 37-millimeter gun of which he was in command, Lieutenant Talbot armed the men of his section with enemy rifles and led a daylight patrol in advance of the lines. He reconnoitered La Roux Farm, exposed to heavy machine-gun fire, and put two enemy machine guns out of action, thus enabling our line to advance 1,000 yards without serious losses. Residence at appointment: 59 West 87th Street, New York, N. Y.

ROYAL K. TUCKER, First Lieutenant, Chaplain, 105th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action east of Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. During the operations against the Hindenburg Line he displayed remarkable devotion to duty and courage in caring for the wounded under heavy shell and machine-gun fire. The splendid example set by this officer was an inspiration to the combat troops. Residence at appointment: 207 South Dearborn Street, Mobile, Ala.

JOHN C. WARD, First Lieutenant, Chaplain, 108th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action east of Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. During the operations against the Hindenburg Line he voluntarily and at great risk to himself went forward under heavy shell and machine-gun fire to care for the wounded and to search for the dead. Twice he was ordered off the field of battle by officers, being told each time that it was sure death to remain. During the entire time his regiment was engaged he remained on the field under fire, displaying a fine example of bravery and courage which was an inspiration to all. Residence at appointment: 397 Linwood Avenue, Buffalo, N. Y.

EDWARD WILLIS, First Lieutenant, 107th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. He displayed remarkable gallantry in leading his platoon of machine guns for more than 2,000 yards under terrific machine-gun fire. Even after being mortally wounded and unable to advance farther, he continued to urge his men on. Emergency address: Mrs. Edward Willis, wife, 144 Summit Avenue, Summit, N. J. Residence at appointment: 29 Norwood Avenue, Summit, N. J.

WILLARD M. WEBSTER, First Lieutenant, 105th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. He received a painful wound in the face shortly after leading his company to the attack, but he refused to be evacuated until he suffered additional wounds, which eventually caused his death. Emergency address: Mrs. Beulah Webster, mother, 4142 Conklin Street, San Diego, Calif. Residence at appointment: 241 West 120th Street, New York, N. Y.

LANE S. ANDERSON, Second Lieutenant, Company G, 105th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action in attack on the Hindenburg Line, September 27, 1918. Shortly after reaching his objective his detachment was attacked and almost encircled by the enemy, who were covering the position with sweeping machine-gun fire. In the face of this fire Lieutenant Anderson, with a grenade in each hand, jumped up from the cover of his position and attacked the enemy by bombing. He had advanced but a short distance when he was struck several times by machine-gun shots. He was dragged back to his trench and died shortly after. Emergency address: Justin K. Anderson, father, 1414 Virginia Street, Charleston, W. Va.

SAMUEL A. BROWN, JR., Second Lieutenant, 108th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. Advancing with his platoon through heavy fog and dense smoke, and in the face of terrific fire, which inflicted heavy casualties on his forces, Lieutenant Brown reached the wire in front of the main Hindenburg Line, and after reconnoitering for gaps, assaulted the position and effected a foothold. Having been reinforced by another platoon, he organized a small force, and by bombing and trench fighting captured over 100 prisoners. Repeated attacks throughout the day were repelled by his small force. He also succeeded in taking four field pieces, a large number of machine guns, antitank rifles, and other military property, at the same time keeping in subjection the prisoners he had taken. Residence at appointment: 57 11th Street, Jamestown, N. Y.

JAMES CROSS, Second Lieutenant, 108th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near St. Souplet, France, October 15, 1918. Accompanied by four soldiers, Lieutenant Cross made a reconnaissance of the River Le Selle, the journey being under constant heavy machine-gun fire. To secure the desired information it was necessary to wade the stream for the entire distance. On the following evening Lieutenant Cross taped the line from which his regiment would launch their attack, and in the battle that followed he was severely wounded. Residence at appointment: Helmwood, Tenn.

HAROLD C. DE LOISELLE, First Lieutenant, 106th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Ronssoy, France, September 27, 1918. Lieutenant De Loiselles twice voluntarily went forward under heavy shell and machine-gun fire to reconnoiter the enemy positions. While leading the second of these patrols the officer who accompanied him was killed. Notwithstanding, with but one other man, he continued in his reconnaissance until almost surrounded by the enemy. He succeeded in outmaneuvering the enemy and returned with valuable information. Residence at appointment: 2105 Foster Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

ERWIN A. DENNIS, Second Lieutenant, 108th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near St. Souplet, France, October 17, 1918. He led a small patrol against an enemy machine-gun nest, which he successfully captured. He discovered a large enemy nest, and for three hours held a position against it until reinforced by a Vickers machine gun. This aid forced the enemy to surrender; the capture consisted of eight officers, 145 men, three large Maxim guns, seven light machine guns and three antitank guns. Residence at appointment: 103 Lansing Street, Auburn, N. Y.

STEPHEN B. ELKINS, Second Lieutenant, 105th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action east of Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. During the operations against the Hindenburg Line Lieutenant Elkins, with three sergeants, occupied an outpost in advance of the line, which was attacked by a superior force of the enemy. He so directed his small detachment that he succeeded in repulsing the attack, killing ten Germans, capturing five, and putting the rest of the enemy to flight. The bravery and determination displayed by this group were an inspiration to all who witnessed them. Address: Care of the Adjutant General of the Army, Washington, D. C. Residence at appointment: Europa, Miss.

PAUL A. FLORIAN, JR., Second Lieutenant, 105th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action east of Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. After having been twice wounded he continued under heavy shell and machine-gun fire to install telephone wires to an advance headquarters. Residence at appointment: Troy, N. Y.

*KENNETH GOW, Second Lieutenant, Machine Gun Company, 107th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. While supply officer for his company he personally took rations forward with a pack mule, through continuous shell and machine-gun fire. When all officers of his company were either killed or wounded he assumed command and led it forward through heavy shell and machine-gun fire until he was killed. Emergency address: Robert M. Gow, father, 12 Caldwell Avenue, Summit, N. J. Residence at appointment: 12 Caldwell Avenue, Summit, N. J.

RAMON L. HALL, Second Lieutenant, 105th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action east of Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. During the operations against the Hindenburg Line he left shelter, went forward under heavy shell and machine-gun fire, and succeeded in bringing back to our lines a wounded soldier. His splendid courage and gallant conduct furnished a fine example to his command. Residence at appointment: Care of the Gazette, Schenectady, N. Y.

GEORGE MATTHEWS, JR., Second Lieutenant, Company B, 105th Machine Gun Battalion. For extraordinary heroism in action near Arbre Guernon, France, October 18, 1918. After having been wounded in the head and suffering great pain, he coolly and efficiently made disposition for the security of his guns and safety of his men and the evacuation of the wounded. Later at a dressing station, though bleeding profusely, he refused surgical attention until other wounded men of his platoon had been cared for. Residence at appointment: 333 East 26th Street, New York, N. Y.

*HORACE B. SCANLAN, Second Lieutenant, 106th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Ronssoy, France, September 27, 1918. Gathering about forty men from various units in a forward trench, he organized them into an attacking party and led them forward under heavy machine-gun fire, repulsing an enemy counter-attack. While in the performance of this exploit he was mortally wounded but, attempting to push forward with his men, he called out: "Go on fighting! Never mind what happened to me." Emergency address: Mrs. John L. Scanlan, mother, 347 Gates Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y. Residence at appointment: 347 Gates Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

THOMAS G. SIMPSON, Second Lieutenant, 107th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. He went out into the open under heavy machine-gun fire and succeeded in carrying back for a distance of about twenty-five yards a wounded officer and a wounded soldier. Residence at appointment: 534 Tenth Avenue, New York, N. Y.

*CHARLES H. ADREAN, First Sergeant, Company A, 107th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action east of Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. While commanding part of his company he was wounded in the head, but continued to direct his men, reorganizing a detachment of soldiers and establishing a line of defense in a trench. Later, while going to the assistance of some members of his command who had pushed far to the front, he was again hit in the shoulder and severely wounded. His heroic and voluntary disregard of self in order to save his comrades set a splendid example to all ranks. He has since died of the wounds received in this action. Emergency address: Mrs. Charles H. Adrean, wife, 1006 Rudolph Place, Utica, N. Y. Residence at enlistment: 1026 Kossuth Avenue, Utica, N. Y.

EDWARD A. DUNCAN, First Sergeant, Company A, 108th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action east of Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. During the operations against the Hindenburg Line he displayed great gallantry and courage by going forward under heavy shell and machine-gun fire and bandaging the wounded and bringing them back to our lines. Throughout the engagement he exhibited a fearless disregard of the enemy's fire and performed valuable service by organizing new squads when his company was suffering heavy casualties as a result of shell and machine-gun fire. Residence at enlistment: 681 McKinley Parkway, Buffalo, N. Y.

HAROLD GREENE, First Sergeant, Company H, 107th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. When his commanding officer was severely wounded and evacuated he took command of the company and led it into effective combat. He continued to lead the company forward through a terrific fire of artillery and machine guns for more than a mile after being severely wounded, and refused to be evacuated until he had received a second wound which made it impossible for him to continue farther. Residence at enlistment: 190 Hawley Street, Binghamton, N. Y.

*JAMES A. HAMILTON, First Sergeant, Company M, 105th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Ronssoy, France, September 27, 1918. He rallied his company after it had become disorganized under a machine-gun barrage and all the officers were killed or wounded. He led his men forward in an effective attack, and was shortly afterwards killed while moving along his line. Emergency address: Mrs. James Hamilton, mother, 52 River Street, Hoosick Falls, N. Y. Residence at enlistment: 52 River Street, Hoosick Falls, N. Y.

WILLIAM H. KRAUSE, First Sergeant, Company C, 108th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. He displayed great gallantry during the operations against the Hindenburg Line. A smoke barrage was put down by the enemy between his company and the company on the left. The Company Commander having been wounded, Sergeant Krause sent a soldier to establish liaison with the company on the left. When this soldier was severely wounded and unable to accomplish his mission, Sergeant Krause went himself and succeeded in reaching the company. While returning to his own company Sergeant Krause met a party of Germans attempting to break through the gap between the two companies. In a personal encounter he killed a German officer and forced the rest of the party to withdraw. Residence at enlistment: 314 Marguerite Avenue, Syracuse, N. Y.

*GEORGE H. EDWARDS, private, first class, Battery C, 105th Field Artillery. For extraordinary heroism in action near Forges, France, September 26, 1918. In the face of heavy machine-gun fire, at great personal risk, he crawled out from a position of safety and rescued a wounded soldier who was lying exposed to enemy fire. He was killed later in the advance while charging a machine gun. Emergency address: Mrs. H. G. Edwards, mother, 608 Bainbridge Street, Brooklyn, N. Y. Residence at enlistment: 608 Bainbridge Street, Brooklyn, N. Y.

DONALD EMERY, private, first class, Medical Detachment, 107th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Dickebusch, France, August 22, 1918. Displaying an absolute disregard of danger in caring for wounded under shell and rifle fire and a continuous cheerfulness under trying conditions, his courageous example was inspiring to his comrades. Residence at enlistment: 218 West 14th Street, New York, N. Y.

CHRISTIAN A. JOHNSON, private, first class, Headquarters Company, 106th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Ronssoy, France, September 27, 1918. When a strong force of the enemy had cut off his company from the advance units of our troops, Private Johnson volunteered to accompany two officers on a hazardous patrol to ascertain the exact location of the enemy and our advance troops. They came under terrific enemy fire, by which one of the officers was killed, but Private Johnson continued forward until he was completely surrounded by the enemy. He succeeded in working his way back and made his report, which was of great value in meeting the critical situation. Residence at enlistment: R. F. D. No. 1. Rapid City, Mich.

FRANK H. KENNY, JR., private, first class, Company H, 107th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. When his Commanding Officer fell wounded he made his way through intense machine-gun fire to his First Sergeant and notified him that he should assume command of the company. He then continued with the company until the advance was checked and the First Sergeant severely wounded, when he made his way in search of the next in command. Failing to find him, he organized a squad of slightly wounded men and, with an automatic rifle and ammunition which he salvaged, mopped up a section of the enemy trench, and then rejoined his company in its continued advance. Residence at enlistment: Gaylor Street, Tuckahoe, N. Y.

WALTER KLINGE, private, first class, Company M, 105th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near St. Souplet, France, October 17, 1918. When sent out as a scout with a small patrol consisting of an officer and two men, Private Klinge courageously went ahead alone, killed two enemy scouts whom he encountered, and drove the gunners away from two machine guns. When the patrol came up the capture of the guns was completed with their assistance. Residence at enlistment: 885 Woodward Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

*JOHN R. McGLUE, private, first class, Company B, 107th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. Private McGlue, with Mechanic Copeland, left the protection of a trench and, in the face of heavy machine-gun and grenade fire, went in advance of our lines to rescue a wounded comrade. They were exposed to heavy fire from the time they left the trench. Private McGlue was killed as he and his companions were returning to the trench with the succored wounded comrade. Residence at enlistment: 2619 Bedford Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

WILLIAM J. NETTE, private, first class, Battery B, 104th Field Artillery. For extraordinary heroism in action near Montzéville, France, September 14, 1918. When a continuous bombardment had set fire to the camouflage covering of a large ammunition dump of 75-millimeter shells and exploded nine of the shells, he, utterly disregarding his personal safety, left a sheltered position and ran to the dump and, with the aid of three other men, extinguished the fire, not only saving the ammunition, but also preventing the exact locating of the dump by the enemy. Residence at enlistment: 213 East 89th Street, New York, N. Y.

*EDWARD A. PIERCE, private, first class, Company C, 107th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action during the attack on the Hindenburg Line, September 29, 1918. While a member of a Lewis gun squad which attacked a superior force of the enemy, Private Pierce was wounded in the ankle. He refused to be evacuated, and although wounded so that he was hardly able to walk he continued on in the advance, inflicting severe casualties on the enemy, until he was killed by enemy fire. Next of kin: Edward F. Pierce, father, 1634 Broadway, New York, N. Y. Residence at enlistment: 226 West 50th Street, New York, N. Y.

*EDWARD P. PIERCE, private, first class, Company D, 108th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. He left shelter, went into an open field under heavy machine-gun and shell fire, and dragged a wounded soldier to safety. This courageous soldier was killed while advancing with his company later in the action. Emergency address: George Pierce, father, 107 Starin Avenue, Buffalo, N. Y. Residence at enlistment: 107 Starin Avenue, Buffalo, N. Y.

ISAAC RABINOWITZ, private, first class, Company A, 107th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near St. Souplet, France, October 18, 1918. When the advance of his battalion was checked by heavy machine-gun fire, Private Rabinowitz, with two other soldiers, went forward under heavy fire to reconnoiter the enemy positions. By effective rifle fire they drove the gunners from two machine-gun nests into a dugout near by, which they captured, together with thirty-five prisoners, including three officers. Residence at enlistment: 510 West 146th Street, New York, N. Y.

RAYMOND E. REED, private, first class, Company F, 108th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. With great courage he went through heavy machine-gun and shell fire to the rescue of two wounded soldiers, whom he carried to our lines after dressing their injuries. Residence at enlistment: Medina, N. Y.

CHARLES H. ROBINTON, private, first class, Company A, 105th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. During operations against the Hindenburg Line he went forth in the face of unusually heavy machine-gun fire to aid a wounded comrade. He administered first aid, and, while shielding the man from the enemy fire, he received a severe wound in the back. Despite this wound, he struggled back to safety, bringing his comrade with him. Residence at enlistment: 1 Rand Street, Ilion, N. Y.

FRANK B. THOMAS, private, first class, Company C, 102d Field Signal Battalion. For extraordinary heroism in action near Ronssoy, France, September 27, 1918. When the telephone lines had been destroyed by the advancing tanks and the enemy had started a counter-attack from three sides before new ones could be laid, Private Thomas volunteered to carry a message from the infantry battalion to which he was attached and succeeded in going through intense artillery, machine gun and two Germans who attempted to take cover in the cellar. Residence at enlistment: 72 Canvas Street, Cohoes, N. Y.

LAWRENCE J. LACOSSE, private, Company K, 107th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action east of Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. Private Lacosse, with three other soldiers, went out into an open field under heavy shell and machine-gun fire and succeeded in carrying back to our lines four seriously wounded men. Residence at enlistment: 92 Franklin Street, Malone, N. Y.

RUSSELL E. LAFORD, private, Company K, 108th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action east of Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1919. During the operations against the Hindenburg Line he left shelter and went out into the open under heavy shell and machine-gun fire and succeeded in bandaging and carrying back to our lines a wounded officer. Residence at enlistment: 112 Webster Street, North Tonawanda, N. Y.

*EARL W. LAUTENSLAGER, private, Company B, 108th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action east of Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. During the operations against the Hindenburg Line, when his company was held up by an enemy machine-gun nest, he volunteered to cross an open field in front of his company in order to ascertain the exact location of the enemy's position. While engaged in this enterprise he was killed by a bursting shell. His heroic self-sacrifice was a splendid example to the men of his company. Emergency address: George J. Lautenslager, father, 16 Sweeney Avenue, Genesee, N. Y. Residence at enlistment: 16 Sweeney Avenue, Genesee, N. Y.

JAMES A. LEE, private, Company D, 107th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action east of St. Souplet, France, October 18, 1918. The advance of his organization having been temporarily halted by machine-gun fire from a fortified house, Private Lee went forward as a scout to locate the entrance to the house. After discovering the entrance, he led a detachment in an assault, and at the point of the bayonet compelled about thirty-five of the enemy to surrender. A few minutes later, while advancing alone toward an outhouse, he effected the capture of more of the enemy. Residence at enlistment: R. F. D. No. 1, Norwood, N. Y.

HUGH J. V. MORRISON, private, Company K, 107th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action east of Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. Private Morrison with three other soldiers, went out into an open field under heavy shell and machine-gun fire and succeeded in carrying back to our lines four seriously wounded men. Residence at enlistment: 515 Main Street, Poughkeepsie, N. Y.

DANIEL MOSKOWITZ, private, Company F, 108th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Ronssoy, France, September 28, 1918. He exhibited exceptional bravery by leaving shelter and going out into an open field under heavy machine-gun and shell fire to rescue wounded soldiers. Residence at enlistment: 59 West 105th Street, New York, N. Y.

MICHAEL S. MURPHY, private, Company B, 105th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action east of Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. During the operations against the Hindenburg Line he left shelter, went forward under heavy shell and machine-gun fire, and succeeded in rescuing a wounded soldier, thereby exhibiting great bravery and gallantry. In performing this act he was wounded. Residence at enlistment: 138 Congress Street, Cohoes, N. Y.

HENRY M. NORTON, private, Medical Detachment, 108th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. Private Norton, on his own initiative, went forward twice in advance of the front line, bringing in wounded under heavy shell and machine-gun fire. Residence at enlistment: Olean, N. Y.

*CHARLES C. PAGE, private, Company D, 107th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. During operations against the Hindenburg Line he crawled out through the murderous fire and rescued a wounded comrade, carrying him to the nearest dressing station.

For the following act of extraordinary heroism in action near St. Souplet, France, October 15, 1918, Private Page is awarded an oak-leaf cluster, to be worn with the Distinguished Service Cross: He was sent ahead with a scout patrol of six men, when they were suddenly fired upon. One of their number was killed and four others, including Private Page, were wounded. With one leg blown off and the other hanging by a fragment of flesh, he stimulated the greatest confidence in his companions by his words of encouragement while being placed on a stretcher. He died from the effects of his wounds shortly after reaching the hospital. Emergency address: Mrs. Anna L. Page, mother, 239 East 54th Street, New York, N. Y. Residence at enlistment: 239 East 54th Street, New York, N. Y.

IRA S. PARKE, private, Machine Gun Company, 107th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Bony, France, September 29-30, 1918. Private Parke, a machine gunner, although wounded three times during the attack on the Hindenburg Line, refused to leave the field, and set a splendid example for his comrades. Residence at enlistment: St. Clair, Mich.

*EDWIN PAUL, private, Company L, 107th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. Private Paul fearlessly ran in front of a tank under heavy machine-gun fire in order to drag a wounded officer out of the path of its advance. Shortly after, although himself severely wounded, he again exposed himself to heavy fire in order to render aid to a wounded corporal. While bandaging the corporal's leg he was hit by a shell fragment and killed. Next of kin: Eugene Paul, father, 8 Barker Avenue, White Plains, N. Y. Residence at enlistment: White Plains, N. Y.

HARRY P. PUTNAM, private, Company H, 105th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Ronssoy, France, September 30, 1918. He exhibited exceptional bravery in voluntarily leaving shelter, going forward under heavy shell and machine-gun fire, and bringing back to our lines several wounded comrades. Residence at enlistment: Fort Johnson, N. Y.

SAMUEL J. RANDALL, private, Company L, 108th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near St. Souplet, France, October 15, 1918. Accompanied by an officer and three other soldiers, he made a reconnaissance of the River Le Selle, the journey being made under constant heavy machine-gun fire. To secure the desired information it was necessary to wade the stream for the entire distance. Residence at enlistment: Penn Yan, New York, N. Y.

JOHN W. RAWLINSON, private, Company K, 106th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action at Quennemont Farm, near Ronssoy, France, September 28, 1918. After assisting in repulsing a strong enemy counter-attack, Private Rawlinson, with two other soldiers, became separated from his company, due to the heavy fog. Seeing a superior force of the enemy in a trench, they unhesitatingly attacked, and after killing and wounding several of the enemy, they captured numerous prisoners and brought them back to our lines. Residence at enlistment: Kingsville, Tex.

EUGENE C. REYNOLDS, private, Company K, 106th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action at Quennemont Farm, near Ronssoy, France, September 28, 1918. After assisting in repulsing a strong enemy counter-attack, Private Reynolds with two other soldiers, became separated from his company, due to the heavy fog. Residence at enlistment: 248 Grand Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

ANTONY SCLAFONI, private, Company A, 105th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. While the advance against the Hindenburg Line was at its height Private Sclafoni, seeing a Lewis gunner exposed to the enemy, ran to his assistance. On the way he was seriously wounded, but continued on, reaching the position and using his body to shield the gunner while the latter poured a fire into the enemy. He was wounded three times, finally losing consciousness, but after his wounds were dressed he insisted on leaving the field unaided. Residence at enlistment: 136 Christie Street, New York, N. Y.

HAROLD L. SHIPMAN, private, Company B, 108th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action east of Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. During the operations against the Hindenburg Line Private Shipman, a Lewis gunner, exhibited great courage and dash when a party of about forty German prisoners, seeing their guards killed by German snipers while going to the rear, seized rifles and opened fire on the Americans. Shipman rushed forward with his Lewis gun and put the entire group out of action. During the engagement he also silenced three enemy machine-gun positions. Residence at enlistment: 60 La Fore Place, Buffalo, N. Y.

WILLIAM R. SHUGG, private, Company G, 102d Field Signal Battalion. For extraordinary heroism in action east of Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. After the commander of the infantry platoon to which he was attached as a visual signalman had been killed he took command of the platoon and exhibited remarkable gallantry and leadership in leading it into effective combat. Residence at enlistment: 79 Home Avenue, Rutherford, N. J.

MORRIS SILVERBERG, private, Company G, 108th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. Private Silverberg, a stretcher bearer, displayed extreme courage by repeatedly leaving shelter and advancing over an area swept by machine-gun and shell fire to rescue wounded comrades. Hearing that his company commander had been wounded, he voluntarily went forward alone, and upon finding that his officer had been killed, brought back his body. Residence at enlistment: 309 East 99th Street, New York, N. Y.

*BERNARD A. STEGAR, private, Company F, 107th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action near St. Souplet, France, October 18, 1918. When a comrade was severely wounded by machine-gun fire, he went to his rescue, crossing open spaces subjected to intense fire by the enemy. He was wounded as he advanced, but he continued forward and reached the side of his wounded comrade, when he was again hit by a machine-gun bullet and instantly killed. Emergency address: Mike Stegar, father, Marlin, Tex. Residence at enlistment: Marlin, Tex.

*ALPHEUS E. STEWART, private, Company G, 107th Infantry. For extraordinary heroism in action east of Ronssoy, France, September 29, 1918. Private Stewart, having been wounded in the head, advanced with fearless disregard for his own personal safety against an enemy machine-gun nest and succeeded in putting it out of action by bombing the gunners. He was killed immediately thereafter by enemy machine-gun fire. Emergency address: Mrs. Rosey Stewart, mother, 309 Galendrina Avenue, San Antonio, Tex. Residence at enlistment: San Antonio, Tex.

RALPH B. SULLIVAN, private, Battery B, 104th Field Artillery. For extraordinary heroism in action near Montzéville, France, September 14, 1918. When a continuous bombardment had set fire to the camouflage covering of a large ammunition dump of 75-millimeter shells and exploded nine of the shells, he, utterly disregarding his personal safety, left a sheltered position and ran to the dump and, with the aid of three other men, extinguished the fire, not only saving the ammunition, but also preventing the exact locating of the dump by the enemy. Residence at enlistment: 166 West 128th Street, New York, N. Y.

APPENDIX D

DIVISIONAL CITATIONS

MAJOR JOHN B. SHARP, The Buffs, British Army. S. O. 86

For exceptionally meritorious and conspicuous services. As Chief of the Detachment of British Military Mission, attached to 27th Division, this able and experienced officer was responsible for the successful endeavor. He established and maintained a high standard of efficiency in all branches of instruction conducted by the British personnel and especially in physical and bayonet training. His constant maintenance of alert mentality and trained energy materially assisted in the development of a high standard of efficiency in all infantry units of the division.

CAPTAIN A. N. BRAITHWAITE, British Army. S. O. 86

For exceptionally meritorious and conspicuous services. As a member of the British Military Mission, attached to the 27th Division, this efficient officer conducted the training of units armed with trench mortars and trench mortars with marked skill and such ability as to impart a confidence and appreciation of the value of their weapons on the part of these units and very materially contributed to their tactical and strategical employment in combat.

CAPTAIN H. H. DEANS, Kings Own Scottish Borderers, British Army (Decorated). S. O. 86

For exceptionally meritorious and conspicuous services. As a member of the British Military Mission, attached to the 27th Division, this gallant and accomplished officer, himself a victim during the original enemy gas attack in the first battle of Ypres, conducted the training in gas defense with skill and intelligence as to impress its importance on all ranks to such excellent purpose that thereafter during active operations the application of this skilled instruction proved appropiately to minimize gas casualties in the division. Upon relief from such detail this officer returned to active duty in the field and was later killed in action.

CAPTAIN ALFRED HALL, British Army. S. O. 86

For exceptionally meritorious and conspicuous services. As a member of the British Military Mission, attached to the 27th Division, this able and experienced officer conducted the training of units armed with Stokes and trench mortars with such skill and intelligence as to inspire a confidence in the use of their weapons by the units concerned, which enhanced very materially the tactical and technical employment of such units in later operations. This accomplished officer accompanied the division overseas and continued his valuable services in the development of combat efficiency during its period of training while in occupation of a British defensive sector.

CAPTAIN ROBERT K. HANNA, Staff Captain, A. A. and Q. M. C., Staff, B. E. F. S. O. 86

For exceptionally meritorious and conspicuous services. As Liaison Officer with the Headquarters of this division, from June 1 to November 25, 1918, his services, based on the secure foundation of familiarity with precedent and procedure in higher formations of the British Army, were at the disposal of Division Headquarters, and were appreciated as being extremely valuable in connection with administrative duties. Captain Hanna, in addition to his professional knowledge, possesses the attributes of an alert mentality, keen perception, instant estimate of the abilities and characteristics of individuals and units, a great capacity for work, coupled with energy, activity, zeal, cheerfulness and tact. His timely hints and suggestions were of especial value during the operations of the division while with the Second British Army, vicinity of Mt. Kemmel, Belgium, and with the Fourth British Army, vicinity of Le Cateau and Le Cateau, France. That the administrative arrangements were conducted throughout, practically without a hitch, is believed to be, in part, due to the information so freely, willingly and tactfully imparted by this officer.

CAPTAIN H. H. JOHNSON, Welsh Regiment, British Army. S. O. 86

For exceptionally meritorious and conspicuous services. As a member of the British Military Mission, attached to the 27th Division, he so conducted the training in staking, observation, scouting, conduct of patrols and raids, from a broad experience, as to impart an ability for later demonstration in combat of skilled accomplishment in these branches by front line units of the division. This able and experienced officer accompanied the division overseas and continued his valuable services in the development of combat efficiency during its period of training while occupying a British defensive sector.

CAPTAIN RAOUL G. BORDE, 35th Regiment Light Artillery, French Army. S. O. 86

For his exceptional services in making artillery reconnaissance and for his rare military attainments and pronounced ability displayed as Assistant to the Operations Officer from September 8 to November 11, 1918, which proved to be a most important factor in all brigade operations, and for the conspicuous worth of his services as Liaison Officer with the 52d Field Artillery Brigade, during its entire overseas service.

CAPTAIN CHARLES G. VEYSSIERE, Infantry, French Army. S. O. 86

For exceptionally meritorious and conspicuous services. As Chief of the Detachment of the French Military Mission, attached to the 27th Division, this experienced officer of quiet, forceful personality, by precept and example, established and maintained a high standard of efficiency in all branches of instruction conducted by French personnel. Especially in connection with training in the use of automatic arms he devoted energetic zeal and skilled accomplishment which added materially in the attainment of technical and tactical efficiency in units armed with such weapons.

FIRST LIEUTENANT HENRI BERTHAUX, Heavy Artillery, French Army. S. O. 86

For the conspicuous worth of his services as the Liaison Officer with the 19th Field Artillery during its entire combatant service, September 9 to November 11, 1918.

FIRST LIEUTENANT IVES A. BERTRAND, 33d Regiment Heavy Artillery, French Army. S. O. 86

For the conspicuous worth of his services as the Liaison Officer with the 19th Field Artillery during its entire combatant service, September 9 to November 11, 1918.

LIEUTENANT PIERRE FORESTIER, Infantry, French Army. S. O. 86

For exceptionally meritorious and conspicuous services. As a member of the French Military Mission, attached to the 27th Division, this capable and experienced officer conducted the training in the use of grenades. By precept and example, with alert intelligence, he inspired enthusiasm for the attainment of proficiency in the employment of these weapons and a desire for emulation of the skill in their use existing in the forces of the Allies together with an intense admiration for the service and army he represented. This officer of agreeable presence and magnetic personality was a strong influence for military efficiency in the training of our troops. He accompanied the division overseas and continued his valuable services in the development of combat efficiency during its training period while in occupation of a British defensive sector.

LIEUTENANT CHARLES W. SMITH, Infantry, French Army. S. O. 86

For exceptionally meritorious and conspicuous services. As a member of the French Military Mission attached to the 27th Division, he conducted the training of all units in liaison and battle communication from a wealth of experience and with a degree of tactful, zealous energy and skill, contributing substantially to the acquisition of technique by the detachments concerned, which was later demonstrated in terms of combat efficiency during their active operations in Belgium and France.

LIEUTENANT ERNEST D. VEYRET, Engineers, French Army. S. O. 86

For exceptionally meritorious and conspicuous service. As a member of the French Military Mission attached to the 27th Division, this officer conducted the training of engineer troops and detachments of other arms in the principles of modern fortifications and extemporized field construction. His technical skill, force of character and previous experience combined to make the services of this able and accomplished officer of the greatest value to the organizations concerned, which later demonstrated their efficiency in battle during active operations in Belgium and France. He accompanied the division overseas and continued his excellent instruction in the development of combat efficiency during the period of training in a British defensive sector.

BRIGADIER GENERAL ALBERT H. BLANDING, Infantry, U. S. A. S. O. 33

For courageous and determined qualities of leadership while in command of the 53d Infantry Brigade of this division, frequently demonstrated in the battles and engagements of the division in Belgium and France.

BRIGADIER GENERAL JAMES W. LESTER. S. O. 86

For exceptionally meritorious service in the training of the 5th Infantry Brigade of the 27th Division, which developed under his leadership a very high standard of skill and morale.

BRIGADIER GENERAL PALMER E. PIERCE, Commanding 54th Infantry Brigade. S. O. 33

For intelligent and determined qualities of leadership demonstrated while in command of the 54th Infantry Brigade of this division, during the battles and engagements in which the division participated in Belgium and France.

BRIGADIER GENERAL GEORGE ALBERT WINGATE, 52d Field Artillery Brigade. S. O. 86

For exceptionally efficient and meritorious service as Commanding Officer, 105th Field Artillery, during its training period at Camp Wadsworth, and later as Commanding General, 52d Field Artillery Brigade, during all its operations abroad. General Wingate brought to the performance of his duties exceptional qualities of leadership, great energy and industry and a thorough knowledge of the field artillery arm. The battle efficiency of his brigade in support of the 33d and 79th Divisions during the Meuse-Argonne Offensive was officially commended by both Division Commanders.

BRIGADIER GENERAL GEORGE ALBERT WINGATE, 52d Field Artillery Brigade. S. O. 86

For great gallantry and determination in riding forward over a shell swept road under direct enemy observation for the purpose of supervising the forward batteries of his brigade. This near Gercourt, France, on October 5, 1918, while in support of the 53d Division.

COLONEL JAMES M. ANDREWS, 105th Infantry. S. O. 86

For conspicuous bravery in leaving shelter and under heavy shell fire carrying from the open to cover a Lieutenant of his command who had been wounded and rendered helpless. This near Mt. Kemmel, Belgium, August 10, 1918.

COLONEL JAMES M. ANDREWS, Commanding 105th Infantry. S. O. 33

For energetic and zealous qualities of leadership demonstrated in battle while in command of his regiment during active operations of the division in Belgium and France.

COLONEL H. H. BANDHOLTZ, Division Headquarters. S. O. 86

For exceptionally meritorious and distinguished services as Chief of Staff of the division during its training period at Camp Wadsworth, S. C. His experience, demonstrated capacity and sound judgment contributed much toward the development of the high state of efficiency attained by the division.

COLONEL MORTIMER D. BRYANT, Commanding 107th Infantry. S. O. 33

For exceptional courage and qualities of leadership in battle frequently demonstrated while serving as a Major, commanding the 106th Machine Gun Battalion, and for a time as Acting Divisional Machine Gun Officer, during the active operations of the division in Belgium and France, and as well for exceptional ability as a Regimental Commander in command of the 107th Infantry.

COLONEL THOMAS CRIMMINS, 102d Engineers. S. O. 86

For exceptionally meritorious and efficient services as an engineer officer during operations of the 27th Division in Flanders, July and August, 1918, and for coolness and courage under fire in the vicinity of Mt. Kemmel, Belgium, in August, 1918.

COLONEL CHARLES DEBEVOISE, 107th Infantry. S. O. 86

For exceptional qualities of leadership and extraordinary gallantry frequently exhibited under fire in all battles and engagements in which his regiment participated in Belgium and France. The extraordinary accomplishment of the 107th Infantry was greatly influenced by the determination and tactical skill of this accomplished officer.

COLONEL JOHN T. DELANEY, 104th Field Artillery. S. O. 86

For his exceptional military attainments displayed while in command of his regiment during its operations in support of the attack on the Ormont Wood, France, November 4 to 7, 1918, which were a most important factor in overcoming enemy resistance at that point.

COLONEL JOHN T. DELANEY, 104th Field Artillery. S. O. 86

For conspicuous gallantry in action during operations of the 52d Field Artillery Brigade, in the vicinity of Brabant-sur-Meuse, France, November 4 to 8, 1918. This officer voluntarily maintained his P. C. in an advanced position, under heavy and constant fire of high explosives and gas shells under direct enemy observation.

COLONEL WILLARD C. FISK, 107th Infantry. S. O. 86

For devotion to duty and skilled leadership while commanding the 107th Infantry in the United States and in France. This officer by virtue of his great experience and extraordinary qualities of leadership developed his regiment to a remarkable degree of efficiency and maintained its high standards in France until serious illness compelled him to relinquish command.

COLONEL STANLEY H. FORD, General Staff, American E. F. France. S. O. 33

For zeal and devotion to duty while serving as Chief of Staff of the division during its operations in Belgium and in France. At all times this officer rendered loyal and intelligent support to the Division Commander, and in battle demonstrated high qualities of personal courage.

- COLONEL EDGAR S. JENNINGS, Commanding 19th Infantry S. O. 33
For zealous and intelligent leadership of his regiment throughout the entire period of active operations of the division in Belgium and France.
- COLONEL EDGAR S. JENNINGS, 19th Infantry S. O. 86
For courage in action and for intelligent leadership of his regiment throughout the entire period of active operations of the division in Belgium and in France.
- COLONEL FRANK H. NORTON, Commanding 19th Infantry S. O. 86
For meritorious service, zeal and devotion to duty in the initial period of organization and training of his regiment at Camp Wadsworth, S. C., during the winter of 1917-1918.
- COLONEL EMERY T. SMITH, 19th Field Artillery S. O. 86
For gallantry in action which was an example and inspiration to his officers and men in regimental position between Chataucourt and Le Mort Homme, September 26, 1918. While directing the operations of his regiment he visited the batteries of the three battalions of his regiment while they were under artillery fire during the enemy counter offensive and urged them to put forth every effort in their important mission.
- COLONEL MERRITT H. SMITH, 19th Field Artillery S. O. 86
For exceptional devotion to duty during the operations of the 52d Field Artillery Brigade in the vicinity of La Claire Farm and Bois de Forges, France, September 9 to October 18, 1918, before and during the Meuse-Argonne offensive. This officer rendered conspicuous services and, although seriously ill, continued in the performance of his duties until completely prostrated.
- COLONEL WILLIAM A. TAYLOR, 19th Infantry S. O. 86
For courage in action and devotion to duty while in command of his regiment at Auerstrank Edge, Belgium, August 31 to September 2, 1918, and for courage under fire at The Knoll, Guillemont Farm, Quennemont Farm, September 27, 1918. It was the 19th Infantry under command of this officer which attacked and shattered the outer defenses of the Hindenburg system, east of Rossoy, France.
- COLONEL WILLIAM A. TAYLOR, Commanding Motor Transport S. O. 86
For organizing and commanding the Third Officers' Training Camp at Camp Wadsworth, S. C., January-April, 1918. The high ideals and standards of the school, its rigid discipline and the thoroughness of the instruction and training have marked the graduates of the school in their later careers as officers.
- COLONEL CORNELIUS VANDERBILT, 192d Engineers S. O. 86
For exceptionally meritorious and distinguished services. As Commanding Officer of the 192d Engineers he developed in that regiment, during its training period in the United States and Belgium, a high state of efficiency and morale. His demonstrated capacity as Acting Chief of Staff of the division during part of its training period at Camp Wadsworth and as Regimental Commander in Belgium during the early engagements of his regiment resulted in his promotion to the grade of Brigadier General.
- COLONEL FRANKLIN W. WARD, Commanding 19th Infantry S. O. 31
For courage, determination and thoroughness in personally supervising the ordered dispositions of his regiment under heavy enemy fire and in thick fog, in the early morning of October 17, 1918, in the battle of Le Selloe River, France.
- COLONEL DE WITT C. WELD, JR., 19th Field Artillery S. O. 86
For conspicuous gallantry in action during operations of the 52d Field Artillery Brigade in the vicinity of Brabant-sur-Meuse, France, November 4 to 8, 1918. This officer voluntarily maintained his P. C. in an advanced position, under heavy and constant fire of high explosives and gas shells under direct enemy observation.
- COLONEL DE WITT C. WELD, JR., 19th Field Artillery S. O. 86
